Secession---War.

The rebellious movement is every day developing itself more plainly. The rebels boldly and defiantly plant themselves with men at their posts before the orders at the Federal Capitol, threatening to could be given them to prepare for action. seize Washington and the archieves, or National public records, and, as it were, to turn the North out of the Union .-Vice President Breckinridge turns out to the ship channel inside the bar, and probe a traitor in full communion with the rebels, be being deluded with the idea of being made President of the Southern Confederacy.
