

The Jeffersonian,

TUESDAY, APRIL 18, 1867.

IMPORTANT.

Having procured one of Gordon's Fast Printing Machines, we are now fully prepared to print Bill Heads, Prescription and other Labels, Cards, Circulars, Letter Heads, Envelope Cards, Dodgers, Pamphlets, &c., &c., either in plain or colored inks, or bronze, with the greatest dispatch, and at the lowest city prices.—Our stock of Plain and Fancy Type, Paper, Cards, &c., to which we are constantly making additions, cannot be surpassed. Orders from town or country, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

LOCAL NEWS.—Our subscribers, and others living about the county are particularly requested to send in the particulars of such matters of interest as may transpire in their several localities. Marriages, deaths, accidents, changes in residence, sales of real-estate, proceedings of important meetings, new improvements, &c., are all wanted to make up a magazine of home news interesting to every body. State every thing in your own way, writing names distinctly, and we will prepare it for our columns.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania adjourned sine die on Thursday last.

See the Advertisement of Madame E. F. Thornton, the great Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrist.

Jerome B. Shaw, last week, sold his farm in Hamilton township, known as the John Bossard Farm, to Melchior Bossard, for $7,250.

Melchior Bossard, last week, sold his Farm and Tannery, recently purchased by him at the Sheriff's sale of Joseph Fenner's property, at Fennersville, to Charles Kistler, for $14,000.

The colored Methodists, of this borough, have purchased a lot of Richard Staples, on Analomink avenue, for $150. They design erecting a new church building thereon.

Barney Mausfield pays his respects to the public, through our advertising columns this week. Barney evidently means business, and it would be well for purchasers to give them a call.

Our first and fourth pages present matters worthy the attentive perusal of our readers. Even the advertisements possess an interest that would pay for the reading of them.

The Tableaux and Charade exhibitions, at the Court-House on Thursday and Friday evenings last, are said to have been very fine, and to have netted hand some sums for the church fund and the fire company.

Our thanks are due to Senator Burnett for legislative, and to the Hon. Benjamin F. Butler for congressional documents. Senator Shoemaker, of the Luzerne district, has laid us under special obligations by regularly supplying us with the Legislative Record.

Mr. Uriah Slatter is engaged in putting a second story on the dwelling, on Monroe-street, recently purchased by him at the Sheriff's sale of John N. Lee's property. The house is now but one story, and the addition will be quite an improvement.

Ecclesiastical Meeting.

The next semi-annual meeting of the Presbytery, of Newton, will be held in the Presbyterian church, of this borough, on Tuesday next, April 23rd, and will be opened by a sermon from Rev. Wm. Laurie, of Stewartville, N. J. There will be preaching on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and a Sunday school meeting on Wednesday afternoon, to all of which, as well as to all the exercises of the Presbytery, the public are cordially invited.

Something worth Knowing.

We are posting our books, and getting ready to send out bills for subscription, advertising and job work up to the 1st of April, 1867, and in a week or two will be prepared to present each one of our patrons with one of those neat little mis-sives. We give this timely notice that all who are in arrears may prepare themselves to respond with promptness. We desire to inaugurate such improvements in the Jeffersonian as will place it in a position fully up to the times, and we can do so if our patrons will respond in the same liberality of spirit which has governed us in our refraining, for so long a time, from dunning them. We detest dunning, but the largeness of our desires to have our paper, as it were, "a man among men," and the hold-back-attiveness of too many of our customers, compels to take the dose however nauseous. This is the first settlement, up to a given time, that we have ever undertaken, and we hope to be successful in it. Of the mass of our subscribers we have no cause to complain, but there are some whose accounts stand for eight, ten and fifteen years, without a solitary dollar to their credit. It is to these latter that our remarks are, and our attention in the future shall be, more particularly devoted.

Really Unkind.

