And there by mistake tumpled in.

Under old Sim's brush fence, Joe Jores,
That winds at the foot of the hill.
Together we've seen the old camel go round,
Grinding cider at Appleton's mill.
The mill wheel is oven wood now, Joe Jones,
The rafter fell on to a cow,
And the weasels and ists that crawl round as you gaze.
Are the lords of the cider mill now.

Don't you remember the pig-pen, Joe Jones, Which stood on the park to the barn? And the shirt-button trees, where they grow o Which stood on the path to the bard?
And the shirt-button trees, where they grow of the boughs.
Which we sewed on our jackets with yard.
The pig-pen has gone to decay. Joe Jones,
And the lighting the tree overcome;
And down where the onions and carrots once

Grow thistles as big as your thumb. Don't you remember the school, Joe Jones?

And the master who were the old wig;

And the cld shady nook by the crook of the where we played with Aunt Catharine's pig?
Mice live in the master's wig, Joe Jones,
The brook with the crook is now dry

ALDERMAN BILL McMellin, of Philadelphia, was arrested on the 14th on the affidavit of a prominent gentleman, who stated that while conversing with a friend on the sidewalk he was attacked by the Alderman without provocation o: cause. In Washington borough, on the evening of the 12th, Mr. John Amold was instantly killed by being struck in the breast with a stone, thrown by some one of a number of intoxicated white persons engaged in pursuing and stoning colored men through the street. TIME in the shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been reduced to nine hours each day, except Saturday, when the shops are closed in the afternoon. The employees, therefore, actually work but five days (fifty hours) per week. The working force is also to be reduced ten per cent.

A SHORT time since Charles Wesley A SHORT time since Charles Wesley Megary, of Milroy, while at work in a saw mill in Clearfield county, had his leg dreadfully crushed by a log rolling upon it, and owing to want of proper surgical attendance in season, amputation of the limb became necessary, but the injured man soon died from the effects of the operation.

The Democratic foughs showed in strong force at the meeting of the Return Judges in Philadelphia on the 15th, and finding no "Rada" to mash, they set to work pounding each other. Finally a Republican appeared, was instantly assailed, struck on the head, punched in the ribs and then kicked aside to make room for another victim. No arrests.

TUESDAY night of last week, Owen

Feeney, employed by the Mine Hill Rail-Tuesday inglike the Mine Hill Railroad Company, as signal man, and living with his family in the signal tower on Broad Mountain, in Shuylkill county, was burned to death, with his wife and two children. About midnight, while the family was buried in profound slumber, from some cause unknown the house caught fire from below. The smoke awakened the wife, who, arousing her husband and sister, told them the house was on fire. Mr. Feeney rose, and on opening a door leading down stairs, the flames came in vast volume into the room, enveloping the family, except the room, enveloping the family, except the sister, who sprang from the second story of the tower. The father, mother and their two little ones were consumed so completely that nothing but the bones of Mr. F., his wife and their eldest child were found next morning-not a vestige of the youngest, an infant, could be dis-

THEY have had another Brooks case in Philadelphia. Patrick Morley, in the employ of the government, and under the orders of the Collector of Revenue, was attacked on Thursday of last week on the street, by three men, who beat him terri-bly about the head and face with rakes. Finally one of them stabbed him deep in rinally one of them stabbed him deep in the back with a butcher knife, and was about to plunge the weapon into him again, when Morley, by this time wellingh exhausted, managed to clude his murderous assailants. A missile sent after him was well aimed, striking him on the back part of the head and knocking him to the present gengeless and ing him to the pavement senseless and bleeding, the would be assassins leaving him to the care of any one who saw fit to carry him away, while they retreated. The police stood idle, as if in colleague with, or fearful of performing their duty by arresting, the parties to the outrage.

At a late hour in the night, the "detective" force had succeeded in arresting but one of the supposed guilty parties, no less a personage than Owen McCartney, proprietor of the whisky distillery where officer Morley was stationed at the time the attack on him was commenced. The injured man's condition was regard-

MR. SMITH LONGSTREET, a relative of the rebel general of that name, and Mrs.

Gildersleeve, the well known authoress, were married in New York city, last week. The wedding was brilliant and a great number of literary people were present, among others Horace Greeley, who appeared in strong clothes, thus described: "Tail coat, kids, white cravat, dancing pumps, a rose in his button hole, a boquet in his hand, and fairly drenched with patchouli. Of course, he created an immense sensation when he kissed the bride."

Extraordinary Case. In Kane county, Ill., an indictment has been found against Rev. Isaac B. Smith, for the drowning of his wife in the early part of June last. The facts are thus related: At the time stated, Mr. are thus related: At the time stated, Mr. Smith, with his wife, drove in his buggy to attend a ministers' meeting, and in the evening started for the house of his brother-in-law, about two miles from Eigin. About 9½ o'clock he reached the house, in considerable excitement, asking if his wife was there, and saying that his buggy had been overturned in crossing a small stream, he and his wife being ing a small stream, he and his wife being to find his wife, after getting out himself, supposed she might have gone on to supposed she might have gone on to the house and left him. He said further, that his horse was very headstrong, and when he saw water, would go into it, no matter how hard you might try to turn him-Mr. Smith thus accounting for the overturning of the buggy. He gave detailed accounts of the accident to different persons, alleged to be contradictory in important particulars, and this, with the fact of the horse having been found standing still in the water, with the MORLACCHI and her ballet troupe are in Buffalo this week.
