ing a chest of old papers deposited in the archives of that body by the late Robert Greenleaf, of Malden, has recently made a curious discovery which has especial interest for the people of Pennsylvania.—Among these papers was one of ancient date, which bore this indorsement: "Yo scheme to bagge Penne." This curious title attracted the attention of Mr. Judikins, and he examined the contents of the document with more than common interest. It is the familiar and quaint handwriting of the Rev. Cotton Mather, and is addressed to "Yo aged and beloved Mr. John Higginson." It bears date, "September ye 19th, 1682," and reads thus, the old spelling of the original being followed to the letter:

"There bee now at sea a shippe (for our friend Mr. Esalss Holcroft, of London, did advise me by the last packet that it wolde sail some timejan August) called ye Wel come. R. The day has gone by when a medicine without mart could command and retain the confidence of the world. Advartising induces the public for the world. Advartising induces the public for the property of the public for the public fo of the Delaware. But it is utmous of the feet on the narrow chance by which the founder of this commonwealth escaped the fate of many of his religious brethers who were cast ashore on the relentless coast of Massachusetts. It is strange to fancy the wise lawgiver, endeared to the hearts of a great people and a posterity by his wisdom, sagacity and benevelence, hoeing sugar in Barbadoes under the lash of a Yankee overseer, or crushing cane into rum to thaw the granite gizzards which Masher and his theological brethren carried about instead of hearts. Ah! how the ancient Cotton must have mourned for the marketable Quakers and the refreahing "rumme" which came not. It is delightful to think how he never got a bit of the "spoyle" which his devillab old son! held in delictions anticipationhow Brother Higginson watched fondly for his hogsheads and dreamed of swallowing his half score of heretics in pious punches. They would have made a "rum cretur" of the Great Founder, in a literate, they didnt get him, but thanks to the good steering of "R. Greenaway, master," they didnt get him, but thanks to the good steering of Small Women.
