

The Jeffersonian, THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1867.

We would call attention to the advertisement headed 'A Rare Chance.' So desirable a location, in so thriving a business place as Bethlehem, seldom offers.

E. M. Fleming, of Belvidere, New Jersey, is in want of Hickory Plank. See his advertisement in another column of to day's paper.

Thanks. We are under obligations to Gen. Barnet, the representative of this district in the Senate of Pennsylvania, for copies of the Governor's Message and the Auditor General's Report.

Conveyancing, &c. Judge De Young announces in another column, the establishment of himself in business, as a Conveyancer and General Land Agent. He will attend to the drawing up of legal papers as well as the purchase and sale of lands.

Donation Visit. The friends and congregation of the Rev. F. Hilman, will make him a donation visit, on Wednesday, the 10th inst., afternoon and evening, at the Jacksonville, M. E. Church.

Run Into. On Saturday last as the freight train of the Del. Lack. & Western Railroad, when near Henryville, was slowly puffing its way towards Scranton, a couple of cars which had become detached from a coal-train, which had preceded it, came thundering down the mountain, at a speed of some forty miles per hour.

Sad Affair. On Saturday last, as Owen, son of Rudolph Metzgar, was riding down hill, on a hand-sled, at Bartonville, the sled became unmanageable and ran into one of the horses of a team belonging to Mr. Andrew Keiser, who was passing by.

We noticed a few weeks ago the removal of Henry Shoemaker, from the Deputy Collectorship of this county, and the appointment of Mr. James A. Pauli in his stead. Knowing that Mr. S. had faithfully performed the duties of the office, and that Collector Hetrick had solemnly and repeatedly asseverated that he would not remove so faithful an officer, we were at a loss to know how it happened that he was removed.

Read the letters. They are really interesting evidences of the littleness of soul with which some men's bodies are inhabited: United States Internal Revenue, Collector's Office, 11th District, Pa., Easton, Pa. Dec. 22, 1866.

Dear Sir:—If you have any books or blanks that Mr. Pauli can use, have the goodness to hand them over to him.

The Lutheran congregation, which was organized at the Court House, in this borough, some two weeks ago, we are pleased to learn, have made rapid strides towards securing regular preaching, and the establishment of a church.

Senator Barnet paid a flying visit to his home, in this place, on Saturday last, and remained until Monday morning. He was looking well, and seemed in proper condition to meet the contest which his progressing legislative experience will reveal in his path.

It will, perhaps, be equally interesting to notice some of the larger items of expenditure to which this revenue is devoted. A few of them, ranked in the order of their magnitude, are as follows: Interest on loans $1,822,105; expenses of Government, $669,000; relief of the Chambersburg sufferers, $497,608; for charitable institutions, $174,616; common schools, $224,308; pensions and gratuities, $161,526; State Capitol and grounds, $121,785; House of Refuge, $91,500; penitentiaries, $11,085.

The revival meetings still continue. The light fingered gentry of Easton and vicinity, have recently been playing hob with the farmers of Palmer township, Northampton county. Chickens, ducks, geese, turkey, harness, blankets, and in short, almost every thing valuable and moveable mysteriously disappeared between dark and day-light, to the preconcerted convenience of the thieves, no doubt, but to the great inconvenience of the farmers.

The friends and congregation of Rev. Mr. Barrass, will make him a Donation visit, on the afternoon and evening, of the 16th inst., at the Baptist Church, in Stroud township, near the late residence of James Postea, deceased.

Notice. A course of Lectures under the auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian Church, of this borough, will be commenced on Tuesday evening, January 15th, 1867, by Rev. Geo. F. Cain, formerly pastor of this church, now of Erie, Pa.

Dear Sir:—I will cheerfully, and in justice, hereby acknowledge that your official duties while serving as Deputy Collector since my appointment as Collector of this District, were performed in an able, upright and correct manner, and that your withdrawal was not urged by me on account of any misconduct on your part.

Diabolical Outrage. One of the most inhuman outrages ever inflicted on any community, took place at a Hotel, in Kidder township, Carbon County, on the night of the 14th ult.; being neither more nor less than an aggravated committal of rape upon a daughter of Samuel Kirchner, of Polk township, in this county, by four men named Peter Hettenger, William Ackerman, Alexander Gould, and Henry Meekes.

The Monroe Democrat, came to hand last week, enlarged from a twenty-four to a twenty-eight column paper. It is now first class in size, and in spirit and the ability with which it is conducted, will rank with the best papers of its party in the State.

