FINANCES.

The exhibit of the finances of the Commonwealth, as presented in the late annual message of my predecessor, and the very gratifying; and the flattering prospect of the speedy extinguishment of the debt which has been hanging, for so maby years, like a dark cloud over the prosmade in our habitual annual expenditures, will cheer the people onward in the pathway of duty.

Among the most delicate and important obligations required of those in official positions, is a strict and faithful management of the public revenues and expenditures of the Commonwealth. Taxation should be applied where its burdens may be least felt, and where it is most just that it should be borne. Every resource should be carefully husbanded, and the strictest economy practiced, so that the credit of the State shall be maintained on a firm and enduring basis and the debt surely and steadily diminished, until its final extinguishment. Unnecessary delay in this would, in my opinion, be incompatible with our true interests.

That these expectations are capable speedy and certain consummation, has al ready been demonstrated. The public improvements, the cause of our heavy debt, which seemed to he an incubus upon the prosperity of the State, so long as they were managed by her agents, have been sold ; the tax on real estate has been abolished, and considerable reductions the heartfelt sympathies and overwhelmhave already been made in the State debt.

This important branch, of the administration shall receive my constant and zealous attention.
