Clover Seed--Experiments.
Mr. Editor:--Experiments have convinced me that in sowing clover seed, there is great danger of covering it to deep--When the seed is sowed and covered in with a heavy, long-toothed harrow, as it invariably is, in some sections, it is not only possible, but very probable that no small portion of the quantity applied, fails to come up in consequence of the great depth at which it is placed beneath the surface. Without detailing my own experience, permit me to present the following extract from a late paper, promising however, that the results given, though arrived at by a more exact and methodical process, agree, precisely, in the main, with my own:

"Experiments performed in England, have shown that clover seed does best when but slightly covered, or very near the surface of the earth. Thirteen compartments or beds were sown, the seed in each successive bed being buried a quarter of an inch deeper than that in the preceding one; and varying from mere sprinkling on the surface, to three inches deep. The following numbers indicate the number of plants which came up in each bed, from an equal number of seed, each successive one being a quarter of an inch deeper:--17, 16, 14, 11, 8, 4, 4, 0, 0, 0, 0. From no depth, to about one inch, the seed mostly came up.--Hence the impolicy of covering clover seed with a heavy harrow; washing in by rain, or fresh earth, or working in by the crumpling influence of frost, being better."

Where lands are very nearly flat, or so level as not to be washed at by the water from the melting snow, or severe spring rains, I have found that seed--clover, berds-grass and other kinds, is well enough buried by the action of the frost, as recommended above. The fissures caused by this principle, if the seed be scattered on the surface of a late snow, will receive and cover it so that its germination will be very certain, but on land liable to wash, this method is not practicable. It should also be remarked, that the climate of England is much more moist than ours, and that consequently, seed sown near the surface would not be so likely to fail from lack of moisture, during the germinating period, as with us where a few days of drying sun and wind leaves the surface almost wholly destitute of water. That seed is lost from being sunk too far below the surface, as much of it must be when covered with the harrow, I have not the slightest doubt.

A NEW ENGLANDER.
Near Claremont, N. H., Jan. 4, 1854.
NOTE.--In Pennsylvania, the almost universal mode of putting down clover seed, is to sow the seed upon the winter wheat, in February and March. If there is a slight snow upon the ground the better. The porous nature of the ground at this season, by the action of the frost, together with the accompanying moisture, carry the seed into the soil a sufficient depth for all the purposes of germination. Nowhere are there more luxuriant crops of clover produced than in this State.

Raising Blood

And Consumption, pain in the side and night sweats, Asthma, Whooping Cough, palpitation of the heart, Liver complaint, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat, lungs and liver cured by Sherman's All-Healing Balm.

RAISING BLOOD & CONSUMPTION

Mr. Mine, Builder, in Brooklyn, was attacked with raising blood, followed by a cough, pain in the side, and all the usual symptoms of consumption. He employed two of the best physicians; they did him no good, and told him he could not live.

Hearing of the wonderful cures performed by Sherman's Balm, he sent at 10 o'clock at night to Mrs. Hayes, 136 Fulton street, and got a bottle; it operated like a charm, stopped the bleeding and cough! Before he had taken one bottle he was able to be about his work. It had saved his life. His daughter, residing at 137 Myrtle Avenue, can attest it.

Miss Ann Maston, of Williamsburg living in Tenth, near South Fourth st., says--That she had been troubled with a hacking cough, and pain in the chest, for a long time, which at last became so bad that she was obliged to give up her school for more than a year. She then commenced taking the All-Healing Balm--which soon alleviated her symptoms. She is now fast recovering, and has resumed her laborious occupations as a teacher.

14 years Mr. John O'Neil, 10th avenue and 21st street, suffered with a cough, raising of phlegm, and pain in his side. He could get no relief till he tried the All-Healing Balm, which drove the pain from his side, allayed the cough, and brought the disease upon the surface; and before he had taken three bottles, was entirely cured.

PLEURISY AND CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. Bagdas, a lady upwards of 70, residing 88 Sheriff street, has for years been subject to attacks of Pleurisy, Raising of Blood, severe Cough, Shortness of Breath, Pain in her Head and various parts of her body. Her friends believed past recovery. The All-Healing Balm relieved her at once of all her alarming symptoms, and now she is able to attend to her work.

ASTHMA AND WHOOPING COUGH.

Mrs. Burettia Wells, 95 Christie st.; L. S. Beals, 19 Delancy street; W. H. Youngs, 85 Walnut st.; know the value of this great remedy.

Ask for Sherman's All-Healing Balm, and see that his written signature is on each bottle.

5000 CHALLENGE.

Whatever concerns the happiness and health of a people is at all times of the most valuable importance. I take it for granted that every person will do all in their power, to save the lives of their children, and that every person will endeavor to promote their own health at all sacrifices. I feel it to be my duty to solemnly assure you that worms, according to the opinion of the most celebrated Physicians, are the primary cause of a large majority of diseases to which children and adults are liable; if you have an appetite continually chargeable from one kind of food to another, Bad Breath, Pain in the Stomach, Picking at the Nose, Hardness and Fullness of the Belly, Dry Cough, Slow Fever, Pulse Irregular--remember that all these denote worms, and you should at once apply the remedy:--

Hobensack's worm Syrup.

An article founded upon Scientific Principles, compounded with purely vegetable substances, being perfectly safe when taken, & can be given to the most tender Infant with decided beneficial effect, where Bowel Complaints and Diarrhea have made them weak and debilitated, the Tonic properties of my Worm Syrup are such, that it stands with out an equal in the catalogue of medicines, in giving tone and strength to the Stomach, which makes it an infallible remedy for those afflicted with Despepsia, the astonishing cures performed by this Syrup after Physicians have failed, is the best evidence of its superior efficacy over all others.

The Tape Worm!

This is the most difficult Worm to
