He would have fewe iting the law, an occasions for consulting the law, and when compelled to do so would be much when compelled to do so would be much more certain of getting his rights. Some men trust everything to memory—dates, names, places, accounts, agreements, everything in the way of business, and the consequent confusion or troschery of memory leads to haif the almost interminable difficulties with which their lives are troubled. And then when the matter gets into the courts, and the evidence is contradictory, the jury are not easily persuaded of the correctness of a case depending for proof upon the memory alone. Every business transaction abould be carefully recorded. The very habit will strengthen the recollection of all the circumstances, and besides, possess an infinitely higher degree of credibility than the "I remember so," however positive the affirmation may be.

A Picasant Fact. One of the most pleasant facis te a lover of the weed, is the knowledge of an es tablishment where, at all times, he can procure the finest and best articles in the line of tobacco and segars, for the gratification of his habits in this direction, and the establishment which bears this reputation, is siways a popular resort to him. Mr. John Mograw, No. 45 Hand street, inderstanding this principle, and with a desire to sell only what he could warrant as represented, has uniformly kept on hand only the best tobacco, segars, and other merchandlas in his line of trade. As a result, this house enjoys an envisible reputation and he has met with that success which as a consequence always follows business integrity and enterprise. His stock is one of the largest in the city, and embraces overything unually found in a first class tobacco house, so that purchasers, wholessie and retail, may have no difficulty in finding any article they desire. ine of tobacco and segars, for the grati

Frank Wolf and Antom Breigie, were making right hideous. They were arrested and locked up until this morning, when Mayor Drum lined them seek hifteen dollars for disorderly conduct.

The neighbors and friends of General J. S. Negley, our Representative in Congress, will mirgle their grief with his own for the sad bereavement that has some to him in the death of his son, George Negley, at Philadelphia, on Friday morning, the 7th instant. The General was with his son when he breathed his last. The remains will probably be brought home for sepulture.

A Presentation.—On the evening of the cit, at Walter's Hall, in the Third ward, Allegheny, the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Fellows, through a Committee, presented a magnifecture of regains to D. D. G. M. Henry Paules, of the Fifth ward, in appreciation of his efficient and faithful istors in behalf of the Order. The git was handsomely tendered and gracefully acknowledged, all the proceedings being highly interesting.

Slight Fire.—Yesterday morning at an early hour Officer Stewart, while passing along North avenue, discovered smoke issuing from the residence of Mr. James M. McBrier. The inmates were aroused, when it was found that owing to some carelessness in attending to the range the night previous, fire had communicated to the kitchen floor, and threstended to destroy the dwelling. With considerable difficulty the flames were extinguished before material damage had been done.

The following messages were received last evening by the members of the Telegraphic Union. They show a considerable amount of material aid:

able amount of material aid:

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7—The National Labor Union, six hundred thousand members, is at our back. Mr. Trevelleck, the President, orders them everywhere to aid us. He addressed a large meeting here last night and spoke strongly in our favor.

St. Louis, Jan. 7.—We have been out five days and are determined to stick as many months. Bacotts they have been five days and are determined to stick as many months. Reports that we have gone back are false, as we have not a single wavering member. Theoperators on the Terre Haute and St. Louis Railon the Terre Haute and St. Louis Rail-road passed a resolution over the line supporting us, and informed their Super-intendent of the fact, who replied that he sympathized with us. The operators on the Northern Division of the Illinois Central Railroad passed resolutions sus-taining us financially, if needed.
