He is a member of the Pittsburgh Gymnastic Association, and was at the gynastic Macciation, and was at the gynastium Saturday evening. While "doing" the "giants swing" both bones of his left fore arm were broken and of his left fore arm were broken and protruded through the flesh. Dr. Murdock was summoned and reduced the fracture, after which the injured man was removed to his residence.

Lecture.-Miss Sarah P. Kidder, Teacher in the Soldiers' Orphan School, Titusville, Pa., will deliver a lecture in ond United Presbylerian Church the Second United Presbylerian Church, Sixth avenue (Rev. T. H. Hanna, Pastor) on Monday evening, September 27th, at 7½ o'clock. Subject—"The Soldiers' Orphans." Admission free. The object is a noble one, and Miss Kidder brings the highest testimonials from leading men of this State. Her lecture has been pronounced by all who have heard it to be clear, forcible and touching in its narbe clear, forcible and touching in its nar-ration of facts, and incidents in connection with the Soldiers' Orphans. Every one should hear it.

Personal.—We had the pleasure of meeting with our friend Mr. Edward House, member of Council from the Second Ward, who arrived in the city on Saturday after an extended tour throughout the old Continent. His many friends will be pleased to hear that he is in the enjoyment of most excellent health; and that his trip was pleasant and agreeable. We are glad to welcome him home.

Among the passengers of the "City of Boston," at New York on Thursday, were our fellow citizens, Mr. C. Yeager and Mr. Thomas Palmer, who have spending several months in foreign travel. Their friends will rejoice at their safe return. We understand there were other Pittsburghers passengers on the same ship, but we have not heard which of our absentees to name.

Committed for Thirty Days. James Broderick was arrested by officers Kerr and Kelley on Saturday night, while engaged in a row at the corner of Websier and Washington streets. A number of "roughs" followed the officers, and while on the way to the lockup officer Kerr was tripped and thrown down by one of them. In attempting to save himself from the fall he struck his thumb on the sidewalk and tore the nail off it. While in the Captain's office, Broderick struck officer Kelley, who returned the blow with interest compound ed. Yesterday morning Broderick was fined twenty-five dollars, and in default of payment was committed for thirty Fatal Accident.

An accident, resulting in the death of a Mrs. Wilgus, wife of Lorenzo Wilgus of Fayette county, occurred at Layton Station on the Pittsburgh & Connellis-Station on the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad, Saturday. It appears that Mrs. Wilgus was visiting the family of her father in law, Joseph Wilgus, who resides at the above named place, and went out with some of her friends to look at a threshing machine which was in operation on the farm. While passing near the tumbling shaft her clothing was Republican Meeting at Bellevue. One of the most enthusiastic meetings of the campaign was held in this staunch Republican borough on Friday evening last. Every Republican voter of the borough was present, and the strong array of ladies in attendance gave evidence of the sympathy of womankind with the success of Republicanism. Even the Democrats, of whom, however, there are but three in the borough, were there. The fine public hall of the borough was crowded to its utmost caborough was crowded to its utmost capacity. The meeting was organized by the election of the following officers: President, R. Straw Esq.; Vice Presidents, H. Forrester, R. B. McGraw, Jas. P. Fleming and E. Gleason, Esqra.; Secretaries, John Gregg and M. Hunnings, Esors.

The enthusiasm of the meeting gave life to the speakers who must have cheered by the hearty accord of their audience with the most advanced doctrines of Republicanism. Captain H. A. Collier, delivered the first speech and was followed by W. S. McGraw, Esq. and Colonel T. M. Bayne, each and ail of whom made terse and telling addresses. The Bellevue Philharmonic Society, composed of ladies and gentlemen of the borough, under the leadership of Prof. David Miller, by their excellent music contributed greatly to the success of the meeting, singing "Heil Columbia" "Star Spangled Banner" and other patriotic songs with great spirit. audience with the most advanced doc "Star Spangled Banner" and other pat-riotic songs with great spirit.

It would be an excellent idea if all the county would band together in this man-ner and aid the cause. The supporters of the Club, numbering some of the best citizens in the ward, deserve the highest oraise for their zeal and generosity. The Fifth Ward Democracy in a Muddle

_Two Tickets in the Field. In that usually quiet (?) and peaceful precinct of the city, known in years past as the "bloody Third" ward, but now Fifth in numerical order, there is trouble among the unwashed, unterrified, incorruptible Democracy, with a prospect of a lively row in the settlement thereof.

Pursuant to a "regular" call, it is oislimed, a meeting was held at "Duffy's battery," and the following ticket regularly nominated.

Select Council—John C. McCarthy. Common Council—Patrick Bradley, Thomas Pender, M. J. Magann. School Directors—U. B. Strain, Owens

GOVERNOR GEARY.

Ris Tour in Western Pennsylvania-His Enthusiastic Reception by the People—Progress of the Campaign, (Correspondence of the Pattsburgh Gazette.) FREEPORT, Sept. 25, 1869.

