Good Appointment.—Officer John McGready has been assigned to duty at the corner of Grant street and Fifth avenue. Mr. McGready is an efficient officer, and a better selection for the position could not have well been made.

Enlarged.—Our enterprising and well conducted contemporary, the Dispatch, yesterday enlarged four columns, and now presents a very handsome appearance. We are glad to note this new evidence of the continued prosperity of our neighbor.

Personal.—A. E Fay, Esq., of the Oil City Times, a new and enterprising daily paper devoted to the interests of the oil regions, and Mr. G. W. Stuart, of Oil City, are in the city. Both are genial gentlemen and we hope their visit may be pleasant and profitable.

Margaret Martin alleges Frederick Bowers obtained boarding at her house to the amount of six dollars and then removed his baggage without paying the bill. Alderman Mullen yesterday arrested the youth and held him for a hearing on a charge of fraud.

Not Paid Up.—George Snyder yesterday made information before Alderman Mullen, setting forth that John Myers had obtained from him $12 24 worth of meat on credit, and was attempting to leave the city without paying the bill. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing on a charge of fraud.

Held for Trial.—Westley Hill and Jas. Scanlon, who were charged before the Mayor, on oath of John Fedden, with the larceny of a watch, were yesterday held for trial. She alleges that she was some time ago employed in Mrs. Lippert's family, when she quit work she left her clothing there. She subsequently called to get it when Mrs. Lippert refused to let her have it.

Assault and Battery.—Harry Skinner, a colored man, residing at the corner of Grant street and Fourth avenue, was arrested yesterday and taken before the Mayor on a charge of assault and battery on oath of John Hopkins. It appears that the parties had a difficulty, when John threw a brick bat at Skinner's door, whereupon the latter struck him. Skinner gave bail for a hearing.

To Capitalists.—In another column will be found an advertisment of the Dollar Savings Bank offering for sale the fee of a large body of coal land. The situation, on a railroad, only six miles from the city, rendering the surface as wel as the underlying coal easy and quick of access and therefore saleable, will commend this property to capitalists as presenting a rae chance for profitable investment.

Attempted Fraud.—Yesterday Louis Shamberg, of the firm of L. & J. Shamberg, cattle dealers, made information before Alderman Mullen against Louis Zoller and Henry Groebel for fraud. The accused are charged with purchasing cattle to the amount of $481 from the Shambergs, and after selling them pocketing the money and attempting to clear out without settling with the firm. Warrants have been issued.

Pittsburgh Female College has just closed the first half of the winter term, and the second half is about commencing. The present is therefore a very opportune time for new scholars to enter. The College is in a prosperous condition, and equals if not surpasses any similar place for the education of young ladies in this country, and the terms are quite reasonable. Send for a circular to Rev. J. C. Pershing, D. D, President of the Faculty.

The Youth's Cabinet.—The 7th or February No. of this eight-paged journal for youth is already out. The contents, original and select, are such as will interest and instruct youthful readers and even their fathers and mothers will not fail to be edified by an attentive perusal of this excellent periodical. It should have a very large circulation. Where else can so much reading at once harmless and useful, be purchased for the pittance of sixty cents?

Pugnacity.—Jacob Reigle is a vender of milk in Allegheny. Yesterday he was returning home after his day's labor, pretty full, it is said, not of milk, but something else which had a pugilistic influence. Its effects were exhibited in an attack on Jacob Blum, whose right eye was in consequence shrouded in gloom. Jacob Blum, however, had one eye left, and with this left eye he found his way to Alderman Egger's office yesterday and charged his assailant with assault and battery. The police are on the lookout for Jacob Reigle.

A Word to the Ladies.