After considerable digging and delving, pulling and hauling, and a world of labor generally, several of the old fossils of Pennsylvania Democracy, with Asa Packer at the head, and Hiestor Clymer at the tail, have succeeded in exhuming from the cobwebs, rubbish and solitude of Wheatland, all that remains of the old public functionary, J. B. It had been hoped that his defence of himself and of his shilly-wally administration was to have been the last of him. And so it would; but others were feeling the symptoms of that corrupt, political decay which had consigned him to merited oblivion, crawling over themselves, and in order to keep position before the public eye it was necessary that something should be done. They felt, too, that with the rapid decline of that kind of Democracy which had well nigh broken our country into fragments, and is rapidly running out, their occupation would be gone, and they be accounted as nothing beside Young America, whose spirit of genuine liberty and freedom had overrun the North, and was spreading to an alarming extent in the South. An effort must be made to stem the current; and bracing themselves to the work they made the effort, and with the aid of galvanism, and the promise of a good dinner, they have succeeded in startling the world by nerving J. B., as aforesaid, to the perpetration of one of his lettering rhapsodies. J. B. couldn't eat; but in view of their having so generously covered him with the varnish of Statesmanship, and named him "as the last of American Statesmen of the olden time," he must essay to write, and, in galvanic measure, attempt to throw clogs in the way of the progress of liberty. The old gentleman believes in nothing but the old Democracy and the old Constitution; forgetting that his own want of manhood while in the Presidency had destroyed the former, and permitted the latter to be torn into shreds and patches by his fire eating supporters. He appears to be oblivious to the fact that, through his own want of nerve, old things were permitted to be supplanted by the new order which now prevails; and that now ideas, new men, greater liberty and more exalted Statesmanship are the present distinguishing marks of the progress of events. The lash of the Southern lordling and the cry of the slave is no longer heard—Bunker Hill no longer fears the calling of slave rolls upon her summit,—the patient North no longer witnesses the writhings of a truckle democracy, whipped into the doing of the dirty work of its Southern masters; in short, every thing so plainly points out the permanent departure of the days of old foggism, that the people wonder at the impudence which attempts to force the twattlings of imbecility, as centered in J. B. and his productions, upon their understandings. When will the fossils who have thus disturbed the repose of the politically dead J. B. learn to know and accept the situation. As leaders their occupation is gone, and they may as well at once become content to devote the remainder of their days to the work of repentance over those sins of theirs which, bolstering the rebellion, so well nigh ruined us. Asa Packer, J. Glancy Jones, Hiestor Clymer, and all others of that kidney, had better peaceably make up their minds to take position which the people have so repeatedly and so emphatically assigned them—that is, on the back seats.

The lessees of the Stroudsburg Woolen Mills, the Messrs. Dostor, of Bethlehem, are busily engaged in putting the Mills in complete order, adding additional machinery, &c. It is expected that work will commence in about two weeks. The lessees are gentlemen of experience and go-a-head-attiveness, and will doubtless make the establishment a paying one.

Lessons on Piano and Melodeon.

Prof. Walker has reduced his terms to $15 per quarter, those who have not yet secured his services had better avail themselves of this opportunity, as Mr. Walker is a first class Teacher. His scholars learn thoroughly and improve rapidly, and we are sure he will soon have more than he can attend to.

A friend who had occasion to visit the Analomink House, a few days ago, informs us that the gentlemanly proprietor, A. M. Jones, Esq., has every thing fixed in the best order possible, and that in viands, liquors and a generous spirit of accommodation the Analomink ranks A No. 1. Jones evidently knows how to manage.

The rain on Tuesday was a splendid affair. After the drying winds of the several preceding days it was absolutely needed. The way it made the grass, grain and vegetables sprout and assume their dress of green, was encouraging to farmers and horticulturalists, as well as to consumers.

A new Jewish Synagogue, was dedicated to the service of God, on Friday last at Scranton. The ceremony is said to have been very impressive.

Governor Orr, of South Carolina, made a speech on Reconstruction at Charleston last week which contains a good deal of plain English. He acknowledged the power and right of Congress to deal with the subject; and declared himself ready to accept the terms proffered and to urge their adoption by the people. He was opposed to going to the Supreme Court or anywhere else for the purpose of disputing the power of Congress. Though himself one of the disfranchised class, he urged those who were not disqualified by the law to have themselves registered at once. As to the blacks, he said the Republicans had no claim upon them while they were excluded from the ballot in many of the Northern States. In regard to the alliance with the South which is now sought by the Democratic leaders, the Governor said:

