

The Jeffersonian,

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1868.

If you want a pleasant sleigh ride, to see a beautiful audience room, and hear good preaching, go to the dedication of the Tannersville M. E. Church on Sunday.

Sales of Real Estate.
Geo. L. Walker, Real-Estate Agent reports the following sales: J. M. Howell's, brick house and lot on Main street to John Boys, and J. M. Howell's frame house and lot on Main street to Abram Van Olinda.

Don't miss the public sale of valuable Building Lots opposite the Depot, at East Stroudsburg. The sale will take place at J. L. Thomas' Hotel, at East Stroudsburg, on Monday, Feb. 17th, at 2 o'clock. These are choice Lots and will increase in value rapidly.

BE WISE TO DAY.—'Tis madness to neglect a cough or cold, however slight. Consumption may follow, and though Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has frequently cured this much dreaded disease, for the primary diseases of the throat, lungs and chest, it always cures where other remedies fail.

On the 29th ult. a party of thirteen citizens, of this place, paid Mr. John Bader and family, of a Stroud township, a visit, and at the same time took with them a variety of the substantial necessities of life, which were left for Mr. Bader's use. The party not satisfied with this generosity left a purse containing greenbacks.

Mr. Bader requests us in behalf of himself and family to return his heart felt thanks to the liberal and kind donors. We would commend this method of assisting the needy worthy portion of our community who are struggling with adverse elements to make a livelihood.

Speer's Port Wine.
The Port grape is now cultivated in this country for a wine unexcelled by any other, in its mellow juiciness, richness of flavor, and brilliancy of color. The grape has been brought to a perfection never attained in Portugal, by Mr. Speer, in his vineyard, New Jersey. Physicians say it is superior to imported Port for invalids, and in summer it is more agreeable and refreshing than claret. Clergymen use it for its purity as a communion wine, while the most fashionable families drink it as a dinner wine. — N. Y. Tribune.

A Serious Accident.
On Tuesday, the 5th inst., a very alarming accident occurred at Anasimok, which was as follows:—A young girl named Mary Ann Moore was in the act of making fire in the cook stove, and having placed some wood over the smoldering embers, remaining since the last fire, she poured some kerosene oil from a large can, which, being ignited, exploded, burning in a fearful manner her arms, breast and shoulders, and blistering her face. Her hair was all singed from her head. Her mother ran to her assistance, and after some time succeeded in extinguishing the fire in her clothes. This is only one of the many accidents which are caused by the careless use of the explosive materials. They are no plaything, and should not be placed in the hands of children, nor ought they in any emergency be used in making fire.

The Lecture.
L. W. Brodhead, Esq., of the Del. Water Gap, delivered his lecture last Tuesday evening, to a select, intelligent, and appreciative audience. His subject was, as had been previously announced, "The Minisink and Its Early People." The lecturer devoted his attention to the history of the different Indian tribes, especially to that of those which originally lived in the "Minisink Valley," which was defined to be the region of country lying north of the Del. Water Gap and including the valley of the Delaware River and all its tributaries. — Stroudsburg, Cherry Valley, &c., are in the Minisink Valley.

Mr. Brodhead had on exhibition about one thousand Indian relics, the various uses to which the Indians applied them, he briefly explained. At the conclusion of his lecture he mentioned several family names of the original settlers; and joyfully stated that though the Brodheads did not settle in this region until 1735, it was, nevertheless, notorious that they were the longest settlers in the valley.

The lecture was well prepared, was interesting and instructive, and was a rare treat to those fortunate enough to hear it. The next lecture of the course will be delivered by Dr. Jackson next Tuesday evening. Subject—"Egypt and the Holy Land."

February Court.
The Hon. J. Pringle Jones, of the Northampton and Lehigh District, will preside at our next Court, in place of Judge Barrett, who, owing to sickness in his family, is unable to be present.

[COMMUNICATED.]
Our sleighing is still ample and amply appreciated, but as if doubts were entertained of its continuance, we were invited to a grand rally with sleds, sleighs (big and little), for a grand surprise at Dr. Bush's, at Marshall's Creek. Such shaking of bells and bones reminded us of John Gilpin's Sensation.