We would cordially invite the attention of our lady readers to the very rich, elegant and beautiful display of artistic handiwork in vari-colored wax now on exhibition in the art show windows of Messrs. Gillespie & Co. and Boyd, Murray & Fawcett, on Wood street. These are specimens culled at random from the rare works department of our excellent home educational institution, the Pittsburgh Female College, and they attract universal attention and admiration. Specimens are exhibited of flowers, involving fruits, exquisite flowers, artistically elaborated crosses, pretty virgin white harps, lyres, pond lilies, &c., and we marvel that the art has attained so much perfection. The department for tuition in the branch of fine arts is always open to receive pupils, and we are told that the pupils of the College attain, under such capable teachers, a proficiency in very little time. No accomplishment is prettier for a lady, and it is one from which when acquired an easy and large revenue may be drawn if the scholar studies from a desire to follow it for a livelihood, as fine wax ornaments have ready sale at highly remunerative prices.

"Fashionable Education."

This evening the third and last of the series of lectures by the Rev. George P. Hays, will be given in the Central Presbyterian Church, corner Locock and Anderson streets, Allegheny. The former two were very largely attended, and developed the fact that our lecture-goers may be amused, instructed and entertained as well by home as foreign talent. The Rev. gentleman speaks with the greatest ease and fluency, has keen conceptions and a logical method of presenting his thoughts, and withal a rich fund of quaint humor which renders his discourses exceedingly attractive and enjoyable. His theme this evening "Fashionable Education," is one which will afford ample scope for his fancy, wit and logic, and if his other efforts be any criterion, cannot fail to be replete with interest and practical suggestions. We would advise all our readers who wish to enjoy a literary treat and to spend an hour in the most pleasant and profitable manner to be in attendance.

The Thompson Burglary.

Yesterday afternoon a hearing was had in the case of Jeff. Douglass, charged with breaking into the store of J. D. Thompson & Co., on Liberty street, a couple of weeks ago. The fellow Bain, who first "peached" on him, when brought before the Alderman, refused to testify. An elderly colored female identified Bain as one of the parties she saw coming out of the store on the night of the robbery, but could not recognize Douglass. He was accordingly discharged, and Bain remanded to prison for trial.

Sixth Ward School Board.

At the meeting of the Sixth Ward School Board, held on Tuesday evening, it was decided to purchase the astronomical instrument called the Heliotelius.

Bills were read as follows: Sundry small bills, and fifty odd dollars, for articles purchased during 1869, were passed upon.

The occasional prolonged absence of teachers on account of sickness or other causes, and the cost of substitutes in such cases, was discussed, but no definite action was taken further than to instruct the Principal to report to the Secretary of Board the name of each one day.

Mr. Case called attention to the requirement of the law in regard to the Treasurers giving bonds, which has heretofore been neglected.

Accreably to the call at the previous meeting, the Treasurer reported the August 5th, 1869, he received from Jno. R. McCune $2,054.81, and subsequently $600 for sale of land; Jans 1st, 1869, the balance due him was $71.83, which at this time $3,248.64 had been expended, leaving $330.36 due him.

On motion of Mr. Hamilton, a committee, consisting of himself and Mr. Grede, was appointed to audit the accounts of the Treasurer and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Case moved that the Board go into an election to fill the vacancy caused by the removal from the ward of Mr. Wood, staff. The President and Mr. Case spoke in favor, but Messrs. Hamilton, Neely and Grede, a majority, being opposed, the matter was dropped.

The Board adjourned after the transaction of some unimportant business.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner Clawson yesterday held an inquest on the body of the drowned man found in the Monongahela river, an account of which we published yesterday.

An examination of the person was made, and papers were found which showed the remains to be those of Jas. Hyde, a roller, who resided in East Birmingham, and who had been missing from his home for about seven weeks. The strangest thing discovered about him was a large sum of money in the law of his pockets, where it could have been placed only with considerable difficulty. From the testimony it appeared that deceased had been very unwell the night before his disappearance, and that for some time he had been at intervals unnaturally excited. He was last seen early in the morning and went out, leaving his wife in bed. She did not see him from that time until his dead body was found. So far as known he had no quarrel with any person.