"I know there is an apprehension widespread in the North and West that, after the reconstruction of the Southern States, we shall fall into the arms of our old allies and associates, the old Democratic party. I say to you, gentlemen, however, that I would give no such pledges. We have accounts to settle with that party, gentlemen, before I, at least, will consent to affiliate with it. [Good, good, and applause.] Many of you will remember that when the war first commenced, great hopes and expectations were held out by our friends in the North and West, that there would be no war, and that if it commenced it would be north of Mason's and Dixon's line, and not in the South.—You know, sir (turning to Gen. Sickles,) that faith was pledged, and I will now state that if that faith had been properly carried out, there is no probability that any State but South Carolina, would have seceded from the Federal Union. Again, during the pendency of the Constitutional Amendment, every Northern newspaper, and almost every Democrat in the country, urged upon the South to reject its provisions. It was rejected. A few weeks only elapsed, and yet we find that on the passage of this Sherman bill, our Democratic friends, acting in conjunction with old Thad. Stevens, were instrumental in incorporating in that bill its most odious features. It went back to the Senate, was finally adopted, and every one of the Democratic newspaper all over the North, so far as I am informed, have come out and urged the Southern people to accept the bill. I say to you, therefore, that in my judgment it is time for us to seek new friends and new alliances."

Secretary Seward having, by direct insult, forced Motley, the historian, into a resignation of the Ministership to Austria, A. J. set about hunting up a successor for the position. Though the labor has been to him a labor of love, inasmuch as it afforded him a supposed opportunity to reward a friend of like instincts with himself, the result of the undertaking has not proved altogether lovely. The Senate determined that the position adorned by the services of a Motley should not be disgraced, and have continuously headed off A. J.'s efforts to disgrace it. First Cowan, of Pennsylvania, was nominated—rejected; next Nesmith, of Oregon—rejected; next Stockton, of New-Jersey—rejected; and now Raymond, of the New-York Times, dubbed, by Bennett, "the little villain," hangs between confirmation and rejection, with a decided leaning towards the latter. If A. J. wants to be sure of a man let him nominate Motley.

Who would not be Beautiful?

All who possess a clear, unblemished skin, of alabaster whiteness, by the use of Chastell's White Liquid Enamel. It is the most perfect article in use, for removing all impurities of the skin, and unlike all other cosmetics, contains nothing that will injure the cuticle; being vegetable, it is perfectly harmless. For sale, Wholesale and Retail, by Berger, Shutts & Co., Chemists, Troy, N. Y. See their advertisements in another column in this paper.

A number of our citizens united in a grand raid upon the piscatorial denizens of McMichael's and Broadhead's creeks on Tuesday last. The rain raised and muddied the creeks, dip-nets were brought into requisition, and several hundred of the finny tribe were taken. We joined the multitude in the rather pleasant pastime of gnawing fish bones, on Wednesday morning. Suckers are not so bad to take.

Cough Medicines should be so compounded that they be taken "little and often." It is that throat and chest, not the stomach, that is affected.—This is one great secret of the success of Coe's Cough Balsam. Try it. All dealers sell it.

The Luzerne county folks are to have a new jail, at a cost of $139,575.—Rather an expensive luxury; but cheap enough if it will hold rogues put into it securely, and deter the commission of crime.

Fresh shad sold in Washington city, D. C., on Tuesday, for $10 per thousand, and in Stroudsburg, on the same day, at the rate of $500 per thousand.—The distance between the two places is two hundred and ten miles, or about 12 hours by rail.

The Iowa City Press openly advocates wholesale repudiation as the only means likely to bring the Democratic party into power.

The New York World, which furnishes political gospel for the whole Democratic party of the North, thus piteously begs its followers not to oppose negro suffrage, but to step forward and try to obtain a share of the black men's votes. We commend the reasoning of the World to our Democrats in Monroe county, whose only stock in trade during the last few years has been denunciation of the negro suffrage and negro equality. We shall soon expect to find in the Monroe Democrat a sermon preached from the same text:

"Democrats in the North, as well as the South, should be fully alive to the importance of the new element thrust into the politics of the country. It is very possible that the next Presidential election may be decided by the negro vote.—We suppose it to be morally certain that the new constitution of the State of New York, to be framed this year, will confer the elective franchise upon all adult male negroes. We estimate their number at six or seven thousand, which, in a close contest, may turn the scale in the election next year, should the solid negro vote be cast for the Republican candidates. In many of the Southern States, there is so near an approach to equality between the two races that unless the negro vote is divided there is imminent danger that the political control of those States will pass into the hands of the Republican party.—We have no faith in the success of any efforts to shut the negro element out of politics. It is the part of wisdom frankly to accept the situation, and get before hand with the Radicals in gaining an ascendancy over the negro mind."

