FAIRS AND FESTIVALS.

We have hesitated somewhat before handing the following cariacture, on a growing custom, to the printer. But it is not more ridiculous than some things we have seen connected with attempts to raise the wind, and so it' is voted to "appear."

Hannah, an aunt of ours, lived out of

"Did I never tell you what a time I had at our church last winter?" said she to me one evening.

"No! What of it?" "Now, ain't that strange ! Thought I had told everybody about it, to be sure. La, well, 'twill be news to you, then !-You know Nora Thorndale, Judge Thornhouse, and said our congregation were going to have a fair in the village meet-preach ?" "O!" said she, mighty smiling, "we ain't goin' to have preachin'. A few young persons of the congregation, who seem to take a deeper interest in the church's welfare than the members themselves, desire to purchase a few indispensable articles for the meetin' house : and we thought if all the church would present us cakes and pies, and meats and such things, we would appoint a night to sell them in the vestry of the church, and take the proceeds to buy the necessary things. The plan is well received, especially by the young. Yo know the money is to be spent for charitable purposes, and on that account everything given us will sell for double its value."

Mr. Hunter replied : "That is a question I cannot answer. I am not authorized to answer for Virginia." On being reminded by Mr. Baker that he had not been asked about Virginia, but about his own readiness to support the Government and the laws, Mr. Hunter declined to reply, saying, "It the gentleman is not satisfied, I cannot satsify him." This evasion on the part of the Virginia Senator strikingly illustrates the spirit that now governs the slaveholders. They are determined on rebellion, and no concessions, not even amendments to the Constitution dictated by themselves, will satisfy them.
