Deep Plowing.
We must again urge upon our readers the great importance of deep plowing in the first breaking up of their ground for corn. We hear it often said that it is better to plow shallow for corn, and go deeper for wheat and clover, but we have seldom found this to be done, if a proper depth was not obtained in the first breaking up of the sod.

In nearly every section of the country there will be found farms where the soil has not been stirred, since the forest was cleared, deeper than three to five inches the latter depth being considered an extreme. We know of one case where a farmer threatened to whip a lad about 16, who was his plowman, all around the field, if he was able to detect the least evidence of overturned yellow clay when the plowing was finished.

The consequence of this unreasonable practice has been to restrict the supplies of food for crops to a given and limited portion of soil, and by a continued practice of cropping for a long series of years to exhaust this of the necessary inorganic elements which enter more or less into the constitution of plants, and are as indispensable to their healthy growth as air, light or heat. A friend of ours, near Philadelphia, raised last season one of the best crops of oats in his township, by simply plowing six inches deeper, on an old, worn out and neglected field, than the plow had ever before gone without any manner. Our friends in the South are often ridiculed for their wasteful habits of farming, and disposition to have their lands worn out by improvident culture, and commence again their system of exhaustion on a new soil. The sons of many of our Northern farmers are guilty of the same thing, and consider farming will not pay when their crops are yearly diminishing, chiefly for want of going a trifle deeper with the plow. There is literally a waste of wealth every three inches or two below the depth of our ordinary plowing, and which only needs turning up to the influence of sun and air to be immediately available. Another very important advantage is, that by a greater depth of soil you counteract the effects of a too dry season, or a too wet one. In the one case, the roots have a chance to penetrate in search of moisture, and in the other, the excess of water has an opportunity to pass off, and not stagnate about the roots of plants.

Subsoil, double Michigan, and deep mould board plows, are more sought for the present spring than we ever recollect to have known, and we hail it as one of the very best signs of the times. The reason and common sense of the thing are too obvious to escape the attention of the intelligent farmer. While we willingly admit that a cold subsoil turned up to the sun for the first time, may not be immediately favorable to the quick germination and early growth of seeds, we also say that the remedy is most obvious. In the present era of fertilizers, a very trifling expense for super-phosphate of lime, guano or podrette, to each hill of corn, will stimulate its early growth, till the roots are able to push down in search of food. We have repeatedly seen and known corn planted on contiguous farms the same season, on shallow and deeply plowed land, where no stimulants was applied to the hill although on the former the corn appeared to have the advantage for the first few weeks, it has been invariably excelled by the latter before the season was over; both in quality of product and appearance. We hope where farmers are dubious on the subject, they may be induced to try part of a field, by attaching an extra pair of horses or oxen to the plow, and letting it sink 8 or 10 inches, and then give us the comparative results next fall.—Farm Journal.

To keep Birds from picking Fruit.
As the season is coming on for the depredations of birds, I beg to report my experience of last year, when I saved my cherries by hanging up several pieces of tin with strong thread in the different trees, two pieces being hung near enough together to clash with the wind, which sound, with the bright reflection of the tin in the sun, certainly frightened them away, and I had my due share of fruit, which, the preceding year, I was obliged to relinquish to them. So says a New Jersey farmer.

DR. J. LANTZ, DENTIST.

Has permanently located himself in Stroudsburg, and moved his office next door to Dr. S. Walton, and nearly opposite S. Melick's Jewellery store, where he is fully prepared to treat the natural teeth, and also to insert incorruptible artificial teeth on pivot and plate, in the latest and most improved manner. Most persons know the danger and folly of trusting their work to the ignorant as well as the traveling dentist. It matters not how much experience a person may have, he is liable to have some failures out of a number of cases, and if the dentist lives at a distance, it is frequently put off until it is too late to save the tooth or teeth as it may be, otherwise the inconvenience and trouble of going so far.—Hence the necessity of obtaining the services of a dentist near home. All work warranted.

BOOKS AND STATIONARY, FOR CASH ONLY.
The amount of goods in our line purchased by country merchants is usually quite small compared with their dry goods, hardware, and other bills, and this very circumstance absolutely compels jobbers in the book business, who sell on time, to get larger profits in order to make up for the losses and extra expenses necessarily involved in a credit business of small amounts. It is also easy for the merchant to make arrangements to buy his book bill for cash; though it might not be so convenient for him to purchase his larger bills in this way.
These considerations have led us to adopt in our business, from this date, January, 1854, the following principles, viz. SMALL PROFITS, UNVARYING PRICES AND TERMS ALWAYS CASH.
Being ourselves the sole publishers of a number of the leading and most extensively selling School Books in the country, as well as works in other departments, our facilities are unsurpassed.
Call upon us, or send an order, and judge for yourselves, if the saving you can make by buying of us for cash is worth while.
Our location is very central, and easily found. Stand on the Astor house steps, and look straight forward across the corner of the Park, and you cannot avoid seeing our signs.

Raising Blood

And Consumption, pain in the side and night sweats, Asthma, Whooping Cough, palpitation of the heart, Liver complaint, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat, lungs and liver cured by Sherman's All-Healing Balm.

RAISING BLOOD & CONSUMPTION

Mr. Mize, Builder, in Brooklyn, was attacked with raising blood, followed by a cough, pain in the side, and all the usual symptoms of consumption. He consulted two of the best physicians; they did him no good, and told him he could not live.
Hearing of the wonderful cures performed by Sherman's Balm, he sent at 10 o'clock at night to Mrs. Hayes, 136 Fulton street, and got a bottle; it operated like a charm, stopped the bleeding and cough! Before he had taken one bottle he was able to be about his work. It had saved his life. His daughter, residing at 127 Myrtle Avenue, can attest it.
Miss Ann Maston, of Williamsburg living in Tenth, near South Fourth st., says—That she had been troubled with a hacking cough, and pain in the chest, for a long time, which at last became so bad that she was obliged to give up her school for more than a year. She then commenced taking the All-Healing Balm—which soon alleviated her symptoms. She is now fast recovering, and has resumed her laborious occupation as a teacher.
14 years Mr. John O'Neil, 10th avenue and 21st street, suffered with a cough, raising of phlegm, and pain in his side. He could get no relief til he tried the All-Healing Balm, which drove the pain from his side, allayed the cough, and brought the disease upon the surface; and before he had taken three bottles, was entirely cured.
PLEURISY AND CONSUMPTION.
Mrs. Baggs, a lady upwards of 70, residing 88 Sheriff street, has for years been subject to attacks of Pleurisy, Raising of Blood, severe Cough, Shortness of Breath, Pain in her Head and various parts of her body. Her friends believed past recovery. The All-Healing Balm relieved her at once of all her alarming symptoms, and now she is able to attend to her work.
ASTHMA AND WHOOPING COUGH.
Mrs. Lucretia Wells, 95 Christie st.; L. S. Beals, 19 Delancy street; W. H. Youngs, 75 Walnut st.; know the value of this great remedy.
Ask for Sherman's All-Healing Balm, and see that his written signature is on each bottle.
Price 25 cents and $1 per bottle.
