THE ELECTION.

FAVORITE COUNTY OFFICIAL.
Special Dispatches to Pittsburgh Gazette.
UNIONTOWN, October 16, 1899.—The official majority for Facker in this county is 833. The return from Dunbar township, giving a Democratic majority of 183, was not made out according to law. It was not certified to or signed by any of the election officers, and did not state when, or in what township, county or State the election was held, yet it was accepted by the Convention of Return Judges held here Friday, as a reliable statement of the number of votes cast in that township. Scatteredly the Democratic candidate for Assembly received only 93 majority, running behind the State ticket. Sr. Jones.

NEW YORK CITY.

(By Telegram to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)
NEW YORK, October 16, 1899.
The following correspondence between Robert Bonner and General Grant is published:
"New York, October 11, 1899.—My Dear General.—As I stated to you immediately after your election, that there was no office which I desired, either for myself or any friend, I have had no occasion to write to you in regard to such matters. There is a matter now, however, that concerns you personally, and in which I feel that I discern your interest, so plainly, that I take the liberty to write to you with retrospection, and in this with less hesitation because you do me the honor, after your election, to confide in me pretty fully your views. In the present disturbed state of the public mind concerning the recent gold combination, it is not the quickest and surest way to set at rest the greatest amount of uneasiness and general distrust for you to make a brief, formal, over your own signature, of all the facts of the combination, in order to relieve your entire confidence in the responsibility for the acts of others? Of course those who know you personally do not require such a disclaimer, but the great public, whose minds are liable to be warped by the determined and persistent efforts to injure you, will be as much as you are satisfied, and quieted by such a statement."
"Sincerely yours,
"ROBERT BONNER."
"President Grant."

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 13, 1899.
"Robert Bonner, Esq.—Dear Sir: Your favor of the 11th inst. is received. I have never thought of contradicting statements or insinuations made against me by irresponsible parties, as those alluded to in your letter that I have written to you on the subject in so kind a spirit, I will say that I have no more to do with the late gold excitement in New York City than yourself, or any other person, except that I ordered the sale of gold to break the ring engaged, as I thought, in the most disreputable transaction. If the speculators had been successful, you would never have heard of any one connected with the Administration as being connected with the transaction. Yours, truly,
"U. S. GRANT."
"P. S.—I have written this in great haste, and without exercising judgment as to the propriety of writing it; but I submit it to your judgment."
"U. S. G."

The Herald's Washington special contains the following: "A short time since, a statement appeared in the Washington correspondence of the Herald that an agent of the great banking firm of Rothschild had arrived in this county, and submitted an offer to loan the Government all the money they required to liquidate the debt at an interest of four per cent. The truth of this statement has been reflected upon by nearly all your contemporaries. I have to day a letter purporting to be from M. Fiquet, dated New York, to a friend in this city, in which he makes use of the following language: "The proposition of a loan of four per cent. relative thereto has been conducted by me direct with the President at his request. The public announcement in the Herald was a direct result of jealousy on the part of the Secretary of the Treasury, who had not been consulted in the matter. I return to France to-morrow, but yet believe the matter will be successfully carried out." It is stated that the old Board of Directors of the Ohio and Mississippi Railway have been re-elected. Wells & Fargo and the United States

