White Sheep-Skins for Door-Mats.

We find the following in the Scientific American:
Take two long-wooled sheep skins, and make up a strong lather of soap; the sign of proper strength is when the lather feels slippery between the fingers. When the lather is cold, wash the skins carefully in it, squeezing them between the hands so as to take all the dirt out of the wool. When this is accomplished, lift out the skins and wash them in cold water until all the soap is extracted. Have a vessel of clean cold water ready, to which some alum and salt (about half a pound) which have been dissolved in a small quantity of hot water are added, and the skins left to steep all night. They are taken out in the morning and hung over a pole to drip.

When all the alum water has dripped off, they are spread out on the board to dry, and are carefully stretched with the hand from time to time. Before they are thoroughly dry a composition of two tablespoonfuls of alum and the same of saltpetre are ground to powder in a mortar or otherwise, and sprinkled carefully on the fleshy side of each skin.

They are then placed the one on the top of the other, leaving the wool outside, and hung upon a rack of slats, in a barn, shed or dry place, for about three days, or until they are dry. They should be turned every day. After this they are taken down, and the flesh side is scraped with a blunt knife, and each skin trimmed for a mat. The flesh side may then be rubbed over with pipe-clay, beat with a switch, and will then be found supple, a beautiful white color, and fit for a door-mat for a mechanic or a prince.

Soap Suds.

The value of this liquid as a stimulant of vegetation does not appear to be generally appreciated by our agriculturists, many of whom make no use of it, although from their well known habits of economy and enterprise in other matters, we should have been led to expect better things. In a state of incipient putridity, soap-suds is replete with the elements of vegetable life in a state of actual and complete solution; the only condition, indeed, in which it is susceptible of absorption and assimilation by the roots of plants. Besides its value as a powerful stimulant, it possesses, also, very potent antiseptic properties, and when used in irrigation of garden and field crops—the best way, perhaps, in which it can be applied to vegetables—operates as a speedy and effectual remedy against the ravages of bugs, worms, and most of the aligerous or winged deprecators, by which vegetables are so often infested and destroyed. It is, also, a most valuable adjuvant in the formation of compost. For this purpose a large tank or vat, capable of holding from three to four carloads, should be constructed in some place easy of access, and to which, without difficulty, the wash from the sink and laundry can be conveyed. Into this reservoir all the wash matter produced on the farm and about the mansion, should be thrown—bones, refuse, ashes, muck, rich soil, and clip manure from the wood-shed; in short, every substance capable of absorbing the rich, fertilizing liquid, and retaining it for the soil and plants to which it is to be applied. By a little systematic attention to matters of this nature, the annual produce of our agriculture might be immeasurably increased, and productive capacity of many farms, now regarded as almost worthless, placed on a footing equal, if not superior, to the most fertile. Nature has everywhere supplied in manifold abundance the means of fertility, and we have only to appropriate and apply them judiciously, to secure the best and most flattering results. Some agricultural writers have estimated the value of a hog-head of suds, in a state of incipient putridity, to be very nearly equal to that of a cord of prepared manure. This is probably an over estimate; yet no one who has applied suds to vegetation, and especially observed the results, can be otherwise than convinced of its very great efficacy and value. Where it is used in composting operations, it may be applied in its crude state, before fermentation has taken place. It will ferment in the heap, and thus induce a powerful chemical action in the ingredients, which will be in proportion as to power, to their number and character, and the manner, or rather thoroughness, with which they are intermixed. With a sufficiency of soap-suds and urine, a valuable compost may be made of any soil, even sand.—Farmer and Mechanic.

COWS HOLDING UP THEIR MILK.—It is well known that many cows when they first come in, when their calves are taken from them, will hold up their milk sometimes to such a degree as almost to dry themselves before they will give it down. A few years ago, writes a correspondent of an English newspaper, I bought a young cow, which proved to be very wild, and when I took away her first calf she would not give her milk. I had heard it remarked that putting a weight on the cow's back would make her give milk down. I accordingly drove her into a stable, got a bushel of grain and put it on her back. While in this position, she had no power to hold up her milk, for it came down freely. After doing this a few times, and afterwards patting my hand on the back of the cow, it would give way and she would immediately give down her milk. The rationale of the treatment appears to be that the weight counteracts the upward tendency of the animal's muscular action.