Monday last was the second anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln—a calamity which will probably affect the history of the country for generations. The lapse of time but deepens the affectionate memory of the dead patriot in the hearts of the people. His simplicity, honesty and loyalty of purpose shine with increased lustre as the years roll by. The sordid selfishness of the present makes us turn with sadness to the purity of him who was taken from us as we entered the "promised land" of peace and union.

We learn that the meeting of the Republican State Committee at Harrisburg last week was very fully attended. Col. Francis Jordan, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Chairman of the Committee, presided. The proceedings were harmonious, and it was agreed that the State Convention, for the nomination of a candidate for the Supreme Judgeship, should be held at Williamsport on Wednesday, the 26th of June. The Chairman was authorized to issue a call for the election of delegates by the several counties.

The Eleventh District Monitor, published at Honesdale, in view of the approaching base-ball season, thinks that "playing ball is fine sport for young men, but that working in the garden, picking stone or any other useful outdoor labor is about as healthy." The Monitor is not alone in the thought.

Wilkes-Barre, Carbondale, Dunmore and Ujdy Park, have within the last few weeks been afflicted with heavy fires, resulting in the aggregate loss of some two hundred thousand dollars. It is not known how either fire originated.

Revelations of a Counterfeiter.

A despatch from Washington tells this remarkable story: "The Solicitor-General of the Treasury has recently received the detailed statement of Charles Ulrich, a native of Germany, made in the presence of Colonel Wood, chief of the secret service division of the Treasury Department, and of Marshal Murray, in the grand jury room at New York, about three weeks ago. The statement of Ulrich was voluntary. It will be recollected that he was arrested by Colonel Wood, in the city of Cincinnati, in March last, charged with being a counterfeiter of national currency and with having counterfeit plates of various denominations in his possession. Ulrich gives a history of his dealings with traders in counterfeit money, and names of the principals for whom he worked as an engraver and printer. In response to a question by Marshal Murray he said he paid New York police detectives and deputy marshals, as hush money, nineteen thousand six hundred dollars in the aggregate, besides altering stolen watches for them so as to destroy the identity of the time-keepers. Ulrich acknowledges that he printed from the two hundred dollar plate two hundred thousand dollars' worth notes. He had intended to print two hundred impressions from the five hundred dollar plate, and if he had not been captured that work would have been completed in ten or fifteen days. The plates are now in possession of the government. They are remarkably well executed, and the notes produced from them are calculated to deceive even the most expert."

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 11, 1864.
Messrs. THOS. ALCOCK & Co.—Please send, with dispatch, twelve dozen Alcock's Porous Plasters. Our daily experience confirms their very superior excellence. At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both his legs broken, spine severely injured, and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of a plaster to his spine. He was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever. He would cheerfully pay $5 for a single Plaster if it could not be had at a lower rate. I am surprised that surgeons do not make use of these perforated plasters to the exclusion of all others, as their flexibility and adhesiveness are greatly in advance of all other plasters with which I am acquainted; while the perforations peculiar to them rendered them greatly superior to all others for ordinary surgical uses. Knowing the plasters to be so useful, I have no scruples that my sentiments should be known.

REASONS WHY THE AMERICAN WATCH Made at WALTHAM, Mass. IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle. Its frame is composed of SOLID PLATES. No jar can interfere with the harmony of its working and no sudden shock can damage its machinery. Every piece is made and finished by machinery (itself famous for its novelty, as well as for its effectiveness) and is therefore properly made. The watch is what all mechanism should be—ACCURATE, SIMPLE, STRONG AND ECONOMICAL. Except some high grades, too costly for general use, foreign watches are chiefly made by women and boys. Such watches are composed of several hundred pieces, screwed and riveted together, and require constant repairs to keep them in any kind of order. All persons who have carried "swiss" "swiss" and "English Patent Levers" are perfectly well aware of the truth of this statement.

At the beginning of our enterprise, more than ten years ago, it was our first object to make a thoroughly good low-priced watch for the nation, to take the place of these foreign impostures—the refuse of foreign factories—which were entirely unsuitable at home and perfectly worthless everywhere.

