He was required to give bail for trial at court.

Death of an Old Citizen.—Capt. James Young, of East Birmingham, died after a long and painful illness, resulting from a fall some fourteen months ago. Capt. Young has for over half a century been an identified citizen of this city, and was for many years connected with steamboat interests. Appleton's Journal has taken rank among our foremost periodicals, and, probably more successfully than any other, unites the useful with the entertaining. Its admirably made up pages of purely literary matters are supplemented by well written papers on popular science, while each number is varied or accompanied by large and effective illustrations. Altogether, in neatness of appearance, in artistic embellishment, and in general excellence of its greatly varied literature, Appleton's Journal takes foremost place among our literary periodicals.

Serious Accident.—Yesterday evening about five o'clock, an accident occurred on the St. Clair street suspension bridge, by which Mr. Isaac Dickey, a lumber merchant in Allegheny, was severely injured. He was crossing the bridge on a load of lumber and when near the north end, fell from the front of the wagon at the heels of the horses, one of which crushed him cutting a deep gash above the left eye and bruising the cheek severely. He was picked up insensible and removed to the office of Doctors Hazlett and Elliott where his wounds were properly dressed.

Monongahela Valley Railroad.—The Waynesburg Republican of this week says: "This, it seems, is to be no longer a myth, a by-word, and a thing that will come some day, but it is to be built next year. We are informed by a reliable gentleman, one who knows, that the Company have received proposals from three different parties, each of which is anxious to go to work at once upon the road. About the first of January next a new set of officers of the Company will be elected, when the building of the road will at once be undertaken. In a future number we will speak of the advantages of this road, but only mention it now to tell the long expected that the morning is almost here."

Not content with having him locked up, his evil genius has led him into still further trouble, a partial account of which was given to the Court room by the witness taken from the Court room to the cell, after passing through his trial, when Mr. Mulvaney of the Mayor's office, struck him with a heavy billy cutting his cheek open and knocking him down.

Take a look in at the place.

Prevention is Better Than Cure. The rapidly increasing sale, unprecedented popularity and beneficent and lasting results of the Constitution Bitters, are alike subjects of comment and astonishment. Mild and certain in their action on the system, they promptly and effectually produce none of the ill effects incident to bitters generally vend.

A Meritorious Article.—We are tired of the idea of "puffing" humbug medicines that are constantly thrown into drug stores, and are merely an imposition upon the community. But when an article comes into the market that is really worthy of comment, we are happy to make public acknowledgment and commendation.

MAGNOLIA WATER.

Extracted from a letter from Jerusalem. "We started early to ascend Mt. Olivet, to behold the sun gild the minarets and towers of the devoted city, from the place where memory, stirred by a thousand associations, should exalt the mind as well as the eye to the inspiration of the scene.

Well would it have repaid you, old man, if you had seen the cradle of well might you have been reminded of your own city, for here, painted upon a board nailed against one of the huge ancient olive trees, under which the sacred martyrs toiled for the sins of the world, eighteen hundred years ago, were these familiar figures, S. P.—1850—X. We do not know who did it, but no doubt some poor invalid traveler, cured by the PLANTATION BITTERS, wished to advertise their virtues in a place from whence all knowledge flows."
