A Fifty Thousand Dollar Reward.

In 1858, a gentleman, walking on the outer end of Meigg's wharf, had his hat blown off his head by a summer afternoon gust of wind, and, in brying to catch it before it went overboard, he tripped on the planking and tumbled head foremost into the waters of the bay. The tide was running a strong flood a the time, and, as he came up to the surface, Special Officer Van Ness, who happened to be on the dock at the time, and seeing the man was in danger of drowning-not being a swimmer-plunged in after him and rescued him from death .-This was not accomplished without great peril to the officer, but both men succeeded in being landed on the dock. The rescued man gave his name as Charles Bernard Egerson, and offered to handsomely reward him, but Mr. Van Ness refused to accept anything for his humane act. A short time since Mr. Egerson died in Liverpool, and left Officer Van Ness a legacy of $50,000 .- Alta California.
