A wind came up out of the rea, and said. "O, mists, make room for me." It halled the ships, and cried, "Sail on, Ye mariners, the night is gone." And hurried ; andward, far away, Crying: Awake! it is the day. It said unto the forest. "Shout, Hang all your reafy banners out!" It touched the wood-bird's folded wing. And said. "U, bird, awake and sing." And o'er the farms, "O, chanticleer. Your clarion blow, the day is near." It whispered to the fields of corn, "Bow down and had the coming morn." It shouted through the belfry tower. ... Awake, O, bell! preclaim the hour. It crossed the churchyard with a sigh, And sat . "Not yet! in qui t lie."

A LIVERPOOL woman, doubtful whether the fire in her stove was out, poured gunpowder on the embers in order to ascertain the fact. Her doubts and the rest of "FIRE BUGS" have been operating in Washington City, five fires having occur-red in that place on Monday within six hours. ,The Councils propose offering a reward for the incendiaries. Ir is asserted that Major Pratt, accused of murder and treason in Texas, sailed for Europe under a false name a few days after his release. Warrants have been sent from Texas for his arrest. On Tuesday one of the oldest and most esteemed citizens of Steubenville, Ohio, were led by a young man to a place of low repute. During the night their room was entered, the man bound and gagged and the wife vilely outraged. IT HAS been proved by Dr. Jackson, of Boston, that there was no poisonous matter in the stomach of Mrs. Mahala Gilman, of Albany, N. H., who died several months ago, but whose body was recent-ly exhumed on suspicion that her sor, Sanford Gilman, was concerned in her death. A CLERK in the Fulton, Oswego Co.

N. Y., post office, was stamping letters recently, when suddenly there was a flash and a loud report, and the letters were blown all over the room. Examination showed that a fourteen year old boy, innocent of evilintent, had inclosed about one hundred small flat percussion caps to

A CONDUCTOR on the North Missouri Railroad named Henry Moak, has been arrested at St. Louis for embezzlement. A FRENCHMAN in New Orleans, to frighten his poor wife into still greater misery, pretended to kill himself. He held a pistol to his head (over the left), fired and fell, and the wife thought him a corpse, but he wasn't, a fact ascertained after two or three hundred people and a sprinkling of police had been attracted to the dwelling.

NICHOLAS MILLER, of Champaigne, Ill, while in Mahomet, on last Tuesday morning, in a state of delirium attempted to end his earthly career by cutting the shape of a cross upon his left arm with a penknife. He succeeded in severing the main artery, and subsequently tore the bandages off his arm, and by opening the evered arteries anew bled to death.

A MISS BELLE MCCLAINE took the rs at Wheeling for Moundsville on Monday, and as the train was passing through South Wheeling, a ball from a gun fired by a young man out gunning struck the window of the seat she occupled, breaking the glass and striking her on the head, inflicting an ugly scalp wound. TWO BROTHERS, Thomas H. and Wil liam Barretti after attending their father's funeral at New York city, on Sunday last, became intoxicated and quarreled at the residence of the latter, wno ordered the former (Thomas) to leave the house. A man present prevented a collision be tween the brothers, when a woman, Rebecca Ellen Utt, who was in the room, without any warning rushed at Thomas and stabbed him in the abdomen with a knife, inflicting dangerous injury.

RECENTLY a young man threw himself over the Clifton suspension bridge, at Ni-agara, into the river. He first took off his hat, coat and waistcoat, and placed them on the footway, then climbed over the iron fence, hung on for a few seconds by both hands, and then by one hand, presently letting go altogether, and drop ping into the mud, as it was low water, a depth of nearly 800 feet below the bridge. Many people saw the act, but no one was on the bridge near enough to make an effort to prevent it.

