

The Jeffersonian

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1868.

We are under obligations to the Hon. John F. Hartranft for a copy of the Auditor General's Report on Railroads for 1867.

To the Weak, the Worn, and the Weary, the Editor of the Boston Recorder says, "We can most unhesitatingly recommend the Peruvian Syrup, a protracted solution of the protoxide of iron, to all the weak, the worn, and the weary, having richly experienced its benefits."

Monday, Tuesday and yesterday were busy days in our borough and neighborhood. The tearing up and moving of household goods gave plenty of work to willing hands, and a jolly good time was had.

is the pure, unadulterated juice of the Operto grape, now being cultivated in this country by Mr. Spear. It is valuable for family use, and for its tonic and invigorating properties.

The Concert, given by the Guernsey Brothers, at the Court-House, on Friday evening last, was an excellent affair, and was respectfully attended, so far as numbers were concerned, but not so well patronized as the merits of the performers deserved.

The impeachment trial of Andrew Johnson commenced in earnest, in the U. S. Senate, on Monday last. Gen Butler opened the case, on behalf of the managers, in a speech of great power, after which the evidence for the prosecution was proceeded with until the hour of adjournment.

Yielded at Last.

By letter received from the proprietors of Coe's Cough Balsam, we are informed that they have at last yielded to the pressing demand, and in addition to the ordinary size now so long in the market, have consented to furnish their popular remedy (Coe's Cough Balsam) in mammoth family bottles, which will be the largest bottle of medicine ever sold in this country for $1.

The Concert by Mrs. Carr's Pupils.

The concert given in the Court-House, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, the 24th and 25th ult., by the pupils of Mrs. James Carr, jr., was creditable alike to them and their teacher. Several of the pieces were well performed, demonstrating the proficiency of a number of her pupils as well as evincing Mrs. C.'s talent as a musical instructor.

We do not hesitate to call the Concert a success in every way, and to justify us in so doing we need but appeal to the second crowded house, which greeted the performances throughout with applause.

It Smarts 'em. After the labor of nearly a year, under command of the leaders, who had selected several dilapidated specimens of fishy Republicans, as aids, the Democracy of the borough imagined that they had every thing fixed for a brilliant Democratic victory at the spring election.

The Republicans, believing that none but true and tried men should be placed on guard, selected none but men of undoubted political inflexibility as their candidates — representative men of Republican principles, and, of course, men of honor and honesty. The ticket formed, it was left to the candid choice of the voters for election or rejection.

Our amiable neighbor of the "Democrat" appears to feel the sting of the whip with particular severity. He flounders and blows and spouts around much after the fashion of a wounded gudgeon, and gives vent to his spleen in such words as "Radicalism," "bigoted Toryism," "tory vipers," and attempts to draw consolation from inventions so weak that even his own partizans laughed at his folly, exhibited in their publication.

That the Democrats started out to whip and got whipped, is nothing new to them. They are so used to it, that they should look for it as a matter of course; and not go to getting mad, and calling names when they are let down as easily as is possible, and we retain our consistency.

Fields of Dock.

The root of the yellow dock, so troublesome to farmers, is an effectual alternative and a most valuable medicine. In the neighborhood of Lowell, Doct. J. C. Ayer & Co. have planted fields of it, where they raise many tons at a crop. It is grown like the carrot or beet, in drills, and its quality or properties have been so much improved by cultivation.

The Hon. David Wilmot, so well known from his intimate connection with the political history of the country, for the last thirty years, died, recently, at his residence in Towanda, Pa. At the time of his death, he was a Judge of the Court of Claims.

A text for the dying Democracy: "Love not the World; neither the things in the World. If any man love the World the love of God is not in him." Exchange.

The Difference. At the Democratic State Convention, recently held at Harrisburg, Col. W. W. Davis, of the Bucks County Democrat, and Col. John P. Linton, of Cambria Co., who stood the brunt of the fight, and suffered worse than the Waterloo defeat of three years ago, in the contest for the Auditor and Surveyor Generalships, and the political approbation of the people of Pennsylvania, were most unceremoniously thrust to one side, as material that had been "weighed in the balance and found wanting."

Now, that kind of talk will do very well for the majority of the Democratic party, because they don't know any better, and are not sufficiently intelligent to enable them to be taught otherwise. Here are a few sentences which are amply sufficient, just because found in the "Monroe Bible," to convince its subscribers, that the Freedmen's Bureau is an iniquitous institution, absorbing twelve millions, perhaps more, of the public money, for the express purpose of oppressing the heroic statesman; the real chivalry of the South, and keeping the "nigs" in idleness at from ten to twenty dollars per day.

