

"I'd offer thee this hand of mine," has been used for breach of promise. "Oh! Susanna," has settled with her at length, and don't owe Susanna any more. The author of "Old Arm Chair" is still in the furniture business. The one who pleaded "Rock me to Sleep Mother, Rock me to Sleep," has at length been gratified. His mother, yielded to his repeated solicitations, picked up a rock and rock him to sleep. He hasn't woken up yet. The one who asked, "Who will Care for Mother Now?" has finally concluded to take care of the old woman himself, as no one else seems inclined to.

The Jeffersonian,

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1867.

FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT:
Hon. HENRY W. WILLIAMS,
OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

A meeting of the Republican Union men of Monroe County, will be held at the COURT-HOUSE, in the Borough of Stroudsburg, on TUESDAY EVENING, Sept. 17th, 1867, for the purpose of considering the state of the party in the County, securing a more perfect organization, and transacting such other business as may come before it. A full attendance of Republicans is requested. Eminent speakers are expected to be present, and address the meeting, to whom men of all parties are invited to listen.

COUNTY STANDING COMMITTEE.

Rev. Wm. M. James offers his store property, in this borough, for sale. The location is a good and pleasant one. See advertisement for particulars.

Mr. John Boys is laying the foundation for a new brick building, on his lot adjoining the one he sold to Jacob Miller, down town. The building will be three stories high, and the lower floor fitted for mercantile purposes.

The work of laying the brick of the new Presbyterian Church building, is progressing quite rapidly. On looking at what has already been done, we judge that the contractor, Mr. Reuben R. Cress, is determined to make it as neat a job as need be looked at.

Corner-Stone Laying.
The corner-stone of the church, now in course of erection for the use of the colored people, in this borough, will be laid, with appropriate ceremonies, on Tuesday, the 17th of September inst. The Rev. Bishop A. W. Wyman, and the Rev. R. Barney will conduct the exercises. The public are cordially invited to attend.

A CARD!
The undersigned would inform the citizens of Stroudsburg and vicinity, that he has offices in New York, Philadelphia, and Stroudsburg, for the sale of Real Estate. Parties owning property in New York or Philadelphia, and wishing to sell it, will find it to their advantage to call and see me. Real Estate of all kinds bought and sold.
GEORGE L. WALKER,
MAIN STREET,

A Big Trot.
The owners of "Kate Mann" and "Cassius M. Clay," the nags which contended so nobly for the $200 premium at the late Fair, intend to have another trial, to decide whether the mare or stallion is the better horse of the two. It is arranged to come off on the Stroudsburg Course, in this place, on Wednesday afternoon, September 18th, for a purse of $1,000. These animals are very closely matched, and the contest will, undoubtedly, be a very close one. It is promised to be conducted upon fair and square principles. An excursion train will leave Scranton on the day of the race. Cassius M. Clay is known here as the Miller horse.

We hope our Republican friends throughout the county will pay heed to the call for a meeting, to be found in another portion of to day's paper. There should be a full attendance, and a free interchange of opinion upon matters which will come before it. It should be remembered that we have a representative to elect in this district, and a Jury Commissioner to elect in the county, and we should present men for both positions of unimpeachable integrity and general character. Carbon County has presented us with a candidate for Assembly in the person of David S. Lovett, Esq. Let us meet and learn more about him; and, if he is the right kind of a man, confirm his nomination, and give him the solid vote of the Republicans of Monroe County. Let us also canvass the merits of men belonging among us, and let us then select the best one to assist in drawing our jurors. Again we assure you that on the meeting on Tuesday evening next, September 17th.

Democratic Love-Feast.

The Annual Convention of the Democracy of this county, was held in the Court House, on Saturday last, and was about the richest affair of the kind that has come off, since the Barrett and Bell embroglio of some twelve years ago. Indeed, it exceeded that Convention in the virulence which animated its members, and in the bitterness of the compliments which passed between the brethren. It was, truly, a love-feast, in the Democratic sense; and its double adjournment found the brethren eyeing each other with about the same feeling that would animate a couple of Thomas Cats, slung across a clothes line, with their tails tied together.

