OFFIGE OF FITTEBURGH GAERTER, Gold was father weak this morning at from 122½ to 123, but soon railying, it closed at 123, strong. The cause as algued for the sudden decline is the low rate for exchange on bond bills and the increased demand for our securities abroad. Government bonds were strong all day with an advancing tendency, closing very firm. The prospects now for Government bonds are for as high quotations as they ever attained, and if a 4½ per cent. bond is to sell at par, a 6 per cent. bond is to sell at par, a 6 per cent. bond is worth 120. Stocks were very dull and lower during the most part of the day, closing, however, at advanced rates, and a brisk demand for all shares.