Company have combined to perform the express business over the Pacific Railroad. There was a remarkably lively time in the Gold Room this morning, and considerable excitement among the members of the exchange. The exciting speech made by Mr. Jordan upon the financial condition of the Gold Exchange Bank. He charged that but for legal measures, the concern would have settled with its creditors a week ago, and that an injunction from Messrs. Unger & Co. now stood in the way of the settlement. The Bank had determined to stand a loan of $200,000 in order to go on, and deserves more liberality and consideration from the public. Jordan also said with an emphatic oath, that if the Gold Exchange Bank had not advanced $4,000,000 to the street during the recent panic all the brokers would have been ruined, and several banks would also have gone to the devil. [Much confusion here ensued, and cries of "put Jordan out" followed. If the bank management had not acted like fools, brokers would have settled at the Exchange Clearing house, and the matter would have been arranged. He promised within three working days to pay 15 to 25 per cent, but they must give him a split start. He neither intended to pay nor to surrender. He said as man to man, and would refer the names of any parties who attempted to prevent the settlement in arranging a settlement. [Voices: That's right, etc.] Mr. Unger attempted to call Mr. Jordan to order. A member proposed that the bank be put up to the condition of the bank. Mr. Jordan said he would do so. That the bank was solvent, and brokers would have to get back on the bank now. He had never before made a speech, and if he had used unfortunate language, it was because he was unable to choose his language. He must delay in the settlement to the anger from the legal restrictions, and they would repeat the charge of the bank. He said that if brokers went back on the Gold Exchange Bank they were to go to the devil. Jordan was then drawn, and then the meeting broke up. At a meeting of the creditors of the Bank in the afternoon, a very full discussion of the situation took place, after the action of Mr. Unger was generally deprecated. The feeling of all present was in favor of giving Mr. Jordan a fair trial to the bank, and then if he failed to do so, to put up to the condition of the bank. A committee of five appointed to circulate in among the creditors generally for signatures, and to collect at least 95 per cent of the creditors of the Bank will sign it. During the afternoon Mr. Jordan was in conjunction against the Bank had received to collect money from the Bank, and affect settlements in a case which he could do so advantageously for the Bank. The action of the Court met with general favor.

It is said the liabilities of Lindsay, Chittick & Co., whose suspension has been announced, will reach half a million in gold, mostly due in Europe. The Central and Hudson River roads will be finally consolidated on the 1st of November. The Congressional Committee on Navigation interests closed its session here today. After hearing important statements from A. L. Mearns, Speaker of the House and Newell, all largely connected with the shipping and commercial interests of the country, the committee will report to the House on Monday next. A special cable dispatch from London yesterday stated that a meeting of the Alliance Israélite Universelle Society has been held in Berlin. The principal consideration was the severe distress just now prevailing among the Israelites in Western Russia and the prospective emigration of Jews from that part of the Empire. Resolutions expressing the hope that "their people in America will give generously to the relief of the distressed, with their brethren in Europe, in relieving this distress, was unanimously adopted.

MOB LAW RAMPANT—Three Men Killed—Others Warned to Leave.
(By Telegram to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)
LOUISVILLE, October 17.—A disgraceful shooting affair occurred at Taylorville, Warrick county, Indiana, on Sunday resulting in the death of two if not three men. The difficulty was between two men named Springton on the one side, and two named Clark on the other, in which Harvey Springton was killed, and his brother Abe so badly wounded that he died soon afterward. Harvey Springton was recently paroled out of the penitentiary. The difficulty originated in a dispute about the settlement of some accounts. Shortly after the shooting, a number of the citizens, who compose a self-constituted vigilance committee, proceeded to arm and equip, at the residence of Muss Rice, who had been warned to leave the neighborhood by the 20th inst., and fired several shots, frightening him so bad that he cleared out in a hurry, leaving the neighborhood. The Springtons are said to belong to the Vigilance Committee. Another of the Rice who had been warned to leave, but paid no attention to the warning, was found dead in the woods near the town, shot and the Whitinghills—father and son—who refused to take any part for or against the Committee, were also warned to leave the neighborhood. A law-abiding people seem to be paralyzed.

THEATRES IN ITALY.

In Italy we see playgoing under a new phase. In France playgoing is a recreation; in Germany it is a habit; in Italy, among the upper classes, it seems to be a social necessity. The theatres are at once the clubs and drawing rooms of Italy. In all the chief cities of the peninsula, but more especially at Naples and Milan, people pay their visits, transact their business, and make their appointments at the theatre. In Italy, as a rule, do not receive much at their homes. It is only at Florence and Genoa that the English customs of dinner giving and party giving are all to any great extent. Speaking generally the life which an Italian leads is untidy and uncomfortable. He has no notion of entertaining visitors; looks upon the house as a shelter against wind and cold, dresses in it, sleeps in it, but goes for his enjoyment elsewhere. At Milan, for instance, every man who has 215 a year to spare takes a stall at the Scala and goes there with varying regularity every evening. The ladies have boxes which they furnish as they please, some boxes sporting blue curtains, others red, others yellow, which gives the theatre a lady's boudoir, which gives the theatre a lady's boudoir, which gives the theatre a lady's boudoir.