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death by drowning himself.

The deceased was between thirty five and thirty-eight years of age, and has been about twelve years in this vicinity. He leaves a wife and two children.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. John Collins, the truly celebrated Irish comedian, who commenced an engagement at the Opera House Monday evening, is drawing large and select audiences. Mr. Collins is a true artist in every sense of the word, and has a more accurate and clear perception of the line of character he assumes than any man on the stage. He is also a fine vocalist. "Colleen Bawn" was presented last evening in a highly satisfactory manner. "A Kiss in the Dark" will be presented as an afterpiece. This evening "The Nervous Man" and "Magic Shirt" will constitute the bill.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Miss Augusta L. Dargon will give select readings from popular authors, at the Academy of Music, Friday evening, February 4th, under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association. Miss Dargon's reputation has been fully established, not only in this city, but wherever she has appeared. There will be no reserved seats.

Another Attraction.

Major Burnell, the enterprising proprietor of the Museum on Fifth avenue, is always up to the times, hence the great popularity of his establishment. Not satisfied, however, with the rare collection which he has already secured, his enterprise has extended still further, and in a few days another attraction is to be added to the list. By reference to our New York dispatches it will be seen that he has secured the great Oriental Giant, who will appear next Monday, for the first time, in Pittsburgh.

The Giant has been engaged for four weeks, and as he is immense in his way, will undoubtedly prove a big thing among the Museum visitors. Major Burnell evidently understands his business and should be rewarded for his energy and liberality in endeavoring to please his patrons.

Allegheny Paid Fire Department.

The Committee on Fire Engines and Hose of Allegheny Councils have completed the appointments by the selection of the following persons for the Columbia Hose and Hook and Ladder Company: Foreman, Samuel H. Maxwell; Driver, James McElroy; Hose and Truck men, Thomas Hamnill, Samuel Haslit, John Gracey and John Gray. These men were sworn in by Mayor Callow yesterday. All the companies are now fully manned. We understand that the Committee have decided to recommend the purchase of all property belonging to the old members now in the houses. The most of this is in the Columbia, the owners of which value it at $900. One of the horses, the only one they owned, was sold on Tuesday for $166. Their other property consists principally of the truck and hose carriage.

Careless Driving.

An accident of a serious nature occurred on Smithfield street yesterday morning, the result of careless driving. Mrs. Mary Jenkins, a resident of South Pittsburgh, was crossing Smithfield street at Diamond alley, when she was knocked down and run over by a horouche, the wheels passing over her ankle and injuring it severely. She was removed to the Mayor's office, and was from there taken to her home in a carriage. The driver was arrested, but there being no information against him, and the officer making the arrest not having seen the occurrence, he was discharged. He declined to give his name.

The Fair at the City Hall.

The Plymouth Church Fair was duly opened on Tuesday evening, and quite a number of our citizens availed themselves of the opportunity to pay it a visit. We were quite favorably impressed with the arrangements of the booths, and the decorations upon them. There are four upon each side of the hall for the display and sale of fancy goods, and one in the centre occupied as a floral and refreshment booth. The first to greet you at the right as you enter the hall is the shooting gallery, which is one of the best ever put up at any fair in the city, and we think it one of the leading features of the fair to judge by its patronage. Next to it is the fancy booth of Mrs. C. West and her daughter, in which we notice many fine articles, not least of which is a beautifully dressed doll.