Revenues of Pennsylvania. It may be interesting to many readers to know from what sources the large revenue of the State of Pennsylvania is derived, now that the State taxes on real estate are abolished. Let us take a few items from one of the latest reports on this subject and place them in the order of their magnitude.

Delinquents, pay up. The trial of the thirty-two Fenians, imprisoned in Canada, commenced in Toronto on Tuesday.

Representative Ashley, of Ohio, impeaches the President. Mr. Ashley (Ohio), rising and speaking with solemn deliberation, said:— Mr. Speaker—I rise to a question of privilege. I rise to perform a painful duty, but one which, nevertheless, I feel to be imperative, a duty which I feel cannot be postponed, and cannot without great criminality on our part be longer neglected.

The Speaker—If the gentleman (Mr. Finck) insists upon it, the Chair will rule that the gentleman (Mr. Ashley) must state what his question of privilege is. Mr. Finck—I do insist on it.

Resolved. That the Committee on the Judiciary be and they are hereby authorized to inquire into the official conduct of Andrew Johnson, Vice President, discharging the powers and duties of the office President of the United States, and to report to this House whether in their opinion the said Andrew Johnson, while in said office, has not been guilty of acts which were designed or calculated to overthrow, subvert or corrupt the Government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof;

The tellers were ordered and reported—years, 75; days, 53—Mr. Bingham exerting his influence among the Republican members to vote in the negative. So the previous question was seconded and the main question was ordered, which was on agreeing to the resolution.

Some of the oil companies on the Stevens, McIntock, Story and other noted firms in Oilcrato, are shutting down their wells and discharging their hands, having come to the conclusion that the oil is worth more underground than above it, at present prices.

Heavy Turkeys. Bucks county has long been famous for raising turkeys. The lower section of the county, in particular, yearly furnishes a vast number for the Philadelphia market, and scores of people in the city, as they have enjoyed from year to year their Christmas dinner, must have felt their indebtedness to old Bucks for the means wherewith to prepare their annual festival.

GENERAL NEWS. The Danes refuse to become Prussians. Salt Lake City is infested with gamblers. Forty-five Popes have been exiled from Rome. The orthodox Jews in New York propose to erect a college.

Chicago has two rolling mills in active operation, which do $2,500,000 of business per annum. Two-thirds of the thirty thousand women in New York, who are dependent on daily labor for support, are now out of employment.

Capitalists, in St. Louis, have a plan for building a suburban town some four miles from that city. They propose to build five hundred dwellings, with a street railroad, and provide for gas and water supplies.

A lady visited Petersburg, Va., last week for the purpose of purchasing a wedding trousseau, and while there also purchased a tomb-stone to be placed over the grave of her late husband. The new love and the old.

It was requisite to bring to bear all the skill that extensive experience could suggest. The two birds were killed and dressed on Thursday last, and the Sheriff, on weighing them, found that they came fully up to his expectations, weighing considerably beyond fifty pounds. Some parties who had wagers pending on the weight of the turkeys, to satisfy themselves of the correctness of the report as to their weight, subsequently went to inspect them personally, when it was shown by unmistakable evidence that they had been shot in the neck. The heaviest turkey, which drew 55 pounds, was sold in Philadelphia the last of the week for ninety dollars, and two others, not quite so heavy, for thirty dollars each.

Special Notices. INVASION! Do you wish to have your hair cauterized from the scalp? No. Then beware of the new brood of Vitriolic and Caustic Dyes got up by nostrum-mongers, who bear the same relation to the responsible Chemist that Pirates and Privateers bear to honest merchantmen.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS. LAME BACK. New York, Nov. 23, 1859. T. ALLCOCK & Co.—Gentlemen: I lately suffered severely from a weakness in my back. Having heard your plasters much recommended for cases of this kind, I procured one, and the result was all I could desire.— A single plaster cured me in a week.

SCHENCK'S MEDICINES. TO CURE CONSUMPTION, the system must be prepared so that the lungs will heal. To accomplish this, the liver and stomach must first be cleansed and an appetite created, for good, wholesome food, which these medicines will be digested properly, and good healthy blood made; thus building up the constitution.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP is nutritious as well as medicinal, and, by using the three remedies, all impurities are expelled from the system, and good, wholesome blood made, which will reject all disease. If patients will take these medicines according to directions, Consumption very frequently in its late stage yields readily to their action.
