TEST.

The laws in their letter and spirit, and party cast, and content the law for the letter and spirit, and increased as the result of a set actually cast, but not lawfully refer to the record of make, but confidently refer to the record of my pastiller, as evidence at least of my real and devotion to the best interests of my law and against the law on the other, law without any law and against the law on the other, law without any law and against the law on the other, law in the limiting which I bring to the distance of the record of my literation.

We have carefully read the remarks in the law, and admitting a claimant who had a popular but not a legal title. This extraordinary course, for Senators of their experience, has been explained in office, and to posterity, a my successor in office, and to posterity, a series of an agreement between magnificent oid Commonwealth. as the result of an agreement between those Senators and the Democratic leaders at the Capital. We have already given to the full deals of this agreement to the the full details of this agreement to the public. The other day, we printed a letter from Harrisburg, reporting the substance of a confermation with Benator Lowry's private accretary, who frankly admitted the existence of such an agreement, and that the Senator proposes to be a Democratic candidate for re-election respectively.

and resulted in the rapid growth and presperity of our institutions, and the liberty and happiness of our people.

The Constitution vests "the suprems Executive power" of the State in the Governor, and directs that "the shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

The supreme earthly authority recognised by us, therefore, is the law—the right fully determined will of the people. "No clijten is so exalted as to be above, and none so low as to be beneath its power."
