

Agricultural.

Much Labor on Little Land.

The Farmer's Companion, in an article on "Small Farms," marks out the following course for the farmer of small capital to pursue:

You have one hundred acres clear, fifty of which you keep for pasture and for meadow. Make up your mind to work only twenty five acres; the other twenty five being put down to clover and timothy as you best can. You have manure enough in and about your farm for six acres. This year haul that on to your land, plough it, and put in corn, with little ashes, and if you can get it, slaked lime or plaster to every hilt. Plough twice as deep as usual, and drag twice as long, with a long toothed drag, till the land is like a garden. If you have got 35 bushels of corn to the acre before, we can warrant you now, seventy or eighty; for you cultivate and hoe the corn twice as much likewise. You double your crop at a very little increased cost. Having no more manure, you must depend on deeper ploughing and better dragging for the other ten acres for this year, not forgetting to sow a little more seed than usual, if it is oats or barley. In the fall sow wheat where the corn was, with the same care, and next spring, manure the next six acres for corn. Yes, but you may manure the ten or twelve acre; for you have had twenty-five more acres for hay, or oat straw cut green for fodder, and can keep twenty-five more cows through the winter; and knowing the value of the manure, that it is as important to you as the very soil itself, you will take much better care of it.

Thus, every two or three years, all your land will get a dressing of manure, and every year you will have a different crop on it. Every year it will improve and you grow rich with about half your work. But after a while, sow a few acres of this land with clover and timothy, and break up as much of your old grass. You will get double the crop of hay on the piece, and a good crop of grain on the old piece. In one word, of all men in the world, a farmer should work a small piece of land; work it thoroughly; keep all the stock he can to make manure; keep the manure dry; and he will not be a small farmer long. We have tried it, and we know it. For the rest, take and read a good farmer's newspaper.

Raising Blood

And Consumption, pain in the side and night sweats, Asthma, Whooping Cough, palpitation of the heart, Liver complaint, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat, lungs and liver cured by Sherman's All-Healing Balm.

RAISING BLOOD & CONSUMPTION

Mr. M'ine, Builder, in Brooklyn, was attacked with raising blood, followed by a cough, pain in the side, and all the usual symptoms of consumption. He employed two of the best physicians; they did him no good, and told him he could not live.

Hearing of the wonderful cures performed by Sherman's Balm, he sent at 10 o'clock at night to Mrs. Hayes, 136 Fulton street, and got a bottle; it operated like a charm, stopped the bleeding and cough! Before he had taken one bottle he was able to be about his work. It had saved his life. His daughter, residing at 127 Myrtle Avenue, can attest it.

Miss Ann Maston, of Williamsburg living in Tenth, near South Fourth st., says—That she had been troubled with a hacking cough, and pain in the chest, for a long time, which at last became so bad that she was obliged to give up her school for more than a year. She then commenced taking the All-Healing Balm—which soon alleviated her symptoms. She is now fast recovering, and has resumed her laborious occupations as a teacher.

14 years Mr. John O'Neil, 10th avenue and 21st street, suffered with a cough, raising of phlegm, and pain in his side. He could get no relief til he tried the All-Healing Balm, which drove the pain from his side, allayed the cough, and brought the disease upon the surface; and before he had taken three bottles, was entirely cured.

PLEURISY AND CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. Baggas, a lady upwards of 70, residing 88 Sheriff street, has for years been subject to attacks of Pleurisy, Raising of Blood, severe Cough, Shortness of Breath, pain in her Head and various parts of her body. Her friends believed past recovery. The All-Healing Balm relieved her at once of all her alarming symptoms, and now she is able to attend to her work.

ASTHMA AND WHOOPING COUGH.

Mrs. Lucretia Wells, 95 Christie st.; L. S. Beale, 19 Delancy street; W. H. Youngs, 75 Walnut st.; know the value of this great remedy.