The Convention met, at 9 o'clock, P. M., when the contest opened in a scramble for the Presidency, on the part of the friends of Charles S. Detrick, Esq., on the one side, and of James Place, Esq., on the other, in which the Place men proved themselves possessed of the best generalship by electing Peter S. Edinger, Esq., of Pocono, over Peter Gilbert, Esq., of Polk. This was done by "a simple twist of the wrist," a sort of "reto, presto, quick change and be gone" movement, which, contrary to parliamentary usages, ousted the Stroud delegation, who were Detrick men, before there was a legitimate body, having proper responsibility, to decide upon the merits of their claim to seats in the Convention. From this moment the fate of Mr. Detrick, under the organization secured, was a fixed thing. He was a dead-duck in the pit and should at once either have yielded to his fate, or demanded and insisted upon a separate organization on the part of his friends. But he chose a different course, and concluded that, to indulge in a wrangle for the admission of his Stroud township friends, was the better plan. And here began the second tug of war, which waged with out the shadow of a change in the prospect, until Stroud township was disfranchised and Place nominated. From this it would appear that the frantic denunciations by the friends of the latter, of the disfranchisement of their rebellious Southern brethren, grow, not so much from principle as from personal, selfish interest; and that there is no special objection to disfranchisement, if, by its employment, it will remove barriers which stand in the way of success. From the moment permanent organization was secured, the proceedings became vastly interesting. The merits of the rights of Stroud, were at once seized upon by the Detrick men affirmatively and by the Place men negatively. Both sides, at once, discarded the maxim of the Post, that and each flew at the other, with claws and tongues poised for a most vindictive and sanguinary contest. For about two hours, brotherly love was laid aside, and the spirit of harmony buried beneath a perfect avalanche of such words as "liars," "cheats" and "scoundrels;" and men whom the public thought, and who thought themselves, rather honorable, respectable, and all that sort of thing, before going into the Convention, came out of the "muss," so bespattered as to be scarcely recognizable. The Detrick men knew that unless Stroud was admitted their case was hopeless, while the Place men knew that if Stroud was admitted their case was hopeless. The fight, therefore, was to keep them out or let them in. The Place men, by the snap-judgment obtained at the organization, were anxious to come to a vote on their admission or rejection, knowing their power to secure the latter. The Detrick men fought valiantly, but in the end were defeated and Place nominated, though but two of the Detrick men acted with the others in this latter consummation, and we believe none of them voted, when the question of admission was pressed. At about 5 o'clock, P. M., the Place men, having finished up the business to their satisfaction, adjourned, sine die. Immediately after the adjournment of the Place men, the Detrick men organized under the Presidency of John Storm, Esq., of Paradise, when C. S. Detrick was unanimously nominated for the Legislature, and conferred were appointed to confer with the Democracy of Carbon County.

"Children of one family

Thus ended the farce, called a County Convention. The affair was a cheat from beginning to end—but it was the same kind of a cheat to which the bone and sinew of the party have so long submitted, and it is folly to suppose that they will do otherwise now. The result of the cheat is a division so far as the Democracy of Monroe County is concerned, and we do not know but that it will be best for the Republicans to keep hands off, and let the fight remain among the brethren themselves.

P. S.—Since the above was in type, we learn that, while Detrick was pulling at the head of the legislative cow, and Place at her tail, each bent upon housing her in his own stable, Mr. Allen Craig, (sly fox, is Allen,) quietly seated himself by her side, and milked her so dry that she was of no further present use, Carbon has, with a liberality truly commendable, taken charge of her for this time, under a promise to turn her over to the Monroe patriots for the next three years to come.

Editorial Change.

We see by the last Eastern Free Press, that our old friend, Lewis Gordon, Esq., has withdrawn from the editorial charge of that paper, and that he is succeeded by Henry L. Bunstein and J. W. Wood, Esqs. We exceedingly regret Mr. Gordon's withdrawal, for he has proved himself the able conductor of a first-class paper, but our regrets are some what mitigated by the fact that his successors are able and active young men, whose souls are in the good work of advancing the best interests of the country, through the instrumentality of the honest, wholesome principles of the great Republican party. Of course, the Free Press, as heretofore, will be radically Republican in politics. The retiring editor has our best wishes in his retirement; while to the new editors we extend the warm hand of welcome, and our best wishes for their success.

Remember, readers, that the Monroe County Agricultural Society's Fair comes off on the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th of October, and bestir yourselves in getting things ready to make it, what it is really designed to be, a fair representative of the skill of Monroe County's farmers, mechanics, matrons and maids. We have heard some grumbling, heretofore, at the paucity of the display, but as this was always owing more to the negligence of the grumblers than to any other cause, we hope they will see to it that the evil is remedied. The premiums are as liberal as those of any other Society we can hear of, and they should produce the best results. Among the extraordinary features of the Fair will be the appearance of George Labar, a veteran of 104 years, as Marshal of the Grand Cavalcade, which will come off on Wednesday, the 2nd day of the Fair.