At this booth is a splendid gold watch to be contested for by the principals of the schools in the city. Votes are also taken at this table in behalf of City School Superintendent Luckey, as against the Allegheny County Superintendent at another table. The next booth is presided over by the younger portion of the Sabbath School children, and has many pretty toys in it suited to the taste of the "woe ones." Next is the fancy booth of Mrs. H. Smith, assisted by a corps of young ladies, and it has a very pretty display of fancy articles. We have no time now to make as full a report of their tables as we hope to have before the Fair closes, and pass on to the next, which is under the charge of Mrs. F. Woods. In addition to the many articles herein, the votes on the watch in favor of Allegheny City and County School Superintendent Boutheit are received here. Last on this side of the Hall, though not least, comes the New England Kitchen, the latch string of which hangs out, but upon entering you see the furniture of "ye olden time" arranged only as an old lady of that day can do it, and Miss Eaton,—its master spirit,—will be happy to welcome you within. Dinner was served yesterday, and it is only necessary to say that it was excellent. We judge by experience. Mrs. H. Boone has this branch in charge, and the table shows that she knows how to do it. She is assisted by the young ladies of the Society, who act as waiters. They will be glad to serve you daily from 12 till 3 p. m. till the Fair closes, and in addition will serve oysters in the evening. We will endeavor at some other time to describe the booths and the contents upon the left side of the Hall.

A Sound Body and a Sound Mind.

In education it is essentially necessary that while the mental faculties are undergoing the process of enlargement and expansion in a course of intellectual training and study, the physical structure—the bones, muscles and nerves—should not be neglected. The power of the mind to comprehend what is brought upon it, to digest, assimilate and learn, is just in proportion to the vitality, strength and healthfulness of the physical body. It is, hence, a matter of grave moment to parents and others charged with the education of sons and daughters, that a due amount of attention be paid to calisthenics in the school course. Always progressive, and keeping pace with the advance of science, the Pittsburgh Female College has just introduced into its curriculum the true science of light gymnastics for a two fold purpose, to make strong, active and healthy the young ladies in attendance; and 2ndly, to impart to them the art of graceful and easy manners and motion. Two full classes have already been organized under most promising auspices, and a competent and faithful gentleman instructor of the science of light gymnastics has been secured to head the department in the person of Miss Mary M. Beard. The President of the Faculty, Rev. J. C. Pershing, has kindly consented to admit into the gymnastic classes outside ladies who are not in attendance connected with the college, but who desire to embrace themselves of the advantages for physical culture and development afforded.

The Grand Charity Fair.

The grand Charity Fair for the joint benefit of the worthy poor of the city and the Public Catholic Library now in progress in the basement of St. Paul's Cathedral, is proving attractive in its appointments than the late Orphans' Fair. The booths have all been readorned, rearranged and refurnished and present a beautiful gala day appearance. Among the new booths to be contested for are the following: A tailor's dummy, a steam lapboard for the most fashionable merchant tailor at ten cents a vote. Among the entries are Messrs. P. McArdle, H. Smith, W. D. Duffey, G. G. Hale. An elegant gold headed cane, to be voted for by the young gentlemen, J. G. West, Hugh Fleming, Joseph Liebler, Joseph Butler and Alex. Cochran. A veteran crimping machine to the most fashionable boot maker; contestants, D. Allen, T. McCartan, F. Woer, Hicks & Co., J. Jahn, George King, Jos. Linder, Jos. Hoffman and Hugh Mc-Laughlin. A rare good time is expected to mark the Fair throughout, and all are cordially invited to attend to partake.

Petroleum Items.

We take the following from the Oil City Daily Times:

The Forest well, located on Cherry tree run, recently torpedoed, has increased its production to 50 barrels per day.

The Elliott well on the same farm has produced 500 barrels in fourteen hours.

The Brodhead well, next above the Hanson well, on Cottage Hill, is about ready to be tested, and already there is a show of oil, which encourages the owners, and it is confidently expected that it will be a paying well.

The Brown farm, upon which is located the Edinburg, Reno, Everett wells, produces, in addition to those already mentioned, as follows; Oliver well, 8 barrels; Blakely well, 19 bbls; Gordon well, 7 bbls, making the total production of about 90 barrels daily.

The Black farm, adjoining the Brown farm, is now producing about 45 barrels daily. Cherry Tree Run is steadily improving in its daily production, and she knows not where Black farms are holding their own in that vicinity.