"We came to a corner
Got tipped in the snow,
Without asking the driver
Whether we ought or no."
Arriving at "mine hosts," we found him as if some fortune had interposed and temporarily relieved him of his day and night visits to invalids, and with facilities for making our animals comfortable in double-quick time when we found ourselves greeted and greeting in the warm spacious rooms of the Dr.'s comfortable mansion. Soon it seemed, as the time flew rapidly, that the groups that had settled here and there in social intercourse were interrupted with an announcement for refreshments, and the well filled and re-filled tables were highly complimentary to the ladies' judgment and energy for such short notice. In fact, every thing passed off in such harmony and good feeling that it seemed more like a premeditated event than a surprise. And we regret the timidity of the few who declined going for fear of overwhelming the Dr. The only perceptible sadness being occasioned by the arrival of the time of our departure. And as we re-loaded with a parting good-night, and "come again," the moon never looked larger, or the snow whiter, as our teams dashed off amidst the deafening clangor of bells, leaving us for some distance in quiet contemplation of nature's grandeur; or, in sweet communion with our secret thoughts until suddenly our ear caught the audible reflection of an elderly lady in our sleigh saying, "John, this seems so much like when we was young."

When suddenly a trace became detached (as if waiting for the spell to be broken), which was soon re-adjusted and speed and merriment resumed, when we soon found ourselves being distributed at our homes, with thanks and compliments to Mr. F. — for his gentlemanly management of the surprise. — STRANGER.

Banner Presentation.
The formal presentation of the prize banner to the Republicans of Wayne County, took place at the Court House, on Tuesday evening, to a crowded house. Effective and spirited speeches were made and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

Hon. John Shouse, of Pike County, was appointed delegate to represent Wayne and Pike Counties in the Republican State Convention, to meet March 11th, in Philadelphia.

R. A. Smith, C. P. Waller and Samuel Allen, were appointed delegates to represent Wayne County in the Congressional Convention at Stroudsburg, Feb. 25th.

Judge Lion being present in the Court House, was invited to address the meeting. He declined in a few brief remarks, stating that there was a public sentiment in Pennsylvania that a Judge should not make political speeches, and whether the sentiment was right or not, he had bowed to it and should continue to do so as long as upon the bench, and must therefore claim to be excused from discussing political questions at present. — Honorable Republic.

LARGE FIRE IN SCRANTON.
FIVE STORES, A SALOON, A MILLINER SHOP, AND A PRINTING OFFICE BURNED.
Nos. 322, 324, 326, 328 and 330 Lackawanna ave., Scranton, Pa., were burned on Wednesday night last. Loss over $100,000; insurance about $65,000. G. H. Wilson, hatter; Darby Melvin, liquor dealer; Dale & Keene, produce commission merchants; D. Morris, merchant tailor; Geo. Blake & Co., of the Daily Republican; Miss Jane Coolbaugh and H. M. Klein are the principal losers. The Republican saved its engine and two cylinder presses, every thing else is as good as a total loss. Blake & Co.'s stock on the first floor of No. 322 was not burned but very badly injured by water and plundering. In all the other buildings the loss was total. Eight or ten families in the upper parts of the buildings lost every thing. Credit is given the Franklin Engine Company of Hyde Park for checking the fire, which was well started in a row of buildings worth, with their contents, over $1,000,000.

As a striking illustration of the scarcity of employment in New York at the present time, the fact may be mentioned that the Superintendent of the Five Points House of Industry gives notice that he is ready to furnish employers with laborers — as many as they want — who will work till next spring merely for their board.

By a recent decision of the Court of Claims, the members of the following Pennsylvania regiments are entitled to $100 bounty: 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, and 71st; also, all persons who enlisted between April 15th and July 22, 1861, and were discharged upon surgeons' certificates of disability and received no bounty.

At Hartford, Conn., on Saturday the thermometer marked twenty-seven degrees below the freezing point.

HARRISBURG.
The Twenty-First District Senatorial Contest—Gross Frauds Proven—Senator Wallace Implicated.
Special Correspondence of Pittsburg Commercial.

HARRISBURG, Pa., January 23, 1868.
The Committee drawn in the Senate to try the case of Captain J. H. Robison, of Juniata county, who is contesting the seat of J. T. Shugart, of Centre county, the sitting member, has been in session this week. Orvis, of Bellefonte, and Maynard, of Williamsport, are counsel for Shugart, and H. B. Swoope, of Clearfield, and John Cessa, of Bedford, are counsel for the contestant. The Committee consists of Senators Fisher, Landon, Jackson Linderman, Taylor, Ridgway, and Cowles, five Republicans and two Democrats.

