Charles Dickens' Political Creed—Address of Archbishop Cullen—King Victor Emanuel to receive the Emperor of Portugal—Death of Cardinal Emanuel Bente Roté—King of Portugal and the Spanish Throne—London Times on French Affairs—Lord Clarendon's Address before the Hartfordshire Agricultural Society—He denounces the Tenure-of-Land Law in Ireland.

GREAT BRITAIN.

London, September 28.—Charles Dickens opened the winter session of the Midland Institute, Birmingham, last evening, with a pleasant speech. After reviewing the history of the institution, and offering advice for its future management, he touched upon other subjects. The present, he said, was a materialistic age. His political creed could be summed up in two articles. His faith in the people governing was indomitable, his faith in the people governed was unshakable.

Archbishop Cullen, in reply to a deputation bearing an address from the citizens of Wexford, Ireland, said that by moderating their demands, and not by interfering with the legitimate rights of any class of institutions, the tenantry would enjoy the results of their labor in undisturbed tranquility.

Lord Westbury has declined the appointment to the Bench of Court of Appeals.

Lord Clarendon has returned from Paris. He delivered an address before the Hartfordshire Agricultural Society to-night, in the course of which he acknowledged the object of the tenure of land in Ireland was a momentous and vital one, but it should not be considered a party question. The evils connected with the land system must be abated. The solution was difficult, but not impossible. The Government would not adopt any willful or arbitrary scheme. The promoters of such a plan were enemies of all equitable settlement, and of the Irish people. He asked if there was language strong enough to condemn a landlord who evicted a tenant and reaped the whole benefit of the tenant's labor and expenditure. This course was too often followed, and the evil must be abated. He believed the rights of property should be scrupulously upheld and its duties rigidly enforced by law. The Government, he said, intended to introduce a measure which would command the respect, support and praise of every honest man.

Lord Clarendon, in conclusion, alluded to the present condition of Europe and expressed the conviction that at no time in the past three years has there been a fairer prospect of continued peace than at present.

FRANCE.

London, September 28.—The Times in an article on the situation in France says the coincidence of the Emperor's sickness and reconstruction of the Government is a most unfortunate one. The energies of the Emperor cannot be well spared at such a crisis. The reforms come unfortunately at a time when he is incapacitated, and at a time when he is most required. The speculations of the people on the uncertainties and uncertainties of the future are so exaggerated, and augment the public disquietude. If the crisis had occurred ten years ago, the Emperor could have brought to the work the energies he carried into the Italian campaign. If the experiment had then succeeded, France would now possess a generation of statesmen with some parliamentary experience. The only question is, is the Emperor's health so good as to justify precipitating instead of postponing the trial. The present peril, serious in any case, is aggravated by the Emperor's enfeebled health. But part of some kind has been the prospect of the Government for the past two generations.

PORTUGAL.

Lisbon, September 28.—The Cardinal Eusebio Bente Rodrigues, Patriarch of Lisbon, is dead.

The King of Portugal, in a letter, denies that he has any intention of abdicating in order to accept the throne of Spain.

(By Telegram to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—A large meeting was held in Pike's Opera House to-night for action against the exclusion of the Bible from the public schools. There were thousands present, and many came and went away who could not get in. Wm. Ramsey and Geo. R. Sage, of the Cincinnati bar, and Revs. W. Wiley and B. W. Chidlaw spoke. Resolutions favoring the Bible in schools, and asking the Board not to act on the matter till after the coming elections, were passed unanimously.

MILWAUKEE.

(By Telegram to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

MILWAUKEE, September 28.—The new building of the National Military Asylum, to be located here, was dedicated yesterday. The building presents a fine appearance from the exterior, and in its neatness, beauty of finish, and completeness of appointments, is a model. It is in the form of a cross, and when the wings are completed, will have a frontage of two hundred and forty feet. The entrance is in the center, and opens into a corridor, upon the right of which are the spacious reception rooms and offices. The accommodations are sufficient to contain comfortably five hundred inmates. The dedication was informal, the more imposing ceremonies being omitted on account of the death of Gen. Rawlin, who was a member of the Board of Managers, and President of the Board of Managers, delivered the address as follows:—

Gen. Butler, of Mass., and President of the Board of Managers, delivered the address as follows:—

Friends and Fellow-Citizens:—In behalf of my associates, the Board of Managers, I bid you welcome to this Asylum. [Applause.] Welcome, welcome, friends of the soldier. I trust you will find here a most comfortable and convenient place for your children. Here in this magnificent building provided by the liberality of the General Government of the United States, we have a home for the orphaned and the disabled. It is a home for the soldier's child, and for the soldier's wife. It is a home for the orphaned and the disabled. It is a home for the soldier's child, and for the soldier's wife.
