with an exceedingly truthful and impressive effect, which elicited the warnest sympathies of the audience. A vocal selection, exhibiting superior abilities, by Miss Komms P. Sawyer, received the approval of the assemblage. Miss Lizzle Kennedy, in a pleasant way, talked of "The Girl of 18'0," entimating that fair cresture as "the highest type of womanhood" intellectually, morally and physically. "The bell goes a ringing for Sarah," a humorous balled, rendered in a full, clear and sweet voice, by Miss McMillen, in character contained many happy hits on the social "shams" of the present day, which the assemblage seemed to fully appreciate. At its conclusion the singer was called out by a rapturous easing the second time.

Miss Lizzle E. Furnhing, in the stirring rectistion, "After the Battle," displayed a high order of dramatic shility and expression, and was rewarded by cortial supplease.
