

Poor People and Poor Money.
In a sermon on the disadvantages of being poor, preached by Henry Ward Beecher, a short time since, occurs the following: In all the troubles and mischiefs that arise from false weights and spurious currency, it is usually the poor that suffer the most. Here is a spurious quarter of a dollar. The merchant, in whose hands it chances to be, thought less, of course, (for merchants are always honest,) passes it to the trader, and he, seeing that it does not look quite right, but not thinking it worth while to scrutinize it too closely, passes it to the grocer, and he, glancing at it and not liking the looks of it exactly, but not wishing to be over particular and saying, "I took it and must get rid of it," passes it to the market man; and he, saying "it might as well be kept travelling," passes it, as he is journeying; to the conductor; and he, knowing that it is not good, but disliking to say anything to the man, says to himself, "I will keep it, and give it to somebody else," and passes it to the sewing woman. She is poor, and a person that is poor is always watched, and when she offers it, it is discovered to be spurious, and is refused; and she looks at it and says: "It is nearly my whole day's wages; but it is counterfeit, and of course I must not pass it," and she burns it up, and so is the only honorable one among them all. Bad bills and spurious currency always settle on the poor at last.

President Johnson has pocketed the bill passed by Congress establishing universal suffrage in the territories of the United States, as well as the one repealing the power of granting amnesty and pardon to Rebels without restriction. The consequence is that the bills have become laws without his signature, he no doubt thinking it useless to waste time upon veto messages in these cases. The rule is that acts of Congress, if not returned by the President within ten days of their final passage, either with or without his approval, become laws without further formality.

"Larry," said a coquettish young lady to her cousin, prematurely bald, "why is your head like heaven?" "Don't know," "I'm sure," replied the swell, "unless it has a shining crown." "Good, but not correct. Because there is no more dyeing or parting there."

A gentleman in the springtime of life, when walking with a lady, stumbled and fell. On his resuming his perpendicular, the lady remarked, "She was sorry for his unfortunate faux pas." "I did not hurt my fore paws," said he. "I only barked my knee."

A young man out West was entrusted with the money to bring his father home a family sewing machine. He carried off a neighbors daughter to Chicago, married her and brought her home, declaring she was the best family sewing machine he could find.

"Why, doctor," said a sick lady, "you are giving me the same medicine that you are giving to my husband. Why is that?" "All right," said the doctor, "what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

Somebody says a baby laughing in its dreams is conversing with angels. Perhaps so; but we have seen them crying in their waking hours as though they were having a spat with the devil.

A man about town was lately invited to a sewing party. The next day a friend asked him how the entertainment came off. "Oh, it was very amusing," he replied, "the ladies hummed and I hawed."

A priest said to a peasant whom he considered rude, "You are better fed than taught." "Should think I was," replied the clod hopper, "as I feeds myself, and you teaches me."

Females peculiarly situated, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while in that condition lest they "invite miscarriage," after which admonition, the Proprietor assumes no responsibility, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health, otherwise the Pills are recommended as a

J. LANTZ, DENTIST.
Has permanently located himself in Stroudsburg, and moved his office next door to Dr. S. Walton, where he is fully prepared to treat the natural teeth, and also to insert incorruptible artificial teeth on pivot and plate, in the latest and most improved manner. Most persons know the danger and folly of trusting their work to the ignorant as well as the traveling dentist. It matters not how much experience a person may have, he is liable to have some failures out of a number of cases, and if the dentist lives at a distance it is frequently put off until it is too late to save the tooth or teeth as it may be, otherwise the inconvenience and trouble of going so far. Hence the necessity of obtaining the services of a dentist near home. All work warranted.
Stroudsburg, March 27, 1862.

The location is unsurpassed in the richness and variety of its surrounding scenery. Its fine valley, its beetling cliffs, and lakes imbosomed in the mountains, all combine to make it one of the most desirable places for a Boarding School. The location is healthy, and free from the corrupting influences in and near cities and large towns.

LIVERY BUSINESS.
Wm. Huntsman, Proprietor.
Having purchased the stock lately owned by Kautz and Huntsman, I take this opportunity to notify my friends and the public generally, that I have added considerable new stock to the same, and will continue the business at the old stand, on Franklin street, where I am prepared to hire horses and carriages at the lowest cash rates. My horses are safe, fast and gentle, and their vehicles consist of all kinds, to suit the taste of the fastidious. Attentive ostlers always on hand, and drivers furnished when desired. Call and see for yourselves. Strangers taken to any part of the country at short notice. They will continue to run the new omnibus between this borough and the Railroad Depot. Persons intending to go on the railroad will be called for at any part of the borough, by leaving their names at the office near the stable.—The omnibus will also be at the depot on the arrival of trains to convey passengers into town.
No pains will be spared to give satisfaction to all who may favor them with their patronage.
WILLIAM HUNTSMAN.

DR. D. D. SMITH,
Surgeon Dentist.
Dr. D. D. Smith, would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Stroudsburg and vicinity, that he has permanently located himself here, where he will be happy to wait upon all who may stand in need of his professional services. Dr. Smith has recently removed from the city, where he has had a city and country practice of over twenty years, which he thinks will enable him to do the most difficult work in his line of business. Teeth inserted from one to full set, on all kinds of metals used in the profession, and also most particularly hard rubber. Give him a call and see his specimens. Teeth extracted without pain.
