slight Fire. - A slight fire occurred a half past five o'clock last evening, in Hugh M. Bole & Co.'s Foundry, on Third avenue, between Market and Ferry The alarm was given from box 13, and the fire department responded promptly, but did not go into service. The only damage done was the burning of a slight hole in the roof.

Committed. -Thomas Sullivan, the man who stabbed Barney Duffy, an account of whose arrest we published yesterday, arrived in the city yesterday morning, and soon afterwards was committed to jail to await the result of Duffy's injuries. Duffy was still living last night, and is himself still of the opinion that he will recover, but his physicians and friends have not the slightest hope for him.

The Water Committee .- A meeting of the Water Committee was held last evening at the Committee Rooms, City building, at which we understand a Sub-Committee was appointed to investigate the frauds alleged by the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform. This Committee, so far as we can learn, was asked for by Mr. Smith, who desires to show Councils that the charges made against him are without foundation.

Fatal Result. — Wm. Lebzelter, the little boy who had his leg taken off by the cars at the railroad crossing, Federal street, Allegheny, Saturday evening, died on Sunday from the effects of his injuries. Coroner Clawson empanuelled a jury yesterday morning to hold an in-quest, but postponed the taking of testi-mony until this morning at eleven o'clock, when the investigation will be resumed at the Federal street station.

and boroughs were then called upon to make their returns.

The first case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. James Lindsay, Alderman of the Sixth ward, indicted for extortion in taking illegal fees. It was alleged that on the 18th of June last a colored woman named Sarah Mitchell made an information before Alderman Lindsay charging John M'Glinchy with assault and battery with intent to commit rape. McGlinchy was arrested, a hearing had, and bail demanded in the sum of $1,000. Before the ball was given a consultation was held in the Alderman's sultation was held in the Aldermin's "back room," and by the payment of eleven dollars by McGlinchy the case was settled and the sult was withdrawn. It was alleged that the Alderman had first proposed the settlement, and that of the money received from the accused he retained more than he was legally entitled to receive. The testimony for the prosecution was to the effect that the money was handed to the Alderman, but the defense called witnesses to show that the defense called witnesses to show that the prosecutrix received six dollars, the constable serving the warrant one dollar, and that the Alderman retained but four dollars—a sum he was entitled to. The jury returned a yerdict of guilty. Sen-One or two surety cases of but little importance were disposed of, after which Court adjourned.

Arm Broken. An accident occurred et the Sansom Scale Co.'s establishment, No. 102 Third avenue, about half-past three o'cleck yesterday, by which Mr. J. H. Argyle, a carpenter in the employ of the Company, had his right arm fractured near the shoulder joint. Mr. Argyle was engaged in constructing a pair of stairs leading from the first floor to the cellar, and was from the first moor to the cellar, and was in the act of descrading a ladder to the cellar when the accident occurred. Be-fore starting down the ladder he placed his foot upon the top rung and tried it, and thinking it was setting solid, started down. As soon as he placed his entire down. As soon as ne placed his entire weight upon the ladder the bottom gave way and precipitated him to the cellar, a distance of ten or twelve feet, breaking the arm as stated, and inflicting a number of severe bruises upon his head face and body. He was taken up immediately and Dr. S. H. Benham summoned, who reduced the fracture and dressed his wounds, after which the injured man was removed to his residence at Homewood Station, on the Pennsylvania Rail-

THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

Mass Meeting Last Night—The Addresses —What They Propose, &c., &c. The Temperance men held a ratificalist was taken up in the District Court tion mass meeting last evening in front of City Hali, Allegheny. A platform for speakers had been erected and at seven and a half c'clock, the dulcet strains of a the Committee appointed to revise the were found two letters from a man in brass band, attracted a large company of spectators to the spot, where the meeting was organized by the election of the following efficers:

Mr. Park on taking the Chair said he was glad to notice the interest in favor of the cause of Temperance was increas-ing, as was evinced in the large assem-blage thus called together. It was a movement well calculated to call out the sympathles of every good citizen. Although the traffic in liquor as it had been legalized by the Legislature, could not, perhaps, at the present time, be done away with, much might be done to remedy the evil by a united effort to reremedy the eyil by a united effort to regulate its sale. One of the most important steps in this direction would be to put the licensing power in the hands of officials who would carefully scrutinize the meitisof persons who made application for license. For this end the people unitedly should engaged in the works and elect men whom this end the people unitedly should engaged in the work and elect men whom they knew would obey their wishes. No man should be entrusted with office who did not come up to the standard this important question, Intemperance, was an evil which ought in its train suffering, sorrow, destitution, disgrace, and nearly every crime in the calendar. To do something toward checking this monstrous evil, the temperance men propose to elect a man to the position of Commissioner, who would see to it, that the law was fully met in every case, and that as few rum would see bit, that the law was met in every case, and that as few rum holes be licensed as possible. He closed by hoping that all good citizens would join in the work of reform, and by voice and vote and influence endeavor to carry out temperance principles.

Col. J. B. Clark was next introduced and spoke at some length on the "Tem parance Reform." He disclaimed any intention of speaking in behalf of a po-litical candidate, Mr. Dickey was simply a Temperance candidate for County Com-missioner and stood neither as a Repubican or Democrat. The only object of the movement he claimed was to restrain intemperance and the evils which resulted from it.

The Temperance movement which was now organized was not in any sense a political movement, but related only to the election of men to office who were known to be sound Temperance men without regard to their politics. The speaker here entered into a lengthy review of the causes which had led to a new or "third" party, as some called it. In closing he referred briefly to Mr. Dickey, as one of the oldest citizens of the county, a man of undoubted integ-rity, firm principles, intelligent convicions, and a man in every way worthy of the suffrages of the people.