How well we have accomplished this may be understood from the fact, that after so many years of trial, we now make MORE THAN ONE-HALF OF ALL THE WATCHES SOLD IN THE UNITED STATES and that no other have ever given such universal satisfaction. While this department of our business is continued with increased facilities for perfect work, we are at present engaged in the manufacture of watches of the HIGHEST GRADE KNOWN TO CHRONOMETRY, unequalled by anything hitherto made by ourselves, unsurpassed by anything made in the world.—For this purpose we have the amplest facilities. We have erected an addition to our main buildings expressly for this branch of our business, and have filled it with the best workmen in our service. New machines and appliances have been constructed, which perform their work with consummate delicacy and exactness. The choicest and most approved materials only are used and we challenge comparison between this grade of our work and the finest imported chronometers. We do not pretend to sell our watches for less money than foreign watches, but we do assert with no fear of contradiction that for the same money our product is incomparably superior. All our watches, of whatever grade, are fully warranted and this warranty is good at all times against us or our agents in all parts of the world.

CAUTION.—The public are cautioned to buy only of respectable dealers. All persons selling counterfeit watches will be prosecuted.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP.

This great medicine cured Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, the Proprietor, of Pulmonary Consumption, when it had assumed its most formidable aspect, and when speedy death appeared to be inevitable. His physicians pronounced his case incurable, when he commenced the use of this simple but powerful remedy. His health was restored in a very short time, and no return of the disease has been apprehended for all the symptoms quickly disappeared, and his present weight is more than two hundred pounds. Since his recovery, he has devoted his attention exclusively to the cure of Consumption, and the diseases which are usually complicated with it, and the cures effected by his medicines have been very numerous and truly wonderful. Dr. SCHENCK makes professional visits to several of the larger cities weekly, where he has large concourse of patients, and it is truly astonishing to see poor consumptives that have to be lifted out of their carriages, and in a few months healthy, robust persons. Dr. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC, and MANDRAKE PILLS are generally all required in curing Consumption. Full directions accompany each, so that any one can take them without seeing Dr. SCHENCK, but when it is convenient it is best to see him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer his fee is three dollars.

Please observe, when purchasing, that the two I-knesses of the Doctor—one when in the last stage of Consumption, and the other as he now is, in perfect health—are on the Government stamp.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Price $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen.—Letters of advice should always be directed to Dr. Schenck's Principal Office, No. 15 North 6th Street, Philadelphia, Pa. General Wholesale Agents: Demas Barnes & Co., N. Y.; S. S. Hance, Baltimore, Md.; John D. Park, Cincinnati, Ohio; Walker & Taylor, Chicago, Ill.; Collins Bros. St. Louis, Mo. [3d w. ea. mo. 1 yr.]

Free to Everybody. A Large 6p. Circular, giving information of the greatest importance to the young of both sexes.

It teaches how the homely may become beautiful, the despised respected, and the forsaken loved. No young lady or gentleman should fail to send their Address, and receive a copy postpaid, by return mail. Address P. O. Drawer, 21, Feb. 14, '67.—6m.

Know Thy Destiny.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrist, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to a single glance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometron, guarantees to produce a lifelike picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. All communications strictly confidential. Address in confidence, MADAME E. F. THORNTON, P. O. Box 223, Hudson, N. Y. [Feb. 14, '67.—1y.]

A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of two-thirds she really appeared but eighteen.—Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the CIRASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficiency in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the service as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. Price $1, sent by Mail or Express, on receipt of an order by W. C. CLARK & CO., Chemists, No. 3 West Fayette St., Syracuse, N. Y. The only American Agents for the sale of the same. CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED FOR 50 CENTS.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE annually of Croup. Now, mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of Dr. Tobias's Venetian Linctum in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 10 years since I have put up my Linctum, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Linctum was used; but hundreds of cases of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throats, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores, and pains in the back and chest. No one once tries it who is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists. Depot, 56 Cortlandt Street, New York. March 7, 1867.—7w.

Wonderful but True.

MADAME REMINGTON, the world-renowned Astrologist and Somnambulist Clairvoyant, while in a clairvoyant state, delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometron, guarantees to produce a perfect and lifelike picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, with date of marriage, occupation, leading traits of character, &c.—This is no imposition, as testimonials without numbers can assert. By stating place of birth, age, disposition, color of eyes and hair, and enclosing fifty cents, and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture by return mail, together with desired information.
