RAIROAD CONNECTION SOUTH-Few of our readers are aware of the fact that but little more than one hundred miles of new railway are needed to put this city in direct connection with the great system of Southern railroads both

From Connellsville, on the main line of the Connellsville Railroad, there is a nch to Uniontown, twelve miles. From Uniontown to Fairmount, in West Virginia, is only forty-three miles; thence the up the Monongahela to its source, and down Tygart's Valley, which runs in the same line, to the Chesapeake and Ohio THE SENATE hesitates to confirm the Railroad, is about sixty miles. Speaking on this subject, the Uniontown American Standard remarks:

To show the value of this stock as an investment, it is sufficient to state the fact that the part of this line aiready made—pays out of its local trade alone, 45 per more than 16 per cent, on its entire original cost, as appears by the official certificate of the Treasurer of the Company, and if it pays 16 per cent, now, what will it pay when it becomes a central link in the great chain of connection between the great chain of connection between Pittsburgh and the Lakes on the one hand, and the Southern States on the Atlantic and the Gulf on the other.