Insanity or Drunkenness.

Yesterday afternoon a middle aged woman appeared at the Mayors office and made inquiries for her husband who had been committed to jail a few days before for disorderly conduct. She was directed to Warden Saundrett and proceeded on her way down Federal street. Just opposite the passenger station a sudden fancy, or something else caused her to become very noisy and pugilistic. She conducted the entertainment as a star soiree for about fifteen minutes, alternate shrieks and attacks on pedestrians forming the programme. By this time a large crowd had collected, including a couple of policemen, who escorted her to the lock up. Here she was provided with a cell, opinions being divided as to her insanity or drunkenness. Her case will be attended to this morning.

Snowballing.

Tuesday afternoon a number of urchins on North avenue, Allegheny, engaged in the pastime of snowballing. One of the lads, named Carnahan, unfortunately selected the wrong mark and hit a young man named Joseph Birchell with one of the balls. Birchell was driving an express wagon along at the time, but he immediately descended therefrom, and catching young Carnahan horsewhipped him severely. For this he was brought before Mayor Callow yesterday afternoon, and compelled to give bail for court on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by the boy's mother.

Dangerous Blasting.

Yesterday Charles Koenig called the attention of Alderman Bolster to the fact that Geo. Smith maintained on his premises, in the Seventh ward, Allegheny, a nuisance in the shape of a quarry. Koenig alleges a blast went off at the quarry yesterday afternoon, when some portions of rock were blown through a window of his house to the serious danger of the inmates, one of whom, his little daughter, narrowly escaped injury. The Alderman issued a warrant for the arrest of the accused, on Koenig's information.

Where to Purchase Fine Wall Papers.

If is hardly necessary for us to direct the attention of our Allegheny readers to the very large and elegant stock of fine plain and fancy wall papers of the most recent styles and patterns which has just been opened at the first class and well conducted establishment of Mr. James Hoag, Jr, No. 174 Federal street. This house has so long and so successfully held a front rank among competitors in that line of business on the other side of the river, that it is universally and most favorably known to all classes. The present stock is one of the finest ever received by the house and will prove especially attractive to visitors, embracing an endless variety of new and beautiful designs, from the cheapest kitchen to the very finest stamped gold, decoratings for halls, vestibules, studios, rich velvets for libraries and dining halls, etc., etc., all of which have been marked down to very low prices and great bargains. Administrator's Sale of Dry Goods.

We do not need to urge our readers to attend the great closing out sale of dry goods at J. W. Barker & Co.'s, 59 Market street, for the salesrooms are crowded every day, and the managers and proprietors inform us that they have as many customers all the time as they can well and conveniently attend to, and very often a great many more purchasers than all hands can wait upon satisfactorily. But we do desire to assure them that the uniform testimony of those who have attended the sale, so far as we know it, is that goods are sold at decidedly low prices. The determination is to close every thing out to wind up the business. In such circumstances, good bargains may be confidently expected, and if they were not to be had at Barker's, we believe it would be absolutely impossible to keep up the crowd and excitement so long. There is still a choice selection of silks, delaines, plaids, poplins, ballcoes, ginghams, cloaks, shawls, &c., &c., on hand, all of which must be sold by order of the administrators of the late J. W. Barker, Esq., in order that the estate may be settled up. Purchasers should go early in the morning, as goods can be examined more satisfactorily before the salesrooms become crowded.

People are becoming aware that in order to secure a delightful and harmless drink they must use Pier, Dannals & Co.'s Cream Ale. When thirsty do not fail to ask for it at any first class saloon, and be sure that they do not give you any inferior brand. Pier, Dannals & Co.'s Ale can always be recognized by its bright, golden color.

To Lets are very numerous this winter. Parties wishing to engage spring wagons for moving would do well to attend to it in time. Leave your orders at No. 82 Darrah street, Allegheny, for almost any size wagons needed, and they will be attended to by John Dyer's Eureka Local Express. 4t