TO DRIVE AWAY STRIPED BUGS.—It is stated in the Genesee Farmer, that to put a piece of assafetida, about the size of a pea, in each hill of cucumbers will prevent them from being troubled with the striped yellow bug.

Now is the time for farmers to destroy noxious weeds before the seed ripens. One day, now, will save many next season.

Every Family should have a copy.

An invaluable book, only 25 cts. per copy—Man know thyself.

DR. HUNTER'S MANUAL & HAND BOOK for the afflicted. Containing an outline of the Origin, Progress, Treatment and Cure of every form of disease, contracted by promiscuous Sexual Intercourse, by Self-abuse, or Sexual Excess, with advice for their prevention, written in a familiar style, avoiding all medical technicalities, and everything that would offend the ear of decency, from the result of some twenty years successful practice, exclusively devoted to the cure of diseases of a delicate or private nature.

To which is added, receipts for the above diseases, and a treatise on the causes, symptoms and cure of the Fever and Ague, for twenty-five cents a copy; six copies one dollar; will be forwarded to any part of the United States, by mail, free of postage. Address, postage paid, "Box, 196 Post Office, or the Author, 36 North Seventh Street Philadelphia.

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD. Dr. Hunter will forfeit $50 if failing to cure any case of secret disease that may come under his care, no matter how long standing or obdurate. Either sex are invited to his Private Rooms, 28 North Seventh Street Philadelphia, without fear of interruption from other patients. Strangers and others who have been unfortunate in the selection of a Physician are invited to call.

IMPOTENCY.—Through unrestrained indulgence of the passions, by excess or self-abuse, the evils are numerous. Premature impotency, involuntary seminal discharges, wasting of the organs, loss of memory, a distaste for female society, general debility, or constitutional derangement, are sure to follow. If necessary, consult the Doctor with confidence; he offers a perfect cure.

READ AND REFLECT.—The afflicted would do well to reflect before trusting their lives, in the hands of Physicians ignorant of this class of maladies. It is certainly impossible for one man to understand all the diseases of the human family are subject to. Every respectable physician has his peculiar branch, in which he is more successful than his brother professors, and to that he devotes most of his time and study.

YEARS OF PRACTICE. exclusively devoted to the study and treatment of diseases of the sexual organs, together with ulcers upon the body, throat, nose, or legs, pains in head, or bones, mercurial rheumatism, stricture, gravel, irregularities, disease arising from youthful excesses, or impurities of the blood, whereby the constitution has become enfeebled, enables the Doctor to offer speedy relief to all who may place themselves under his care.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

A SURE REMEDY FOR WORMS.

The testimony in its favor is overwhelming. The proprietors are daily in receipt of letters and certificates, going to prove its remarkable efficiency to all cases of worms, both in children and adults. The relief given, and the immediate improvement of health which follows its use, has called the attention of physicians to this article, and they freely recommend & prescribe it in their practice. The retail price is 25 cents per vial which brings it within the means of all.

Brooklyn, L. I. January 16, 1847.
I do certify that I gave one bottle of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge to my child, and in seven hours it passed 23 large worms. Any person doubting this may apply for further information at my residence corner of York and Jackson st's. JAMES McCAFFREY.

ESOTERIC ANTHROPOLOGY.

BY T. L. NICHOLS, M. D.

PRINCIPAL of the American Hydropathic Institute, Educational and Therapeutical, at Portchester, N. Y., one hour's distance from New York city on the New York and New Haven Railroad. A comprehensive and confidential Treatise on the Structure, Functions, Passional Attractions and Perfections, True and False Physical and Social Conditions, and the most intimate Relations of Men and Women.

The title, Esoteric Anthropology, will seem strange to many, but it is thoroughly appropriate. Anthropology is from Anthropos, a man, and Logos, a description. Esoteric, from Eso, within, signifies private, secret, interior, and was used by the ancient philosophers to distinguish their private lectures, given in the interiors of their dwellings, upon the sacred mysteries of science and philosophy, to their chosen disciples, from their Exoteric discourses which were given to the public. Esoteric Anthropology is therefore, a private treatise on Human Anatomy, Physiology, Therapeutics and Obstetrics—on the whole science of man—plain in language, full and faithful in illustration, and written with all the frankness of a private letter, under the seal of professional confidence. It contains the highest and deepest truths in every department of Human Physiology, with their individual and social application; the true nature and hidden cause of Disease; the conditions of Health, physical and passional; all that information which every human being needs, which few dare ask for, or know how to obtain, but which, amid the discordances and deprivations of civilization, is of priceless value.

