EPHEMERIS.

The Florida orange crop is abundant. Henry Clay's cradle was a bread-tray on rollers. In Kokomo, Indiana, a liquor license costs $500. The King of Greece is a bi-cyclist of some merit. Sidewalks now satisfy the sights of sensible Sittans. Miracles are worked, it seems, at a convent in Hohenk.

drunk at home on whiskey that agrees with him. What is to become of all the Mrs. Youngs and Mrs. this, that and the other, if David Smith succeeds in preaching down polygamy? This question is a serious one, and may well be looked into by the Revolution.
