Meetings at Tannersville and Broadheadsville.

WM. DAVIS, Esq. of this borough, will speak to the people, viz: At TANNERSVILLE, on Friday Evening, October 9th.

At BROADHEADSVILLE, on Saturday Evening, October 10th.

The public without regard to party are cordially invited to hear him.

Our first page is filled with spicy items suited to the campaign. Read them carefully for there is a fund of truthful information contained in them.

Republicans their no doubt of a Republican victory in this State on Tuesday, but it is your duty to do all you can to make the victory decisive by swelling the majority way up into the thousands. Work then, work!

We learn that an Irishman, residing near the Depot, when about crossing the Iron Bridge, on his way home, on Saturday night last, was knocked down and robbed, of a sum of money and other valuables. We could learn neither name nor further particulars.

Our thanks are due to the young gentlemen of the "Sophronian Literary Society," of Muhlenburg College, for the bestowal of an "honorary" membership of the Society upon us. We shall endeavor to appreciate the honor.

Reader don't forget that the Monroe County Agricultural Society's Fair commences on Tuesday next, (election day), and closes on the following Friday. We hope that a grand turnout and a grand display will mark an increased interest in the Fair.

The Oyster season has commenced in our borough, and some of the finest bivalves we ever saw were dispensed at Borne's Saloon during Court week. In getting up an excellent stew, barbeque or raw fish and lucious, Mrs. B. has no superior, while her accommodations for guests are all that can be desired.

The Ice Cream Season having run out, Mrs. Peter Robeson has opened her rooms as an Oyster Saloon. With handsome, comfortable rooms and the best quality of Oysters served up in superior style, her saloon will doubtless prove as complete a success as it did during the Ice Cream season. Mrs. R. certainly knows how so please her customers.

It will be interesting to the public to know that Mr. Charles M. Price, our Charley of 'ye olden time, is at present largely engaged in the Oyster business at Scranton, and is prepared to furnish by the Barrel, Keg or gallon, the most lucious Bivalves fished out of the water. Princess Bay, Egg Harbor and Shrewsbury's, best and sweetest of them all, will be furnished to dealers and families at New York wholesale prices. Orders sent to him will be promptly filled, and the public will be assured of always getting the best.

Our young friends Turner Palmer and Charley Herman, we observe, have taken Mr. A. C. Jansen's stand, one door above the Express office, and opened a new Bakery and Confectionery Store. Their stock is really superb, and the proprietors being clever, enterprising young gentlemen, the business, in their hands, can hardly fail to pay handsomely. Charley, who is one of our Stroudsburg institutions and a very Prince of good Bakers, has charge of the Baking Department. This will ensure a bountiful supply of the best of bread, cakes and meads. Of course the new firm will be liberally patronized.

We were pleased to see our old friend, Charles W. Dean, of Philadelphia, looking " hale and hearty," " bobbing round" among our merchants, a week or so ago. Charley is now in the Boot and Shoe line, and is connected with one of the best houses in the city of brotherly love. From what we can learn of the purchases made through him, we judge that his trip here was both a pleasant and profitable one—pleasant to himself in the cordial welcome he received from old friends, and profitable to his house in the large sales he made; and not only so, but profitable as well to retail purchasers hereabouts, for the house keeps some of the goods of the best quality to be disposed of at the lowest figures. Charley is always sure of a hearty welcome, and will never be at a loss for customers when he come here.

The Ticket.

Reader, the ticket which every man who truly loves his country should vote, on Tuesday, is that headed:

Auditor General,
John F. Hartranft

Gen. Hartranft served his country faithfully, ably and bravely from the commencement to the close of the war. For three years he has had charge of the great accounting department of the Commonwealth, and by his watchfulness saved money to the Treasury and was thus enabled to pay off several millions of the State debt. His opponent, Charles E. Boyle, was a Copperhead during the war, and has nothing but this to recommend him to the suffrages of the people.—What patriot desires to vote for such a man as Charles E. Boyle?

The next man on the ticket, and a gentleman most worthy of your earnest support, is for

Surveyor General,
Jacob M. Campbell.

Gen. Campbell was also a soldier during the whole term of the war, and left a record for bravery which can never die. Since the war he has had charge of your land records at Harrisburg. Out of the chaos which he found, he culled order and system for the department, and thus saved thousands to the taxpayers, and added more than an hundred fold to the security of your land titles. His opponent, Gen. Wellington H. Ent, was a soldier of fortune during the war, and fought rebels for pay while his heart was with them and their cause. Ought a true soldier, or the friend of a soldier, to vote for him?

Next on the ticket comes the candidate for Congress,

John Torrey.

Because of over-age, Judge Torrey did not enter the military service during the war, but he contributed largely of his means towards the fitting out of volunteers, and the support of their families while in the service. Born in Wayne county, he has grown up with the growth of that end of the District; and no portion of the Commonwealth can turn out a better business man, or a man better qualified to make a good Congressman. His opponent, Daniel M. Vanauken, is your present mis-representative. Daniel has been at Washington for nearly two sessions, but no one would have known it, had it not been for a patch-work speech of his, published in the Democratic papers of the district. Can any voter hesitate in his choice between the men?

Next, and the last we shall name, on the ticket comes, for

Representative,
Jacob D. Laciari.