There are many subjects connected with the broad science of Human Life, of the deepest and most vital interest to man and the race, in regard to which a terrible ignorance every where prevails; an ignorance which is destroying the health, shortening the lives, and sacrificing the happiness of millions—which threatens the power of nations, and the perpetuity of races.

Professional works on Physiology are dry, mechanical, or chemical, astonishingly ignorant, as well as technically incomprehensible. The popular works are superficial, meager, and necessarily wanting in the most important matters. The quack books are full of errors, false in science, absurd in philosophy, mischievous in morals, and basely mercenary in their motives. In most cases these books are the advertising medium of some specious charlatan, who wants patients, or letters of consultation, or who has some nostrum to palm off upon the credulous.

The world has need of a different book from any of these—such a book as has never been written, and as cannot now be published in the usual way, sold by booksellers, or hawked by agents or peddlers. The author of Esoteric Anthropology, a Teacher, a Physician, a public and private Lecturer on all branches of Medical Science, has written this book with a frankness he never could have used in a work for the public, or one open to criticism. It is for his pupils and patients, for intelligent men and women, who wish to understand the deepest mysteries of life; especially it is for the noble and heroic few, who are brave enough to examine and accept new truths, and wise enough to profit by them. There can scarcely be any important question, which any man or woman can ever need to ask a physician, to which this volume does not contain an answer. It is so complete in this respect, that the author hopes and believes that no one who reads it will ever need to trouble himself with a professional consultation. It is henceforth his chosen method of medical instruction and practice, and in it he has formed the only book he owes mankind as a teacher, a preserver of health, and a teacher of the Laws of Life.

Among the subjects treated of in this work, are the following: Man, and his relations to the Spiritual and Material Universe (Human Anatomy; the Chemistry of Man; Principles of Physiology and the Active Forces of Nature; The Three Groups of Functions, Organic, Animal, and Generative; The Whole Philosophy and Processes of Reproduction; The True Law of Marriage; The Conditions of Health; Causes of Disease; Curative Agencies; Processes of Water-cure; Diseases and Treatment; Passional Diseases; Diseases of the General System; Brain and Nerves; Respiration; Digestion; Generation; Gestation and Parturition; Lactation and the Management of Infancy, &c., &c., including every important condition and process from the beginning to the close of life, and containing especially—

1. A clear and amply illustrated view of the structure of the human body, and all its complex organism, male and female.
2. A full account of the functions of life, with such an illustrated description of the evolution of the embryo, as has not before been given.
3. All that is known of health and disease, with the means for the preservation of the former, and cure of the latter.
4. So careful an explanation of the whole process of gestation and childbirth, as will enable every woman to dispense with the services of a physician or professional midwife.

ESOTERIC ANTHROPOLOGY is plain and simple in language, full in illustration, as comprehensive as the utmost curiosity can wish, and without one line of quackery, or the remotest hinting at a fee.

It must be evident that such a book, written with the necessary freedom, and illustrated with fullness and fidelity, must not be profaned. It is not for the counter, the book-stall, the library shelf, or the center table. It is not to be offered for curious examination, nor urged upon those who can not appreciate its value. It is advertised, if he will, whether the social proprieties be true or false, the author can not violate them, and he feels compelled to keep this book truly esoteric, a private work, to be sent as a confidential answer to a professional consultation, and he trusts that no person will apply for it who will not make it a point of honor to so consider it.

To all such persons it will be sent BY MAIL, to any designated address, POST PAID, on the receipt of One Dollar, sent free of postage, to T. L. NICHOLS M. D. Portchester, N. Y.

MONROE COUNTY Mutual Fire Insurance Comp'y.

The rate of Insurance is one dollar on the thousand dollars insured, after which payment no subsequent tax will be levied, except to cover actual loss or damage by fire, that may fall upon members of the company.