The Republican Convention, held in Philadelphia, had no such trouble. It met, and when the proper time arrived, nominated those pure and tried soldiers, and public servants, Maj.-Gen. Hartranft and Col. Campbell, by acclamation — not a voice being raised in opposition. Here there was no ghost of treason to be appeased — no record of "aid and comfort" given to the enemy to be wiped out or whitewashed over, and, as a matter of course, all went smoothly, harmoniously and unanimously. One day sufficed for the completion of the work, as one day will be sufficient for the people, in October, to ratify it by an overwhelming majority.

Beware of Swindlers.

A country friend sends us the following letter just received by him from this city. The writer is, of course, a villain: DEAR SIR: Your name has been handed us as a prominent Republican, and one that desires truth and right shall prevail. A league has been formed with the view of promoting the interests of our party at the next Presidential election.

Some interesting developments of frauds have recently been made in the Philadelphia Custom House. It has transpired that certain assistant weighers have been carrying on for some time past a lucrative business in their line of duties. Several merchants of Philadelphia have been bribing these weighers to make light weight in the commodities passing through their hands for the assessment of import duty, thus defrauding the Government of its just amount of duties.

From the official report of the Attorney General it appears that the President has pardoned and let loose upon the community not less than ninety-two counterfeiters, who had been duly convicted and sentenced during the last eighteen months. It is really not surprising, with such an exhibition of Executive leniency, that this peculiar description of offense against the laws should have become, as it has so alarmingly prevalent.

The Freedmen's Bureau. The "Democrat" seems to think the "Negro Bureau," as it terms it, a very unnecessary and a very great expense to the government, and sums up the benefits derived from it as follows: "Who dare say that the Southern nigs are not a blessed race! It costs them nothing for clothing; nothing for medicine and medical attendance; nothing for traveling to and fro; nothing to carry on lawsuits. And then they have nothing to do but attend political meetings and elections, as the 'superior race'; to sit in conventions, to make constitutions at from $10 to $20 a day; to run for governors, members of Congress, Assemblymen, Mayors, Aldermen, and a thousand minor offices, and generally to see to it that the 'white trash' are kept at work making money to pay the taxes to keep the State machinery running."

I shall not attempt to convince a Democrat that this is not the object of the Freedmen's Bureau, for if I did I should, without doubt, miserably fail. Their faith is so great in the Editor of the "Democrat," and his Copperheadism, that they would but hug his paper the closer to their bosoms and tremble for the man who dared to disbelieve. The real truth of this matter though, it may be well to state, is a little different from the manner in which the "Democrat" has it. The Freedmen's Bureau dispenses the necessities of life, food, clothing, &c., alike to whites and negroes, and from a report made recently by Gen. Howard, Chief of the Freedmen's Bureau, and whose integrity is undoubted, it will be found that the number of whites who claim its protection, very greatly exceeds the number of Negroes.

Any one with judgment, who has studied Southern institutions, can readily understand this, and will at once believe it. Previous to the breaking out of the Rebellion, there were four classes in the South. The wealthy whites, who owned plantations, and never worked any. Then a class of whites, who owned no property, but were employed as overseers, foremen in shops, or mechanics of some kind; the negroes, and, lastly, the poor whites, or clay-eaters.

The least or lowest class, unable, or rather unwilling, to provide for themselves in times of prosperity, came at once to the Bureau for supplies. The middle grade of whites, able always to help themselves, do so now, and some of them are building up fortunes on the ruins of their former employers. The wealthy, unable to help themselves, and losing every thing by the Rebellion, now come, side by side, and gladly, too, with their former slaves to receive food and clothing from the Freedmen's Bureau.

No more zealous supporters of the Bureau will be found than the whites of the South, which is proof positive that it is aiding them more than the negro.

Now, where does the Editor of the "Democrat" stand? He would deny the necessities of life to the whites, just because some of the negroes are also benefited. If he were to denounce Congress, in the South, for continuing the Bureau, both whites and blacks would unite in kicking such a contemptible, narrow-minded, short sighted, penurious mortal out of existence. For the sake of his bones, we advise him to stay here in Monroe County, where Ignorance and Corrupt Democracy are fashionable, and he finds people, near enough his own level, to appreciate him. OBSERVER.

A Singular Freak of Nature.

We are informed that, about the 15th of February, a cow, belonging to one of our citizens, gave birth to a calf, and that the same cow had a second calf last week — about four weeks having intervened between the births of the two calves. — Such a singular freak of nature is surely of rare occurrence. — Ruffsman's Journal.

The Fort Wayne (Ind.) Gazette says that the following correspondence recently occurred between a Democrat of that city and the White House: "To His Excellency, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States: I am ready to assist you with men and money at a moment's warning. The Democracy of Whitley county are with you. Col. * * *"
