Arrest of Counterfeiters. The Pittsburgh Chronicle, of Dec. 29th, says: One of the most important arrests of counterfeiters which has been made in this State was effected in Erie on Monday, through the efforts of Detectives Cooley and Whitney of Erie. The arrest embraces five of the gang, who were located in New York, and the seizure of $28,000 in counterfeit Treasury notes.

According to the statement of the messenger, while he was passing the corner of Beekman and William sts., at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, two men in a wagon suddenly halted at his side. One of them sprang out, struck him a stunning blow in the face, at the same time menacing him with a pistol, the muzzle of which he clapped against his breast.

The letter ruse having proved so successful the detectives determined to resort to it again. They accordingly took advantage of the accident to the train above referred to, and proceeded at once to Buffalo. On their arrival there they addressed a letter to the three remaining members of the gang, purporting to have been written by Sowles, in which they were informed that the "chief" had his leg broken by the accident to the train, and that he was at a hotel unable to be moved.

The skill and energy displayed by Messrs. Cooley and Whitney in their operations reflect the highest credit upon them. The result of their operations was the arrest of Sowles and Hale, and three others, whose names we did not ascertain, and the seizure of $28,000 in counterfeit money.

Audacious Robbery.—$70,000 Stolen of a Bank Messenger. One of the boldest robberies that has come under our notice recently occurred on Friday morning, at 9 o'clock, on the corner of Beekman and William sts., in the presence of large numbers of street passengers, and almost under the very noses of the police authorities themselves.

According to the statement of the messenger, while he was passing the corner of Beekman and William sts., at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, two men in a wagon suddenly halted at his side. One of them sprang out, struck him a stunning blow in the face, at the same time menacing him with a pistol, the muzzle of which he clapped against his breast.

The above account is the substance of what he said, and, though wearing an air of improbability at first, there can be little question of its truth. The amount stolen is variously stated. One of the officers of the Bank to which the messenger belongs stated at the Police Station that the package contained $11,000 in currency and $70,000 in checks; but the cashier of the same Bank subsequently modified the amount in checks to $7,000.

Counterfeit Fractional Currency. Captain Franklin, of the United States Treasury Department, has detected a new twenty-five cent fractional currency note. The Bucks County Intelligencer, of the 23d inst., says: Eli Lear, of Upper Makefield, slaughtered a spring pig 11 months old on Wednesday last, which weighed 504 pounds when dressed. It measured 5 feet 11 inches in length from the root of the tail to the end of the nose, and 7 feet around it after being killed. We think this hard to beat.

A Chicago paper says that those who are in possession of the Lincoln medalion, sold for the benefit of the late Northwestern Sanitary Fair, will examine it closely, they will discover that by a strange coincidence a line made by an accidental crack in the die marks the exact course of the bullet which deprived the President of his life.
