FRIDAY, SEPT. 17, 1869. UNION REPUBLICAN TICKET. STATE.

FOR GOVERNOR: JOHN W. GEARY. JUDGES OF SUPREME COURT: HENRY W. WILLIAMS. COUNTY.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE DISTRICT COURT: JOHN M. KILPATRICK. ASSISTANT JUDGE COMMON PLEAS: FRED W. COLLIER. CLERK OF COURTS: JOSEPH BROWN.

WE PRINT on the inside pages of this morning's GAZETTE—Second Page: State News and General Intelligence.

THE CHINESE MISSION awaits, it is said, the acceptance of Sen. MORGAN, of New York.

On our seventh page to-day will be found the election proclamation of Sheriff Akeley, together with the new registry law in full.

THE EXPENSES of our Federal Government have been strikingly reduced during the fiscal year ending with June, 1869. Forty-five millions less in the War Department, five millions less in the Navy, seventeen millions less in the civil, domestic and foreign service, and ten million less for interest.

While our outgoes are thus limited, the public revenue increases. From March to September, '69, the receipts of internal revenue taxes showed a gain of $9,337,307.35, over the same period of '68.

ARE YOU REGISTERED? Unless you know that your name is on the list, go and have it placed there. Don't delay! Examine the list for the names of every Republican whom you know of, in your precinct; if you find any omitted, see that their omission is supplied.

THE GREAT AMERICAN DODGER. We take pleasure in doing justice to a political opponent. Here, for example, is the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. He should be credited with absolute consistency in his dodging.

his dodges have succeeded. Since February, 1869, this Artful Dodger has dodged out of the payment of his personal taxes, dodging from March, 1868, to Philadelphia and back again, until his dodging cut down his payment from thirty-two thousand dollars to less than nine dollars per year!

Why get up a party now! The Commercial, in the lack of any existing intestine war in the Republican ranks, seems determined to get up one on its own account.

The election of a Republican Legislature, of a Republican Governor, and the success of its eyes so longed for by J. D. CAMERON exists undiminished by its progress.

After giving these details, thus inaccurately, the Patriot proceeds to say: The State debt on the first day of Dec. 1869, was $24,300,000.

In other words, the Patriot would have its readers believe that the Republican State administration since the election in 1860, have received over twenty-three millions towards the extinction of the Public Debt, which sum has not been applied to that purpose.

The law creating the Sinking Fund provides that the money received into it shall be applied first, to the payment of the interest on the Public Debt, and second to the extinction of the debt itself.

But more, the State, in 1861, contracted a temporary war loan of $475,000, and afterwards a more permanent war loan of $3,000,000, thus adding that much to the debt.

We submit to the Republicans of Western Pennsylvania, and particularly to those of Allegheny county, that there has been something too much of this. The President is abundantly able to take care of himself, and the concerns of the nation, and does not need to be upheld by any such attempt to create a party broil.

We do not step in, here, to defend Mr. Cameron. He needs no defence. He has done nothing that any other man would not have done under similar circumstances.

Washington despatch makes a very interesting statement, thus: Commissioner Delano has appointed a number of Assistant Assessors in the principal cities to look over the returns of income with a view of ascertaining and correcting fraudulent returns made by private individuals.

The Harrisburg Patriot, Mr. Packer's central organ, came out with a flaming article, not long since, charging the Republicans of this State with having squandered over twenty-three millions of the Sinking Fund since December 1st, 1860.

After being welcomed by Mr. Boyle, in a very happy little speech, the President took a seat with him in an open carriage, and followed by the procession, started for the town. The street along which he was conducted was lined with eager and pleased spectators. Flags were flying in all directions, and the town wore quite a gala appearance.

After giving these details, thus inaccurately, the Patriot proceeds to say: The State debt on the first day of Dec. 1869, was $24,300,000. Total debt on that date was $24,300,000. Total deficit in that year was $2,300,000.

IN SPITE of the reiterated reports of failure by the various managers of opera troupes, there seems to be a fascination in the life which renders those who once come within its magic influence thenceforth totally indifferent to mere pecuniary losses or embarrassments.

There has been a curious case in which Mr. Keyser was indicted for keeping an animal of the canine species of a ferocious nature, in which Schulzinger appeared as prosecutor.

A few evenings since a wail of humanity was picked up on the steps of a mansion in the First ward, and thereby hangs a tale.

THE PRESIDENT is by nature and habit quite undemonstrative and reliable. President Grant has the same characteristics. On Tuesday they met fairly and squarely face to face, for the first time.

PEOPLE say that, if we wait a little while, royalty and patrician rule in the old world will have ceased to be. In looking about us we seem almost as if the times had come already.

At a meeting of the students of Curry Institute, held September the 16th, 1869, the following was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to call one of our number, Miss Ella McClure, from the scenes of time to the realities of eternity, in the morning of life; and whereas, our hearts prompt us to give some public and formal expression of our feelings in view of this bereavement, wherefore be it resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the will of Him "who doeth all things well," we cannot but be painfully affected with a sense of our loss in the removal from us of one so lovingly.

Resolved, That in the death of one so young, grave, thoughtful and conscientious, we recognize the hand of our Heavenly Father, transplanting a flower of early promise to the garden of eternal bliss; and that we are thereby reminded of our mortality and admonished to early make our peace with God.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the United Presbyterian and the daily papers, and that a copy of them be given to the family of the deceased.

Additional Markets by Telegraph. CLEVELAND, Sept. 16.—The first case taken up by the Commonwealth was John Jay and David Ludwig, indicted for felonious assault and battery.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. William Woods and Brinker McClintock, indicted for aggravated assault and battery. McClintock was placed on trial and pleaded not guilty.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. James Anderson, previously reported, was submitted to the jury and returned a verdict in favor of the defendant when court adjourned.

MAN SHOT—The perpetrator lynched. (By Telegram to the Pittsburgh Gazette.) PORTAGE CITY, Wis., Sept. 16.—Wm. H. Spauld a well known citizen, to-day shot Barney Britly, another well known citizen, who expired almost instantly.

OHIO STATE FAIR—Republican Meeting. (By Telegram to the Pittsburgh Gazette.) TOLEDO, September 16.—The weather to-day has been favorable, and this has been one of the most successful days in the annals of Ohio State Fairs.

THOU BRINGEST ME LIFE—One of the truest and most suggestive ideas can be obtained from the caption at the head of this article; for of all diseases which impair human health and shorten human life, none are more prevalent than those which affect the lungs and pulmonary tissues.

DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is a thorough and effective remedy, that any one who has ever used it will never be without it in the house. It will open the chest, everything else fails, and in simple cases will cure often times in a few days.

DR. KEYSER may be consulted every day until 10 o'clock P. M. at his Great Medicine Store, 187 Liberty street, and from 8 to 10 and 10 P. M. at night.

A DEFENSIVE MEDICINE. "In time of peace prepare for war," is a sound military maxim. "Not the sickly season find you unprepared," is an equally good motto.