The net profits arising from interest or otherwise, will be ascertained yearly, for which each member in proportion to his, her, or their deposit, will have a credit in the company. Each insurer in or with the said company will be a member thereof during the term of his or her policy. The principle of Mutual Insurance has been thoroughly tested—has been tried by the unerring test of experience, and has proved successful and become very popular. It affords the greatest security against loss or damage by fire, on the most advantageous and reasonable terms.

HORSES MADE SOUND

BY THE Horse Owner's Secret,
Being a new and certain remedy for the speedy
Cure of Heaves,
By SIR JAMES LYNDONTON,
Principal Farrier to his Royal Highness
Prince Albert.

THE great discovery contained in this little work procured Sir James his Baronetcy. It is really worth its weight in gold to all who own or use Horses. It procures a Certain and positive cure for Heaves which any person can prepare. The remedy is better and cheaper than any advertised Heave Powder, and is perfectly safe, as any one can know who tries it. Horse owners know that many a valuable Horse loses half its price by this prevalent disease. The remedy prescribed in this work will cure him and increase his market value, besides relieving the poor beast of a horrible complaint, similar to the Asthma in a man. The public can depend on this work; it is no catchpenny humbug. The articles prescribed by Sir James are all cheap and can be had at any store. To prevent imposition the work will be sent in sealed envelopes. English price four shillings and three pence sterling—American price, $1 per copy. Persons ordering Sir James' Work, are expected to confine his instructions to their own animals.—It will be sent to none other.

An American Horse Doctor approves of the above System! Read what he says:
APPELTON, Ohio, July 21, 1851
Mr DUNBERTON,—I have tried your Secret for the cure of Heaves, and approve of it very much. Yours, truly,

LIVER COMPLAINT,

Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach, such as a constipation, inward piles, fullness or blood to the head, acidity of the stomach, nausea, heartburn, disgust for food, fullness, or weight in the stomach, sour eructations, sinking or fluttering at the pit of the stomach, swimming of the head, hurried and difficult breathing, fluttering at the heart, choking or suffocating sensations when in a lying posture, dimness of vision, dots or webs before the sight, fever and dull pain in the head, deficiency of perspiration, yellowness of the skin & eyes, pain in the side, back, chest, limbs, &c. sudden flushes of heat, burning in the flesh, constant imaginings of evil and great depression of spirits, can be effectually cured by

Dr. Hoopland's celebrated German Bitters, PREPARED BY
Dr. C. M. Jackson,

at the German Medicine Store, 120 Arch st. Philadelphia. Their power over the above diseases is not excelled—if equalled—by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases after skillful physicians had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are willful, safe, certain and pleasant.

Read and be Convinced.

From the Boston Bee.
The editor said, Dec. 22nd—Dr. Hoopland's celebrated German Bitters for the cure of Liver complaint, jaundice, dyspepsia, chronic or nervous debility, is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver complaint from the use of this remedy.

We are convinced that, in the use of these Bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor—a fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in taste and smell and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomachs with safety, under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use. "SCOTT'S WEEKLY," one of the best Literary papers published, said, Aug. 25—
"Dr. Hoopland's German Bitters, manufactured by some of the most prominent members of the faculty as an article of much efficacy in cases of female weakness. As such is the case, we would advise all mothers to obtain a bottle, and thus save themselves much sickness. Persons of debilitated constitutions will find these Bitters advantageous to their health, as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems."

More Evidence.

The Hon. C. D. Hineine, Mayor of the City of Camden, N. J., says:
"Hoopland's German Bitters.—We have seen many flattering notices of this medicine, and the source from which they came induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits.—From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say we found it specific in its action upon disease of the liver and digestive organs, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration is really surprising. It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.

"If this medicine was more generally used we are satisfied there would be less sickness, as from the stomach, liver, and nervous system the great majority of real and imaginary diseases emanate. Have them in a healthy condition, and you can bid defiance to epidemics generally. This extraordinary medicine we would advise our friends who are at all indisposed, to give a trial—it will recommend itself. It should, in fact, be in every family. No other medicine can produce such evidences of merit." Evidence upon evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last three years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than all other nostrums combined, a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form.

That this medicine will cure Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can doubt after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the stomach and liver; it is preferable to calomel in all bilious diseases—the effect is immediate. They can be administered to female or infant with safety and reliable benefit at any time.

Look well to the marks of the genuine. They have the written signature of C. M. JACKSON upon the wrapper, and his name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.