Mr. David Kirk followed in a few remarks. He referred to the fearful ravmarks. He referred to the learning rayages, which intemperance was making in the community, and said it was the duty of all good citizens to do all in their power to check the evil. The object of the temperance men in their campaign was to do something to prevent the wholesale and indiscriminate granting of licenses and the abuses of the of fice of County Commissioner. Too ing of licenses and the acuses of the of fice of County Commissioner. Too many licenses had been granted during the past year, almost every applicant having been successful. The temperature man objected to the maled. to this m ministration of office and to the bartering of licenses, which they claimed had been carried on. All parties felt the ne-cessity of reform in this branch of the public service, and there was no doubt the great reform would be successful in the election of Mr. Dickey. Mr. Andrew Burtt was the next speaker. He contended that when the present license law was enacted by the Legislature, it was for the purpose of putting the license business in the hands of the peo-ple, which would have its effect if the Commissioners but did their duty. In order to have this done, the temperance people were about to elect their own candidate, who was known to be own candidate, who was known of sound on the question. This would not interfere with the county ticket except in one instance. They did not wish to interfere in politics, but intended simply, if possible, to elect a man in whom all could place confidence, and who would work for the welfare of the peeple.

South Common Nuisance.

MESSRS, EDITORS: I wish to thank your correspondent, "Prompter," for what he has to say about the obstinate persistance in the South Common nuisance, in defiance of the pu and under the very eyes of the officers.

When the fact is known that even upon the West Common, where there is scarcely a blade of grass, a poor ignorant "darkey" is arrested and fined some three or four dollars for removing a handful of worthless turf that a small boy is dealt with in the same manner for merely walking over the ground and climbing the fence, and that the deposit of even a wheel-barrow load of ashes on unenclosed ground is menaced, it not visited, with the same penalties, what is to be thought of the permitted conversion of the South Common into a permanent mortar bed and wagon stand, except that this neglected portion of the public ground is not regarded as any portion of the Common at all, as its treat-ment in other respects proves?

The Street Committee and Commissioners, as such, have nething properly to do with it. Why not, then, put the saddleon the A TAX PAYER. right horse?

Amusements. OPERA HOUSE .- Owing to some careessuess on the part of railroad officials or employes at Philadelphia, a large number of our citizens were disappointed last evening, as was plainly evident in passing the Opera House, where hundreds had collected expecting to see the Worrell Sisters. Arrested on Suspicion.

Officer Andrew Moon yesterday morning arrested John George on Penn street on suspicion of horse stealing. The officer's suspicions were aroused by the fellow offering a horse for sale for $30. which he had received in a trade, for a the Committee appointed to revise the Constitution.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by the Chairman, W. C. McCarty, Esq., after which the roll of members was called and a majority answered to their names.

On motion of Mr. Torley the reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting was dispensed with.

Were found two letters from a man in Canton, Chio, one dated July 29th, and the other August 17th. The first urged him to "sell the horse" as soon as possible, and hoped he "would be smart enough this time to get away, happen to him what might." The other letter complained that nothing had been heard from him (George), and if he did not come or send money in a week, the writer would have him arrested for horsestealing. The writer of these letters was teling. The writer of these letters was tel egraphed to, and replied that he would be in the city at twelve o'clock last night. George was locked up and will remain there until this morning.

New Pavement.

A Pittsburgh manufacturer has applied for a patent for a new kind of pave. ment, formed of vitrified stone blocks, similar in shape and appearance to the wooded blocks of which the Nicolson is made, with the exception that the surface edges are beveled, thus affording a good foothold for horses. In laying the pavement, a hard roadway is first made, upon which the blocks are laid, crossvise of the street and close together. with gravel or concrete packed be-tween. It is claimed that a firm and solid stone pavement is thus secured, free from dampness, which is the objection urged against the Nicelson. Another advantage claimed is that in repair-The Committee on Boundaries and Neing, laying sewer pipes, &c., only those blocks to be repaired or in the way of the trench need be lifted, leaving the

(From the Health Reporter.) Dyspepsia—Indigestion.

The subject of indigestion has attracted much attention, because it has ever been difficult and troublesome disease to treat. It is characterized by a great variety of symptoms, the most prominent of which are, pain after eating, belching, heartburn, waterbrash, fullness of stom-ach, with tenderness, load or weight in ach, with tenderness, load or weight in that region, debility, loss of flesh, despondency, headache, bad or capricious appetite, palpitation, cough, nervousness, restlessness, &c., &c.

When the disorder is of long continuance other organs of the body soon become affected and the lumb lives breis

In fact, Dyspepsia is the forerunner of a great number of Chronic diseases, such as Consumption, Scrofula, Hemorrholds, Uterine difficulties, colic pains, paralysis, neuralgis, female derangements, ac., &c ... and in its turn the consequence of with almost every and any disease. From this it is plain that the treatment of Dyspopala should be varied according to the extent of the disease and the na-

One symptom is more prominent and urgent in one case than another, according to the disease with which it is com-plicated. And hence remedies seldom have the same effect in any two cases. To determine these there is no better criterion than the urinary secretions.
Indeed, we are surprised that so little attention has hitherto been paid to that secretion in Dyspepsis, when we know that there is no more certain sign offered. By this we are enabled to determine whether it be Dyspepsia from liver complaint, kidney affections, nervous disorders, or, in case of females, from uterine affections, derangements or irregularities, or whether these affections proceed from the Dyspepsia:—And to treat the case in accordance with the true conditions, the fixed principles of a fixed sci-

There is no guess-work about it. We have cured hundreds and thousands of cases of Dyspepsia by a single course of medicine; others require more, however, according to the disease with which it is