The principal ground for contesting Mr. Shugart's seat is, that quite a number of Irishmen had voted on false naturalization papers, and others had been brought into the district and kept there ten days prior to the election, for the express purpose of voting. Mr. Shugart's majority was only twenty-two votes, and it was alleged that there were near one hundred illegal votes polled in one place in Centre county. It appears that there was a railroad being made from Phillipsburg, in Centre county, to Clearfield, and there were last fall about forty rods of light work to be done near Phillipsburg, which could have been done by twenty men in five or six days. However, an arrangement was made with an Irishman, named O'Mara, a boss on that work, to bring about one hundred Irishmen on that part of the work, which was in Centre county, ten days before the election. This he did, and as soon as the election was over they were sent away. When it was ascertained that Shugart had only twenty-two majority, including the hundred illegal votes at Phillipsburg, and that Robison was going to contest his seat, the leaders of the Democratic party concluded that the Irish boss, O'Mara, who knew all about the importation of voters and the fraudulent papers upon which many of them voted, must be sent out of the State. For that purpose they employed a Catholic priest by the name of "Father Tracey," to induce O'Mara to leave.

Shortly before the Legislature met, Father Tracey visited O'Mara and stated to him that the Legislature would soon meet; that Shugart's seat would be contested; and that his (O'Mara's) testimony would be very much against the Democratic party; that it would be best for him (O'Mara) to leave the State; that he (Tracey) had some money which he was authorized to give him (O'Mara) if he would go out of the limits of the State, &c. &c. O'Mara asked two thousand dollars for taking his family out of the State never to return. Father Tracey said he was not authorized to pay that much, and could not do so until he would write to Philadelphia. After several interviews between the priest and O'Mara, the former at last told the latter that William A. Wallace said that "a hundred dollars per month was enough to pay for getting him to leave the State."

Father Tracey then struck a bargain with Mr. O'Mara to leave for five hundred dollars, which were paid over to him and afterwards counted by a young man in Clearfield, and accordingly left, and took up his abode in Elmira, New York. But his whereabouts became known to the counsel for the contestant, and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate was sent to Elmira a few days ago, where he found Mr. O'Mara and brought him to this city. He was brought before the Committee last night, and upon his oath testified to the foregoing facts, and in addition, he stated that another boss on the work above referred to took the fraudulent naturalization papers and colored them with coffee, so as to make them appear old. Is not the foregoing, which is sworn to by an Irish Democratic railroad boss, a disgrace to any party, and, especially, does it not show what measures the rebel sympathizing Democratic party will adopt to carry elections and thwart the will of the majority of the bona fide citizens of the country? And yet to hear these hypocritical demagogues talk, you would suppose that they are the only guardians that the Constitution of the State and the Constitution of the United States have. I suppose it is in strict accordance with the Constitution to forge naturalization papers and to color them with coffee, and for aliens to vote on such papers; provided always that they vote for Democratic candidates; that it is eminently proper for such a man as Father Tracey to become the paymaster of the Democrat party, when a witness who would have to testify against that party, should leave the country, and no one would dare to doubt the constitutionality of the right of the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee to fix the price to be paid to such a witness for leaving. "Oh! consistency, thou art a jewel!" There is no doubt about Robison getting his seat.

The evidence so far makes out a clear case of any amount of fraudulent voting done by aliens and imported voters.

JUNES.
The New York Republican State Convention was held at Syracuse last week. Delegates, both Senatorial and Representative, to the Chicago Convention were elected, and resolutions favoring the nomination of Grant and Featon were adopted. Upon national subjects the resolutions were Radical in their character. At the close of the Convention Horace Greeley was called upon for an address. He warned the Convention against the danger of over confidence, and called upon the members to make a vigorous canvass, extending to every school district, to make sure our triumph next November.

Trial for Murder.
Dr. John D. Derkin was found dead in his office in Scranton, on the 29th of last May, with a severe wound on the back of his head, and other less severe ones on his person. There was evidence of a struggle, and he lay in his night clothes by the bed with his case in his hand.

