

Agricultural.

The People's Journal Vol. 11, No. 2, for the current month, contains much interesting matter for the farmer, mechanic, and inventor; and is handsomely illustrated with numerous wood cuts. It is published by A. E. BEACH, 86 Nassau-st. New York, at $1.00 a year. We copy from the number before us the following items:

Improved Mowing Machine.—A new mowing machine has been invented by Messrs. Wilson & More, of Bucks County Pa., which is much more simple in all its parts than any machine for the purpose we have seen. Should it be found to work well in practice, it will prove a great acquisition to agriculturists, for we judge it can be made and sold at about half the cost of any mowing machine now in market.

Cure for Scratches.—Mix 1 oz. chloride of lime and 1 quart of water; wash the parts well; after which apply white lead ground in oil. This has never failed to cure.

Cure for Scurvy.—Seeing in a late number of your valuable journal a receipt for the removal of cure of scurvy, I having had some experience with lameness of that kind in the horse, would cheerfully communicate the same to the reading public through the people's Journal. When I became fully satisfied of the sort of lameness, I simmer together equal parts of hog's lard and spirits of turpentine, and as hot as practicable, apply it to the shoulder, and bathe it thoroughly with a charging iron. This should be applied every other morning for six days, (be careful and not burn the horse, for this would cause inflammation) then apply some healing liniment until the horse is well. This process I have never known to fail. The obstinate cases yield to it in a very few weeks. A. A. WHITTEMORE.

Alcohol for Burns.—A correspondent informs us that he has used alcohol for scalds, burns, or frozen limbs, with great success. He thinks it superior to oil and lint, on burns, and says that its application is as salutary as water to a thirsty man, that all pain instantly ceases, and that the healing is accomplished speedily in many cases without leaving a scar.

Time for Cutting Hay.
A Chester county correspondent contributes to the pages of the Farm Journal, the following timely article, which is worthy the attention of practical agriculturists:—

The practice among farmers of permitting grass to stand in most cases until the seeds are formed, and not infrequently until they are ripe, has become so general that it seems almost folly to question its correctness; but it is manifestly at variance with reason and analogy, and with the experience of those who have thoroughly tested the merits of early hay and late hay, that it may be worth an effort to arrest the popular custom.

Science has long since incontestably demonstrated that plants, in arriving at maturity, have large quantities of their starch, sugar, and gum—their most nutritive elements—converted into woody fibre, which contains comparatively very little nutriment.

Experience has proved that cattle will thrive on hay cut before the seeds were formed, while the same cattle when fed on large quantities of the same kind of hay, but cut after the seeds were ripe, required the addition of grain to "keep them up."

Again: When the experiments of making sugar from corn stalks were being tried, some years ago, it was found that, to retain the saccharine matter in the stalks, the ear shoots had to be stripped off as soon as they made their appearance, or they became worthless. The moment the ears or seed commenced forming, the starch, gum and sugar left the stalk and became concentrated in the grain, and of course the stalks, to the sugar maker, were valueless. This observation and reason has told man. The instinct of an animal, an unerring guide as to what is best suited to their wants, leads them to prefer the early to the late cut hay, as every observing farmer is aware. Even when there is pasture, they invariably leave the ripe stalks, and eat only the younger shoots, although they may have to pick it blade by blade, and are compelled to be constantly feeding to get a sufficient quantity, while the ripe grass stands thick, affording abundance in quantity.

The proper time to cut grass, I repeat, is when the heads begin to bloom. It will not make as much hay, but an acre thus cut is much more nutritious, and will go further in keeping stock, than if left for the seeds to ripen. Any one who will try this experiment, will never again leave it to ripen, although by so doing he may save himself some trouble in the making.

In China, if a young man is not married by the time he is twenty, he is drummed out of town. No place for bachelors among the fun-funs.

WHOLESALE BOOK AND STATIONARY HOUSE
IN NEW YORK
ON THE CASH PLAN:
EXTENSIVE SALES AND NO LOSSES,
Make it profitable to sell at very Low Prices.
MASON BROTHERS,
23 Park Row opposite the Astor House N. Y.
Offer one of the most extensive Stocks and complete assortments in the country of
BOOKS AND STATIONARY, FOR CASH ONLY.
The Amount of goods in our line purchased by country merchants is usually quite small compared with their dry goods, hardware, and other bills, and this very circumstance absolutely compels jobbers in the book business, who sell on time, to get larger profits in order to make up for the losses and extra expenses necessarily involved in a credit business of small amounts. It is also easy for the merchant to make arrangements to buy his book bill for cash; though it might not be so convenient for him to purchase his larger bills in this way.
These considerations have led us to adopt in our business, from this date, January, 1854, the following principles, viz. SMALL PROFITS, UNVARYING PRICES AND TERMS ALWAYS CASH.
Being ourselves the sole publishers of a number of the leading and most extensively selling School Books in the country, as well as works in other departments, our facilities are unsurpassed.
Call upon us, or send an order, and judge for yourselves, if the saving you can make by buying of us for cash is worth while.
Our location is very central, and easily found. Stand on the Astor house steps, and look straight forward across the corner of the Park, and you cannot avoid seeing our signs.
REMEMBER THE NAME IN MASON BROTHERS.