The Governor's tour in the western part of the State thus far has been eminently satisfactory. The enthusiastic receptions everywhere accorded him recall the memorable days of last autumn, when the camp fires were burning brightly and willing hearts and hands were engaged in the patriotic work which resulted so grandly for the national welfare. His tour has been as an electric spark, rekinding those fires and infusing courage, confidence and a spirit of hearty, energetic action into the management of the campaign, which happliy augurs another triumphant Republican

His arrival had not been unexpected and the recention was alike honorable to the parenties. eception was alike honorable to the patriotism of the corporation and worthy their distinguished visitor. Of the procession with which he was escorted through town, the gala, holiday appearthrough town, the gais, nolicay appearance of the place, and the excitement of the occasion, together with the proceedings at the public meeting, you have already had full particulars by telegraph.

It may not be uninteresting, however, to note that the meeting was held on the to note that the meeting was need on the main street at a neat speakers' stand, which had been tastefully trimmed and decorated with evergreen and flowers by the ladies, ever foremost in good works, and which presented a brilliant appearance when illuminated be the reappearance when illuminated by the ra-diance from numberless Chinese lan-terns. At the conclusion of the meeting the precession re-formed, and the party were escorted to Rogers & Co's rolling mill, which was in full operation at the outskirts of ined and the interesting process of iron making witnessed, when the hands, numbering about one hundred and fifty, were called together and addressed by the called together and addressed by the Governor in a few appropriate words, which elicited the heartiest evidences of enthusiasm. The light from the forges partially scattering the darkness, the hardy sons of toil gathered in a group, the large concourse of spectators and the bands playing a martial air, formed an inspiriting and electric scene, the depot by the citizens en masse for BUTLER.

Where his reception was still more flattering and enthusiastic. It had been announced that he would be present at a meeting in the evening, and all day long the people came pouring into the town, on horse back, in wagons and aloot from every part of the county. The excitement was intense, and all seemed bent on one subject, doing honor to the welcome guest, and the goodly to the welcome guest, and the goodly corporation which never does things' by half on this occasion fairly out did herself. The Governor as stated in my dispatch, arrived at two o'clock and put dispatch, arrived at two o'clock and put up at Jacks Hitel, As soon as his presence became known he, was called upon by the prominent citizens and a number of ladies. After recuperating from the fatigues of travel the party were taken in charge by the Reception Committee, Gen. Purviance, Col. Thompson, Col. McJunkin, W. H. H. Fisgs and streamers were fluttering in every quarter, and as the procession moved along through the principal streets, it was greeted with every manifestation of deight by the people.

It halted in front of the court house after the route had been traversed and the participants joined in the meeting, that is the very iew of them who could do so, for by this time the interior of the temple of justice was so completely occupied that admittance to another indicupied that admittance to another indi-vidual was almost an impossibility. The meeting was one which has had no par-allel in the annals of Butler, and so ut-terly astonished the o'dest inhabitant, as to cause the old gentleman to make the remark upon which we base our statement. The walls and speakers' platform had been handsomely draped with flags, and the staid appearance of the structure seemed to have given place to one of a more youthful, holiday character, under the influence of the occasion. The character and spirit of the The character and spirit of the sion. The character and spirit of the meeting may be judged from the fact that the crowd did not disperse until near midnight. Two speeches only were made: Gov. Hon Mahlon Chance followed in an hour's speech, one of his most terse and telling efforts, which was received with forcible expressions of apreceived with fircious expressions or approval from the assemblage. The meeting adjourned with rousing cheers for the county and State ticket. Its effect cannot but be of the most favorable character, as the spirit of Republicanism in Butler has been aroused and has communicative campaign with vigor.

County Home.

We accompanied the Grand Jury on their visit of inspection on Friday last to the Allegheny County Home. On a former occasion we described the buildings and grounds. We noticed on the recent, as on the former visit; the perfect order and cleanliness that pervade the whole establishment, the apparent satisfaction and contentment of the numerous inmates, the abundance of simple, wholesome food with which they are served, the excellent discipline and really wonderful proficiency of the school of little ones; the manifest efficiency of all the officers occupied in the immediate oversight of the Home. Mr. McElroy, the Superintendent, and his family, have proved themselves a most fortunate selection: the Directors could not in the proved themselves a most fortunate selection; the Directors could not in the county have made a better choice. Miss Jordan, as Matron, is kind, energetic and thorough, her head and her heart are in her arduous daily routine, and Miss Hayes, the Teacher, has proved herself a precious accession to the corps of officers. She is a lady of charming presence, ever sprightly and lively, setting before the children the example of happy and joyous, as well as of refined manners. The children are obedient to her every rule, and yet much endeared to her.
During the past year, under the personal and constant supervision of Mr.

OPERA HOUSE.—The engagement of Mrs. Emma Waller at the Opera House, which closed Saturday night, was a very successful one. If, however, that lady should favor us with another visit, she will play to larger and better audiences. This evening Mr. John E. Owens commences an engagement of six nights, when "Married Life" will be presented.
Miss Osborn, the leading lady in Mr. Canning's excellent company, will make her first appearance at that establishment at that time. The entertainment will conclude with "Solon Shingle." PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—In addition to the regular excellent company at the Pittsburgh Theatre Mr. Williams an-nounces for the present week, Edwin Blanchard and his dogs, Carlo and Nero, Mr. Frank Dilion and Mr. W. H. Maflin. The exciting drama entitled "The Cat-tle Stealers of the Mountains" will be presented this evening in which Mr. Blanchard and his dogs appear.

Be Beautiful.

If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.
It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, do, and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the Bloom of Youth to the fading che changes the rustle Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle. In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Beauty. No Lady need complain of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful ar-
