GONE BEFORE.

There's a beautiful face in the silent air,
Which follows me ever and mear,
With smiling eves and amber halr.
With volceless lips, yet with breath of prayer,
That I ieel, yet cannot hear.

The dimpled hand, and ringlets of gold, Lie low in a marble sleep; I stretch my arms for the clasp of old, But the empty air is atrangely cold, And my vigil alone I keep.

There's a sinless brow with a radiant crown
And a cross laid down in the dust:
There's a smile where never a shade comes now
And tears no more from those dear eyes flow, ho sweet in their innocent trust.

Ab, well and summer is coming again, Singing her same old song; of pain. But, oh! it sounds like a sob of pain. As it floats in the sunshine and the rain. O'er hearts of the world's great throng. There's a beautifut region above the skies, And I long to reach its shore. For I know I shall find my treasure there, The tanguing eyes and amber hitr Of the loved ones gone before:
