

An Oddity of the Last Century.

The editor of a recent edition of Lady Mary Wortley Montague's Letters gives the following account of the Earl of Pembroke, a great oddity of a hundred years ago:

"Marrying for the third time at seventy-five, he maintained strict dominion over a wife, whom other people thought safely arrived at years of discretion, and quite fit to take care of herself. She had leave to visit in an evening, but must never, on account, stay out a minute later than ten o'clock, his supper hour—One night, however, she stayed till past twelve. He declined supping, telling the servants it could not be ten o'clock, as their lady was not come home. When at last she came in a terrible fright and began making a thousand apologies, 'My dear,' said he, very coolly, 'you are under a mistake, it is but just ten; your watch, I see, goes too fast, and so does mine; we must have the man to-morrow to set them to rights, meanwhile, let us go to supper.'

His example on another occasion might be worth following. Of all the Medea and Persian laws established in his house, the most peremptory was, that any servant who once got drunk should be instantly discharged, no pardon granted, no excuse listened to. Yet an old footman, who had lived with him many years, would sometimes indulge in a pot of ale extraordinary, trusting to the willful blindness which he saw assumed when convenient. One fatal day even this could not avail. As my lord crossed the hall, John appeared in full view; not rather tipsy, or a little disguised, but dead drunk, and unable to stand, Lord Pembroke went up to him: 'My poor fellow, what ails you? you seem dreadfully ill—let me feel your pulse. God bless us, he is in a raging fever; get him to bed directly, and send for the apothecary.' The apothecary came, not to be consulted, for his lordship was physician-general in his own family, but to obey orders—'to bleed the patient copiously, clap a huge blister on his back, and give him a powerful dose of physic. After a few days of this treatment, when the fellow emerged weak and wan as the severest illness could have left him, 'Hah, honest John,' cried his master, 'I am truly glad to see thee alive; you have had a wonderful escape though, and ought to be thankful indeed. Why, man, if I had not passed by and spied the condition you were in, you would have been dead before now. But John! John!' (lifting up his finger,) 'no more of these fevers.'

Dissection in the North. The Hon. John C. Breckinridge, who has just arrived here informs us that he had reliable information from some of his especial friends in Berks county, Pennsylvania, that a large number of the citizens of that county are in heart affliction, and that if he managed properly he could raise a regiment to march under his command—that the fact of their late ticket forwarded for county officers being nearly all his friends, is strong proof that such a regiment might be raised.—Richmond Inquirer.

Honorable Conduct of the Snake Indians. Great Salt Lake City, Oct. 27.—Wash Koe, the Chief the Snake Indians, arrived here to day with a band of Indians, and returned to Mr. Browley, the Agent of the Overland Mail Company, a number of horses and mules stolen from the Bear River station by the Bauncock Indians, he having captured them from that tribe.

This is the old Chief's first visit to this place. He received suitable presents for his exploit, and is being well entertained during his stay. He is the best friend the whites have in this vicinity, and were it not for him, great depredations upon the whites would constantly be committed.

A Secessionist Mobbed. Boston, Monday, Oct. 28, 1861. A. T. Pratt, of Braintree, who expressed strong secession remarks at a late Democratic Convention at Dedham, was to day ridden on a rail by several of his town's people.

All woolen factories in the country are now working as hard as they can; and many of the cotton factories are changing their machinery to make woolen goods. The machine shops cannot make machinery fast enough to supply the demand, nor does the country produce a proper supply of wool.

Another New Counterfeit.—New counterfeits appear to multiply at the present time with great rapidity. Counterfeit 5's on the Allegheny Bank of Pittsburg, Pa., have been circulated in Philadelphia and elsewhere for the last few days. These counterfeits are admirable imitations, and well calculated to deceive, so our readers had better keep a sharp look out for them.

Attempt to run the Blockade.—On the 20th inst., off Wilmington, N. C., the Gembeck captured the English brig Ariel from Liverpool, loaded ostensibly with salt, while attempting to get into that place, after her papers had been indorsed by the Sabine off Georgetown. The Commander admits that it was his intention to get into Wilmington if he could.

A Philosophical Editor thus logically judges his delinquents: "We don't want money desperately bad, but our creditors do, and no doubt they owe you. If you pay us, we'll pay them, and they'll pay you. We hope all our friends will try to collect their outstanding accounts in that way."

That "chain of reasoning" is perfect!

A. Joy, who has the care of the town farm in Deerfield, Mass., has a turkey that commenced laying on the 15th of April, and has since laid 164 eggs.

A lady in Michigan, consoling her neighbor for the loss of her son, was answered in tears. "If Billy's grandmother is in Heaven, I know she will not see Billy abused."

The Maiden's Soliloquy.

BY THE BARD OF THE EASTON HALL OF FASHION. I really fear I'm destined To live alone and free:— Of all the men who grace the earth, Not one seems made for me.

Friends say that I was fastidious: Walking through the brake I passed "Many stately reeds," and now must take "A crooked stick at last."

There was Mr. Smith, the merchant, Some years ago, they said, Would have deemed himself a happy man, Could he with me have wed.

But I, like many others, Stood in my own best light— Refused a good man, just because His eyes and hair were light.

Later in life, a widower With marriage offer came— He was good, agreeable and rich, But Wiggins was his name,

Friends urged acceptance of his suit, Were vexed with my reply: Rather than be Dame Wiggins called, An old maid I would die.

Well! if I was particular, I'm none the less so now: 'Tis not to wealth, or station, that My maiden heart will bow.

When in integrity's rough path, Walking erect and free, I see a man "I wish that Heaven Had made just such for me."

Should such e'er offer, be assured I'd meet him with a smile: (Particularly if he's dressed In clothing made by Pyle.)

A splendid assortment of Fall and Winter Clothing, at Pyle's Hall of Fashion, opposite the old Easton Bank.

Making a Devil.

Rev. Mr. Foster was a facetious man, and usually ready at a joke and repartee. He had a prisoner, a carpenter by trade, pretty well stocked with ready wit, and withal somewhat given to boasting. One day while at work for his minister hewing a stick of timber, the carpenter was boasting, in his usual style, of the marvels that he could perform. The pastor, to put an extinguisher on him, said: "Governor," (his nickname,) "do you think you could make a devil?" "Make a devil!" responded the Governor, "why, yes, old' yes," (his broad axe moving a little rapidly.) "Here, put up your foot. You want the least alteration of any man I ever saw!"

It was seldom that the minister came off second best in an encounter of this character, but he did this time.

Things that I have Seen.

I have seen a farmer build a house so large and fine that the sheriff turned him out of doors.

I have seen a young man sell a good farm, turn merchant, break, and die in an insane hospital.

I have seen a farmer travel about so much that there was nothing at home worth looking after.

I have seen a rich man's son begin where his father left off—wealthy; and end where his father began—penurious.

I have seen a worthy farmer's son idle away years of the prime of his life in dissipation, and end his career in the poor house.

I have seen the disobedience of a son "bring down the gray hairs of his father to the grave."

The amount of grain, including grain reduced to flour, shipped from Chicago during the month of September, amounts to 8,450,000 bushels. This is the largest quantity of grain ever shipped from Chicago in any single month, the excess being about 2,000,000 bushels.

Slight Misapprehension.

The propriety of selecting officers of the same nationality to command troops who do not fully understand our language, is fairly illustrated in the case of a German belonging to one of our regiments, who had been detailed to guard duty.

"Sentinel," said the officer of the day, "your duty at this place is to salute all officers according to their rank, to keep fire from approaching the magazine, and in case the enemy appears, you are to discharge your musket and run to the camp. Do you understand?"

"Yes, Lieutenant," replied the worthy German.

It appeared, a little later, on being questioned, that he understood he had been instructed "to shoot all officers of rank, and then set fire to the magazine; and if he saw an enemy to run away."

One Family's Quota for the War.

Six of the seven sons of Mrs. Anne Williamson, residing at Paterson, have left to join the national army; the seventh has announced his purpose to follow within a month. The Guardian says:

We visited the old lady, and she informed us if she had six more she would rejoice to give them up at the demand of her country. She says if her husband were living, he would also have gone, and if he got short of men she was willing to go herself.

An Unaccommodating Highlander.

At the battle of Waterloo, a Frenchman who could speak a little English cried out, "Quarter, quarter!" to one of the forty-second Highlanders. "The do'll my quarter ye for me," was the reply, "I ha' use time to quarter ye, ye man; e'en be content to be cut in twa;" and he suited the action to the word.

There was a slight fall of snow at Troy, N. Y., on the 23d inst.

A remarkable instance of rebel shamelessness and proclivity to stealing was manifested in Bishop General Polk's recent communication proposing an exchange of prisoners. That communication was actually written on a sheet of Congress letter paper, with an engraving of the capital at Washington and the Union arms stamped upon it, with thirty-three stars, and was part of the plunder with which some traitor Senator or Congressman had filled his trunk before leaving for the regions of secession. It was not enough for them to steal navy yards, and ships, and crinoline, and Indian tongs, and custom houses, and rifles, but they actually descended to the meanness of pilfering stationary and paper cutters, and pen wipers. So much for the honor of Southern chivalry.

A single firm in Philadelphia employs 2,150 hands in the manufacture of shirts and drawers for the army. Six mills are required to furnish the necessary supply of flannel.

AYER'S PILLS

Are curing the Sick to an extent never before known of any Medicine.

INVALIDS, READ AND JUDGE FOR YOURSELVES.

JULIUS HAVEL, Esq., the well known performer, of Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, whose choice products are found at almost every hotel, says: "I am happy to say of your CATHARTIC PILLS, that I have found them a better family medicine, for common use, than any other within my knowledge. Many of my friends have realized marked benefits from them, and convince me in believing that they possess extraordinary virtues for driving out disease and curing the sick. They are not only effectual, but safe and pleasant to be taken—qualities which must make them valued by the public, when they are known."

The venerable Chancellor WARDELL writes from Baltimore, 15th April, 1854: "Dr. J. C. Ayer—Sir: I have taken your Pills with great benefit for the biliousness, languor, loss of appetite, and Bilious headache, which has late years overtaken me in the spring. A few doses of your Pills cured me. I have used your Cherry Pectoral many years in my family for coughs and colds with untiring success. You make medicines which cure; and I feel it a pleasure to commend them for the good you have done and are doing."

JOHN F. BEATTY, Esq., Sec. of the Penn. Railroad Co., says: "Pa. R. R. Office, Philadelphia, Dec. 12, 1853. "Sir: I take pleasure in adding my testimony to the efficacy of your medicines, having derived very material benefit from the use of both your Pectoral and Cathartic Pills. I am never without them in my family, nor shall I ever consent to be, while my means will procure them."

The widely renowned S. S. STEVENS, M. D., of West-Port, N. H., writes: "Having used your CATHARTIC PILLS in my practice, I certify from experience that they are an invaluable purgative in cases of disordered functions of the liver, causing headache, indigestion, costiveness, and the great variety of diseases that follow, they are a sure remedy than any other. In all cases where a purgative remedy is required, I confidently recommend these Pills to the public, as superior to any other I have ever found. They are safe in their operation, and perfectly safe—qualities which make them an invaluable article for public use. I have for many years known your Cherry Pectoral as the best Cough medicine in the world; and these Pills are in no wise inferior to that admirable preparation for the treatment of diseases."

"Acton, Me., Nov. 25, 1853. "Dr. J. C. Ayer—Dear Sir: I have been afflicted from my birth with scrofula, in its worst form, and now, after twenty years trial, and an entire loss of my sight, have been completely cured in a few weeks by your Pills. With what feelings of rejoicing I write can only be imagined when you realize what I have suffered, and how long.

Never until now have I been free from this loathsome disease in its shape. At times it attacked my eyes, and made me almost blind, besides the unendurable pain; at others it settled in the scalp of my head, and destroyed my hair, and has kept me nearly bald all my life; sometimes it came out in my face, and kept it for months a raw sore. About nine weeks ago I commenced taking your Cathartic Pills, and now an entirely new man, my sight is restored. My eyes are well, my skin is fair, and my hair has commenced a healthy growth; all of which makes me feel as if I were a new man."

"Hoping this statement may be the means of conveying information that shall do good to others, I am, with every sentiment of gratitude, Yours respectfully, MARIA RICKER."

"I have known the above named Maria Ricker from her childhood, and her statement is strictly true. ANDREW J. MESERVE, Overseer of the Portsmouth Manufacturing Co."

Capt. JOEL PRATT, of the ship Marion, writes from New York, 20th April, 1854: "Your Pills have cured me from a bilious attack which arose from derangement of the Liver, which had become very severe, and kept me nearly blind, and rendered me almost insensible. I have since used your Pills, and from every remedy I could try; but a few doses of your Pills have completely restored me to health. I have since used your Pills for various ailments, and the effects. They were promptly cured. I recommended them to a friend for costiveness, which had troubled him for months; he had me in a few days they had cured him. You make the best medicine in the world; and I am free to say so."

Read this from the distinguished Solicitor of the Supreme Court, Ohio: "Your Pills have cured me from a bilious attack which arose from derangement of the Liver, which had become very severe, and kept me nearly blind, and rendered me almost insensible. I have since used your Pills, and from every remedy I could try; but a few doses of your Pills have completely restored me to health. I have since used your Pills for various ailments, and the effects. They were promptly cured. I recommended them to a friend for costiveness, which had troubled him for months; he had me in a few days they had cured him. You make the best medicine in the world; and I am free to say so."

"The above are all from persons who are publicly known where they reside, and who would not make these statements without a thorough conviction that they were true. Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass. Sold in Stroudsburg, by Jas. N. Durling, and Hollin-head & D-trick. October 31 1861.—ly.

MADISON HOUSE.

Nos. 37 & 39 North Second Street, Above Market, Philadelphia. The subscribers (formerly of the BARLEY SHEAF HOTEL) have leased the above named well established stand, and from former experience and a determination to be unremitting in assiduity to make our guests welcome and comfortable, especially solicit not only our former customers, but the public in general, to patronise our establishment. Our accommodations being more convenient and extensive, we can furnish comforts to our patrons, not formerly in our power, and at equally reasonable prices. There being a well furnished RESTAURANT and good Stabling attached, we confidently hope for an increased public patronage. M. WATSON, T. P. WATSON. October 3, 1861.—3m.

M. and 2 o'clock P. M. The annual meeting of Stockholders will be held at the same place on Tuesday, Nov. 5, at 10 o'clock, A. M. J. H. STROUD, Cashier, October 17, 1861.

CATHARTIC PILLS

(OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood, and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of these virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of fraud. They certify: see published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring. Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure. For COSTIVENESS.—Take one or two Pills, 60 such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a cative habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, belching, and sourness of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

FOR A FOUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

FOR NEURVOSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

FOR SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health. Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing.

TO PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections, arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstruction of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces Jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhoea, prevails. Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow; the stomach aches; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers, are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has become more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.