Suspicion rested on a man named James Delemater, who had been seen in Scranton, the day of the murder and about the last of July he was arrested at Whitehall, N. Y., working in a saw mill.

His trial commenced before the Court of Oyer and Terminer, at Wilkes Barre, Judge Conyngham Presiding with Associates Steele and Collins, on Friday, 21st January, 1868, Messrs. Harding and Woodward of Luzerne, and Mr. Westbrook of Kingston, New York, Counsel for Commonwealth.

Delemater, was on Wednesday found guilty by the Jury of "Murder in the first degree." The Jury stood, at first, 9 against and 3 for acquittal, but the three finally changed their views, and a verdict of "guilty" was accordingly rendered.

The editor of the Country Gentleman has been visiting a thriving farmer in New York State. It is well known in the neighborhood, that the owner of this farm has paid a snug annual income tax, in some years, on a revenue of more than two thousand dollars from the 115 acres. On inquiry, he has furnished in substance the following average statement of his business: He hires one man by the year, whose work is to take care of animals, do chores, &c., in addition to other labor. Another man is hired for eight months. The rest of the required labor consists in some help from boys, some day labor during harvest, and occasional assistance from the owner himself, in addition to his constant supervision. At present prices and at a fair estimate, the labor has cost about one thousand dollars a year. Other expenses have been less than five hundred, including improvements, &c. The average sales have exceeded annually three thousand dollars—leaving a net profit of over fifteen hundred, as a revenue from the land.

At Harrisburg, on January 23, the Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society held an important meeting. The returns show that at least 65,000 persons visited the Pittsburg Fair last September. A committee has been appointed to ask an appropriation from the Legislature for the purpose of thoroughly testing next summer agricultural implements and machinery; also for printing transactions of the Society. A Boyd Hamilton was re-elected president, and among the vice-presidents are Messrs. George Blight of Philadelphia, Dr. James McCrea, A. B. Cummings, and Samuel M. Felton. September 29 and 30, and October 1 and 2 were designated for holding the next State Fair, but the Society is undecided as to what place to hold it.

The Downington Journal says the wife of Jacob Spotts, of Springfield, Chester county, on Sunday night of last week gave birth to four children, each weighing eight pounds. The mother and children are all doing well. The same paper says that on the same day the wife of Elijah B. Rettew, Esq., residing near Morgantown, gave birth to a boy weighing thirteen pounds.

The Elizabethtown (Lancaster county) Gazette says: "Mathias Shenk, Sr., in West Donegal township, this county, has a goe forty-five years of age, and is still alive and apparently in good health. About seven years ago it laid eight eggs, since that none at all Mr. Shenk has also on his premises a land tortoise, which he knows to be sixty-eight years of age."

The New York Times significantly says: "There is no doubt now that Congress is quite as determined in its purposes as President Johnson in his. It will be thwarted by no agency whatever. And the fact that it has power to carry out and enforce its will is making itself felt in every department of the Government, in a way that will not be fully understood till it has fully completed its work."

A mixture of three parts of lard and one of resin, melted together, is one of the best coatings for all steel or iron implements. The lard makes the resin soft, while the latter is a sure preventive against rusting. The mixture is good for ploughs, hoes axes, indeed for all tools and implements, as well as knives and folks packed away.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Inipient Consumption is inestimable.

Strong Testimony.
From Benjamin Wheeler, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalton, Mass.
"In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hope of ever recovering and had almost friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more claimed my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, so often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally restored me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

PROOFS OF THE SUPERIORITY OF THE AMERICAN WATCHES.

This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American inventive genius and enterprise. That it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one-half the cost of imported movements—beside the uniform reliability of the machine-made watches must give them a great advantage over all others wherever known. A poor time piece of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore, for no one is arbitrary in its performance, and can make a perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation that this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market the thousands of trashy foreign articles called timekeepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute. — N. Y. Times.

"We have had one of the works of this Company in a case for some considerable time, and comparing them with former first-class works of different manufacture possessed by us, they have established in our opinion their superiority over every other introduced for correctness as time pieces." — The World.

"We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens American manufacture, which, although only comparatively recent birth among us, is already producing results of the most satisfactory character. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability, and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the French or Swiss manufacturers." — N. Y. Herald.

"The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisite that the mere spectacle of its operation is poetic, gradually give the American Watches a public preference which will not be deceived." — Harper's Weekly.
