

THE DAILY GAZETTE
PENNIMAN, REED & CO.,
66 & 68 FIFTH AVENUE,
P. E. PENNIMAN, JULIAH KING,
T. P. HOUTON, N. P. REED,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

WEBS OF THE DAILY:
By mail, per copy $1.00
Delivered by carriers, per week 10cts

GENERAL NEWS.

COURT'S SIT. A milking stool.
The "Home Melodist"—the baby-Chicago saw 24,000 dogs last year.
On a grand scale—the Fish diners.
Proprietary Brooklyn kitchen is a success.
NEW ORLEANS is to have free letter delivery.

A MASTERY of James Flak, Jr., is in progress.

CHICAGO has made a legal hold day in Ohio.

SACRAMENTO is earning the name of Gold Mountain.

The spirit of the times—the ghost of Hamlet's father.

RUSTICA is tickling her bankruptcy and the public.

INNIS is very much thought of now in England.

The Cope has given Paul the Order of Merit.

HICKMAN has a temperance called "Junction."

MARY HAS taken "Mary Ward."

The Washington Patent Office has just issued its 50,000th patent.

HORNUNG is having a great revival.

The first bird of the season are three dollars a pair in Baltimore.

Mr. HARRISON is heard from as a candidate for Congress.

TAX FREE lunch trade is said to be the liveliest business in Buffalo.

THADDEUS Young Swift is a Mormon.

Mrs. STANZ is too sick to talk which must very sick indeed.

Mrs. HALEY Cox is the young lady who recently married Mr. George H. Cox.

The conservative newspapers of Louisiana is to hold a convention.

North Carolina will still permit to come to the state.

A man who wants his hat is soon to come to a Bridgeport, Conn.

The air line projects need the same fate as the iron line of railroads.

Cox has a new paper called the Egyptian Sun. This is to be Illinois.

The latest invention is a horseback riding school and platform.

Postmaster general, a single female, takes care of the French Prince Imperial.

The platform of the female voters of Mormonism ought to be more men.

A COUNCIL of California gourmands has decided that gourmets is superior to nutmeg.

Hard shell almond trees were in bloom in Marysville, California, two weeks ago.

SAN FRANCISCO is preparing for the higest St. Patrick's Day California ever.

TRINITY is to be a festival of English church choirs at Llandaff Cathedral, in July.

This is to be a second Bangor, Maine, that many of the roads are impossible.

The State of Georgia now has the States demanding admission to Congress.

Strawberries are eaten by Califorians who can afford to pay $1 a quart for them.

This inquiry is suddenly made in Europe, as the Pope has excommunicated the French.

Over four million dollars' worth of property was burned up in Rome, even though it is a small town.

There are eight hundred cheese factories in New York, and twenty in Massachusetts.

The big "Grand" is now switching his fall on the Presidential farm, near St. Louis.

Miss Brown, widow of great beauty and wealth, is the latest actress to meet her death.

Frogs and toads hang by one leg from the nostrils of some women, and they are called ornamentals.

The daily expenses stand upon the books of the Pope, in Rome, even though it is a small town.

A gang of first class burglars is stationing in New Orleans by some of the most notorious women.

Miss Clegg has won the hearts of the young Washingtonians, by having dinner at her evening receptions.

The "Count" claiming to be a "Bianchi," cousin, has been arrested as a swindler.

Carnival is regarded as a bad sign for one to die with his boots on, and they are called ornaments.

The daily expenses stand upon the books of the Pope, in Rome, even though it is a small town.

New York is said to be a paradise for artists, 1,700 of whom are there at present.

The Legislature is advocating the removal of the National Capital to the Mississippi Valley.

Mr. Thompson has apostolized Mrs. Caroline Neil and Esther Moore, members of the press for Sweetwater country.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-camp of General Sir John Moore, and was a favorite of the Surrey stage beauties, in England.

Tuna is not so many valentines sent in Canada as in the United States.

A conservator writes that the executors of Paris was once a navy man, and afterwards a hill doctor and a common school teacher.

He was born in Maine, and went to school in New York.

He was found lying on a pile of rags in his shiny coat, with a book in his hand.

Harriet was played out rather too effectively in Baltimore the other day.

A little colored boy was hanging in play at 200 feet above the ground.

Tate Duke de Chartres was for some months an old-de-c