to the realization that he was syndled.

The new county project having again failed "after forty years agitation," it is now proposed to annex Titusville to Venaugo county. Reviewing the "New County Swindle" controversy, the Titusville Hereld says: "Is it expedient to go on year alter year, in the future, as we have done in the past, handling this unclear thing, defiling ourselves, seeking to lay the foundations of a temple of justice, God save the mark! upon the rotten foundations of personal, legulative, official and popular corruption. For this is what it amounts to and all the world knows it."

As measure of relief the Hereld favors annexation,
