THE reporters of the London morning papers "struck" a few nights ago, against the arrangements indee for their accommodation at the banquet given by the Benchers of the Inner Temple of the Prince of Wales. They were not asked to dine, and were placed, they said, in a position where they could usither see nor hear. The result was that they refused to stay, and the Times alone has a report of the proceedings.

THE late Mr. Thackeray had a nose of most peculiar shape, as may be seen by his portrait. The bridge was very low, and the nostrile extremely well developed.