Ar Cleveland R. M. Rawley, formerly a member of Company I, First Wisconsin Infantry, had a minie ball extracted from his body, received at the battle of Perrysville, October 8, 1862, almost seven years ago. It took effect below the chin, passing down and outward, wounding Monthly in his family because of the the unper margin of the outer operation. the upper margin of the outer one-third of the clavicle, thence passing to the inner surface of the scapula, and during one year worked its way downward between the scapula and the ribs. A PROFESSIONAL bail-goer, one Sam'l Pennington, is about to come to grief in Philadelphia. It is alleged that he went bail for a party, swearing he was not ball for any one else, when in fact he was ball at the time in $7,800 in the Criminal Court. The charge against him is perjury, and the principal witness in the case will be Judge Ludlow.

A MAN reached Erie, Sunday night, by railroad in a famished condition, having been three days without food. At Jersey City, while intoxicated, a comrade placed him in a freight car, which was afterwards closed up, and when he awoke the train was in motion. All his efforts to attract the attention of the train men failed, and it was not until after he had reached Erie that he was released.

THE York Democrat relates the story that some time last spring, a horse in Newhead downwards, while its tail stuck into the throat. The horse was taken seriously ill almost immediately afterwards, the feed and water instead of passing into the stomach, coming out again at the nose. In this plight, he was finally killed, and the eel, putrid and dead, found lodged in the wind pipe and throat as stated.

The Democrat regards the circumstance of the horse drinking in the eel remarkable, as that animal usually takes in water with the teeth closed, but says the statement given is nevertheless true. TRACES of extinct volcanoes are said to exist in Berks county, Ruscombmanor township, about eight miles from Read ing. Several of the craters are quite distinct; one of them is about sixty feet in diameter and filled within about four feet of the surface with mud. At one place the ground was parted, through which pebbles were forced up. There are numerous other signs which indicate that great subterranean convulsions once visited that region. The place has been inmens of the float stone, chalcedony and drusdy quartz, which was found in great quantities on the surface.

JOHN TYLER, JR., publishes a card de-utterly debased from indulgence in strong drink," and "was admitted into one of the Washington city hospitals." He is supported in his denial by his physicians. CINCINNATUS J. NEAL, who died in Parkersburg, of cancer, recently, was the oldest citizen of that place and was born there. He was born in 1803, and was a son of John Neal, and grandson of Cap-

A MAN was lately riding down the steep road on the side of Mount Washington with every indication that he was about to slide over the horse's neck. Looking back, the guide hailed him, "All right up there, Mr. H.?" "Perhaps so," was the reply; "it all depends on the tenacity of ne animal's tail; if that wavers an inch

I'm over the precipice!" A LAWYER in a certain city in Connecticut, not remarkabl efor his cleanliness of person, appeared at a party a while ago with a rose in his buttonhole. "Where do you suppose it came from," said he to a brother lawyer who was admiring it. The latter looked up and down the entire length of the questioner, and with great-deliberation responded, "Why, I suppose it grew there.' It is related by agentleman of veracity that when Rosecrans was falling back from Chickamauga, he called his staff around him and asked for a pencil. Every one of the staff telt in his pocket, but not pencil did he find. The General, flashng his eyes upon them, with much bitterness of tone remarked: "If I had asked you for a corkecrew, every one of you would have had one."

REV. JAS. DURBOROW, pastor of the Philadelphia, solemnized on Sunday evening last the one thousandth marriage of his fourteen years' pastorate in that church. The couples, if walking four feet apart, would make a procession of over a mile long. Add the mothers in-law, and by the aid of a chalk and a piece of shingle the reader can determine for himself the increased length of the line. The laugh comes in on the fact that Mr. Durborow, who has started so many in the pap, spoon and cradle business, has never taken a wife unto himself. THE rumor that General Granville M. Dodge, of Iowa, will succeed to the War Department, recalls a capital story of that officer, which is good enough to go the rounds again. After the close of the war General Dodge was in command of a post in Louisiana. One day the Adjutant General received a communication from him, stating that he had been offered $50,000 berry township, that county, swallowed to wink at certain cotton speculations, a live eel. It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specially than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fitty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in scaled envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afficient, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The catablishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote rec
