PITTSBURGH MARKETS

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, August, 18 1869. really new or important. Operators in land, Flour: receipts were 23,748 bbls; grain manifest considerable anxiety in market heavy and prices are 10c. lower; grain manifest considerable anxiety in regard to the future course of the market heavy and prices are 10c. lower; ket, and, as a general thing, they are timid about doing anything at present, being, as already intimated, very apprehensive about the future. As noted in our last report, the general impression is that wheat is too much inflated, particularly in the west, and that in view of the immense crop which has just been secured, it is hardly possible that present prices can be sustained for any length of time. And what we have said in regard to wheat, is equally appliable to flour, as the one, as a matter of course, sympathizes with the other.

APPLES—In fair demand, but the market is well supplied, and prices are loc. lower; sales 6,200 bbls. at $5,90@6,50 for super-fine State and western; $6,85@7,35, extra western; $7,50@ lator and dealer to report the amount in their possession, and this, it is not at all likely, they all would be willing to do, although we cannot see what damage they would sustain therefrom. We have made considerable inquiry among operators in regard to their views on hits point, and as might be expected, they differ very materially; some place it is as low as 100,000 bbls, while others, equally as well posted, put it at 200,000. There is one thing certain, however, the receipts for some time past have been remarkably light, and taking the past two weeks weld on not believe that the daily arrivals will average over 2,000 bbls per day. This does not look well for the trade, particularly at this season of the year; if the market was in proper shape, we received at 41% to higher; No. 2 opened at 48c, and closed weaker at 47½c: rejected at 44% 44% c. There is one time past have been remarkably light, and taking the past two weeks we do not believe that the daily arrivals will average over 2,000 bbls per day. This does not look well for the trade, particularly at this season of the year; it the market was in proper shape, we would certainly be receiving 4,000 instead of 2,000 bbls per day, but this we need not expect so long as crude is so much higher relatively than refined. It is also a noticeable fact that the shipments of Refined during the same time are larger ihan the receipts of Crude, and while there is a great difference of opinion in regard to the stock of the latter in this market, there can be no doubt but what the stock of the latter in this market, there can be no doubt but what the stock of the latter in this market, there can be no doubt but what the stock of the latter in this market, there can be no doubt but what the stock of the latter in this market, there can be no doubt but what the stock of the latter in this market, there can be no doubt but what the stock of the former is very light, as it is being shipped east at fast as the state of the stock of the latter in this market, there can be no doubt but what the stock of the former is very light, as it is being shipped east at fast as at 15, and there appeared to be more at 16, and there appeared to be more at 16,

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OP PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, August 18, 1869.
There is considerable interest manifested oil in this place. Of course, there is no data from which to furnish a statement of this kind; and the only way to get at it would be for each refiner, speciator and dealer to report the amount in their possession, and this, it is not at all likely, they all would be willing to do, although we cannot see what damage they would sustain therefrom. We have made in the store of this kind; and the only way to get at it would be for each refiner, speciator and dealer to report the amount in their possession, and this, it is not at all likely, they all would be willing to do, although we cannot see what damage they would sustain therefrom. It was a dirty trick to connect the family sims he use by order of Mayor Bunce. It was a dirty trick to connect the family of Capt. Akin with a sell, and if the captain did not see fit to pay a fine for assault and battery it was only because his good nature would not permit him to make it. He certainly had cause sufficient, and the only wonder is that he did not do so. A sell is a yery good thing, but sellers should be careful not to make a jest of a serious subject and to make a jest of a serious subject, and cause pain to innocent parties.