Messrs. J. S. Williams & Co. have removed to their new building, S. E. corner of Monroe and George streets, where, as heretofore, they will be found fully prepared to fill all orders for foreign and domestic wines and liquors, of the best quality, with promptness. The building in which they now hold forth is, exteriorly, the handsomest in town, while in its internal arrangement and finish, it is really a model of convenience and neatness. By the excellence of flavor and purity of their liquors, they have established a wide-spread reputation, which has secured to them a business of the extent of which the uninitiated can form no idea. The members of the firm stand A. No. 1, whether viewed as honorable, clever, sociable gentlemen or as good citizens.

Mr. Charles B. Keller's advertisement will be found in the proper column in this week's paper, and is worthy of notice. Charley occupies decidedly the neatest store-room in town, and what is better still, has a stock on hand complete in every respect, which he assures us, he is determined to sell at prices which must prove satisfactory to purchasers. His shelves, his drawers and his boxes are literally crowded with the neatest specimens of the crisp art we ever saw, while in findings, leather, tools, &c., we doubt whether shoemakers could better suit themselves in the wholesale establishments of the cities. Call and see for yourselves.

A Large Grape.
Mr. William Dean exhibited in our office, on Tuesday last, a Grape taken from a vine in his garden, which measured three and three-quarters inches in circumference. Quite a number produced by the same vine measured three inches. The Grape is light-green in color, sweet in taste, and of a most luscious flavor. The vine was found growing wild in a swamp, about three miles from this place, and was taken up and planted by Mr. Dean's father, some twenty-six years ago.

We would again remind our readers that the time for the awarding of premiums in the Grand Gift Enterprise of the Phoenix Fire Company is rapidly drawing nigh. See too that you are not too late in securing certificates. They are going off quite rapidly, and while you are thinking about it, you may be putting it off until it is too late. Send in your dollars at once. For particulars see list of premiums on first page.

Iron in the Blood.
When the blood is well supplied with its iron element, we feel vigorous and full of animation. It is an insufficiency of this vital element that makes us feel weak and low spirited; all such, by taking the Peruvian Syrup, (a protoxide of Iron) can supply this deficiency, and will be wonderfully invigorated.

Pain in the Stomach or Bowels.
Constipation, Sick-Headache, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Distress after Eating, are surely cured by the use of Eog's Dyspepsia Cure. It is certainly the greatest remedy in existence. For sale by druggists everywhere.

WINTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsey, and the numerous as well as dangerous diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, prevail in our changeable climate at all seasons of the year; few are fortunate enough to escape their baneful influence. How important then to have at hand a certain antidote to all these complaints. Experience proves that this exists in Wintar's Balsam to an extent not found in any other remedy; however severe the suffering, the application of this soothing, healing and wonderful Balsam at once vanquishes the disease and restores the sufferer to wonted health.
Mr. JOHN BUNTO,
Of Baldwin, Chemung County, N. Y., writes:
"I was urged by a neighbor to get one bottle of the Balsam for my wife, being assured by him that in case it did not produce good effects, she would pay for the bottle herself. On the strength of such practical evidence of its merits, I procured a bottle. My wife at this time was so low with what the physicians termed Seated Consumption as to be unable to raise herself from the bed, coughing constantly and raising more or less blood. I commenced giving the Balsam as directed, and as so much pleased with its operation that I obtained another bottle, and continued giving it. Before this bottle was used, she ceased coughing and was strong enough to sit up. The fifth bottle entirely restored her to health, doing that which several Physicians had tried to do but had failed."
Prepared by SEW W. FOWLE & SON, 18 Tremont St., Boston, and for sale by Druggists generally.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU gives health and vigor to the frame and bloom to the pallid cheek. Debility is accompanied by many alarming symptoms, and if no treatment is submitted to, consumption, insanity or epileptic fits ensue.

CONSUMPTION CURABLE BY DR. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES.

TO CURE CONSUMPTION, the system must be prepared so that the lungs will heal. To accomplish this, the liver and stomach must first be cleansed and an appetite created for good, wholesome food, which, by these medicines will be digested properly, and good healthy blood made; thus building up the constitution. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS cleanse the stomach of all bilious or mucous accumulations; and, by using the Sea Weed Tonic in connection, the appetite is restored.
SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP is nutritious as well as medicinal, and, by using the three remedies, all impurities are expelled from the system, and good, wholesome blood made, which will repel all diseases. If patients will take these medicines according to directions, Consumption very frequently in its late stage yields readily to their action. Take the pills frequently, to cleanse the liver and stomach. It does not follow that because the bowels are not costive they are not required, for sometimes in diarrhoea they are necessary. The stomach must be kept healthy, and an appetite created to allow the Pulmonic Syrup to act on the respiratory organs properly and allay any irritation. Then all that is required to perform a permanent cure is, to prevent taking cold. Exercise about the room as much as possible, eat all the richest food—fat meat, game, and, in fact, anything the appetite craves; but be particular and masticate well.
