Mr. William Mutchler, of Easton, whose nomination for the Assessorship of this District we announced last week, was confirmed by the Senate on Monday last.

Persons afflicted with Rheumatism had better read the advertisement headed "Rheumatism Shorn of its Terrors," in another column. They may learn something to their advantage therein.

We have received the initial number of the Scranton City Journal, a new paper started at Scranton, Pa., by Benedict Brothers. The number before us is a fine specimen of a neat and readable paper, and if it is an index to the numbers to follow its enterprising publishers will deserve a liberal support.

The April number of Godey is already on our table. It is the same old Lady's Book—beautiful in typography, superb in its engravings, excellent in its music, surpassing all contemporaries in the quality of its reading matter, unapproachable in its fashion plates, in a word, by all odds the best magazine extant.

After being for two years the most miserable of Human beings, and after using a vast number of the thousand and one Asthmatic Remedies, and having nearly given up all hopes of obtaining Relief, I commenced using BLADE'S LUBRICATORS, and have now for four months experienced more health, sleep enjoyment than I had ever hoped for.

About the nearest snow storm of the season visited this section of country on Saturday and Sunday. It commenced on Saturday about 10 o'clock, A. M., and continued, with but slight intermission, until Sunday afternoon. About 5 o'clock, P. M., on Sunday, old Boreas took a hand at the bellows, and piled things up with a rush—making traveling unpleasant, and causing some delay in the railroad travel of Monday. About eight inches of snow fell during the storm.

To be Tried in this County. The parties implicated in the rape upon the person of Catharine Kerchner, at Hickory Run, in Carbon county, who died from the injuries received, have been remanded to this county for trial, Judge Barret deciding that Carbon county had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Painful Accident. On Saturday afternoon last, as John Adams, jr. (colored), was oiling some machinery at Merritt's (late Singmaster's) tannery, in this borough, a portion of his coat, which was very ragged, was caught by the cogs of a wheel, and his body drawn between two revolving shafts in such manner that the projecting bolts of one of the shafts ground his back and hips, cutting through the flesh, and lacerating him in a most horrid manner.

From a further glance at the advertising columns we find that men were just as patriotic, if not a little more so, in the olden time as now. The sheriff's office was, by all odds, the favorite means of serving the country. Whether this grew out of the impression that they could better aid in building up the country by pulling in pieces the fortunes of its citizens we do not know, but the anxiety manifested to make the experiment marvelous. For this office there were eleven applicants, each one of whom possessed better qualifications, and presented stronger claims, in his own estimation, than the other. Peter Snyder, of Ham-

The Olden Time. We have had, lying on our desk for some time, a relic of Stroudsburg by-gone days, in shape of a newspaper, which for real interest, is something of a head even of the steam productions of the present time. It is No. 3 of Volume 1 of "The Stroudsburg Gazette," printed in "The Stroudsburg, Northampton county, Pa., September 21, 1832, by John P. Robeson & Co."

In local news items, the number before us is very meager. A heavy thunder shower, which resulted in the destruction of George Gower's barn, and the killing of four head of cattle belonging to Mr. Lewis Linton, of Smithfield township, being all that is noted. But we must remember that the number was printed in September, on the eve of a gubernatorial, to be followed by a Presidential, election. It is not to be presumed that an editor, in those days, any more than now, could attend to "locals" when the country was to be saved.

The Gazette was emphatically Democratic, and has flying at its mast head the following ticket, which is supported with an emphasis truly refreshing.—For President, Andrew Jackson; Governor, George Wolf; Congress, David D. Wagner; Assembly, M. Robert Bantz, George Kelechner, Philip Lynn, John Westbrook. But the political waters did not run smooth in those days, and there was a strange mixture of flags flying in the breeze.

If you are troubled with Indigestion, Rising of Food, Sour Belchings, Acidity of the Stomach, or any other form of Dyspepsia, avoid all stimulating drinks which relieve only temporarily, and take COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE, which will surely afford permanent relief.

To the Pennsylvania Soldiers. The undersigned, appointed to prepare a History of the Pennsylvania Volunteer and Militia organizations, having discovered many imperfections in the muster-rolls of the companies, desires that each soldier, who served in any organization from this State, would furnish information to the following points, viz: 1. Wounds.—If wounded, give the date; in what engagement received; nature of wounds; result of wounds; nature of surgical operations, if capital, and by whom performed.

1. Complete files of all newspapers published in the State from the beginning of 1861 to the close of 1865, to be bound and permanently kept in the archives of the State. Will the publishers or any friend possessing them furnish such files?

5. Complete rolls of students and graduates of each College in the State who were in the service. 6. Card photographs (vignette) of each officer, of whatever grade, who, at any time, acted as commander of a regiment, battery or independent company, inscribed with his name, number or regiment, &c., dates of period during which he held command, with his present post-office address. The relatives of deceased officers are requested to forward the photographs of such officers inscribed as above.

Let every true son of Pennsylvania respond promptly to this call, and thereby rescue from oblivion many memorials of her patriotism and her power. SAUEL P. BATES, State Historian. DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY HISTORY, Harrisburg, Feb. 22, 1867.

Disturbance Between Soldiers and Citizens—A Serious Emute—Several Killed and Wounded. CARLISLE, March 16.—Last evening two soldiers came in town, and when near the Court House, were attacked by A. Hammitt and P. Gilmore, but neither party were hurt, and the soldiers left for the garrison.

The citizens drew revolvers and fired. A general riot ensued. The soldiers ran, and the citizens pursued. The soldiers fired back, rallied, and took position at the edge of the town.

A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft rosy complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of two-thirds she really appeared but eighteen.