Capt. Laciari faithfully served out two enlistments during the war, and has honesty, capacity and a brilliant military record to recommend him for the position. You all know his opponent, James Place, and you all know how much of a friend he was to his country when his country needed a true friend. Can you hesitate how to vote this ticket?

Reader if you would fulfil your whole duty faithfully, you must vote for Hartranft, Campbell, Torrey and Laciari.

Horse Thieves About.

The stable of Mr. Andrew F. Mixsell, in Stroud township, near the Fair Grounds, was entered on Tuesday night, Sept. 28th, and a valuable horse stolen. The horse is described as a "Dark Bay 7 years old, 14 hands high, both hind feet white, star on the forehead, and a small white spot on the right side, caused by the rubbing of the saddle.

On the same night the Carriage House of William S. Reese, Esq. in the same neighborhood, was entered and a falling top Wagon and set of pretty worn, Silver-plated Harness stolen. The wagon was made by Whitesell & Sensenbary, Bethlehem, Pa. The harness was partly covered with patent leather, leather fly net. One of the girths had a silver plated buckle and the other a black buckle. Two bridles were taken, one with the letters W. S. R. on the left blind, and the other bridle with a red piece across the forehead. It is pretty well ascertained, that both Horse and Wagon were stolen by the same thieves. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for the return of the property, and the arrest and conviction of the thieves.

Friend Ruster, we perceive, has got finally and firmly fixed in his new quarters.—He has, by all odds, the finest store-room in town, and has everything about so arranged as to make it a model of neatness, comfort and convenience, as well for his customers as for himself. His stock of goods, in its every branch, was never so full and complete as now; and we know we but tell the truth, when we say that his shelves, tables and counters fairly groan under the weight of the bargains he has spread out for the public. Everybody should call and see Nicholas in his new quarters. He will be pleased to show them around.

Republicans the bullying process may be attempted on you in some of the townships in this County, in order to prevent your voting. This has been done heretofore successfully, but don't let it be done again on Tuesday. Go to the polls and attend to your business peaceably, and if any one interferes with you, take his name and secure your witness, and as soon as possible have him bound over to Court. One or two examples made of the Democratic scoundrels who thus interfere with the rights of their neighbors, will assure good, orderly and quiet times at the elections in this County for years to come.

Send in the Returns.

Our friends throughout the county should see to it that the election returns of the several townships are in town by Wednesday morning next. A little enterprise, in this way, will enable us to give full returns in our paper on Thursday. We will, in all probability, have the result in the State by Wednesday noon, or evening at farthest, and it will look too bad if, for want of a little spirit, Monroe county complete is not in the list.

The Democratic Meetings.

We owe an apology to our readers, for an error we were led into last week, relative to the meetings, held at the Court House, on the afternoon and evening of the 28th ult. The Democrat having announced meetings of its party, both in its columns and in flaming handbills, to take place on that day, and two of the speakers promised having harranged the hundred or so who divided their time between the Court House and the watermelon pedler's wagon, we, of course, believed Democratic meetings were held, and spoke of them as such, including the failure, which was lamentably apparent. As, however, the Democrat was mum about the meeting, and didn't brag a bit about it, didn't even whistle to keep courage up over it, we cannot avoid the conclusion that they were not Democratic meetings, but some other kind of meetings in which our neighbor took no interest whatever. Our opinion as to their Democracy, as expressed last week, must therefore have been erroneous. That they really were Democratic, our neighbor's proverbial enterprise, aided by "our steam power press" would, undoubtedly, have prompted him to have told us so. But they were failures, and after all—;but we will wait and see what our neighbor has to say about it this week. Perhaps we may learn something more about it.

The way to make Converts.

The Democrats finding the converts from Republicanism to Democracy so few and far between, as not to afford them material for an item more than once in a campaign, have taken to manufacturing changes out of the whole cloth. And they do it up nicely too, selecting none but the best men for the converts. In the Milford Herald of last week, we find quite a number of these Manufactured Changes, all arranged in half a column of the paper, and headed "Conversions to Democracy." Among the changes Republicans, and Democrats elsewhere than in Pike County, will "smile" to find the following paraded:

Gen. John C. Fremont has declared his intention of voting for Seymour and Blair.

Judge Bingham, until recently one of the most influential radicals in Georgia, (Ohio), has declared himself for Seymour and Blair.

Ex-Gov. Curtin supports Seymour and Blair. He says Seymour saved him and Pennsylvania in 1863, and he can't go back on him now.

It is said that Governor Fenton, of New York, has declared his intention to vote for Seymour and Blair.

As these gentlemen are all at this time doing yeoman's service on the stump, some of them in Pennsylvania, for Grant & Colfax, and have been for the success of these men, from the beginning, we hardly know whether to rank the editor of the Herald as a knave or a fool. The Democracy of Pike must be made of rather soft material to allow itself to be imposed upon by such deliberate, wilful and malicious lying as this.

Connecticut voted at her town elections for town officers, on Monday last, and in the result are heard mutterings of Republican thunder, most dismal to Democrats, to burst forth on the 3d of November. Large Republican gains were made in almost every town, and had the election been a general instead of a local one, a brilliant Republican victory would have been the result. But we can wait. It is not long till November 3d, and a victory which is so certain to come will be just as acceptable then as now. Vermont has spoken, Maine has spoken, and Connecticut has given us a hint of what she is going to say. Pennsylvania to work, and see that on Tuesday next you don't fall behind any of these in your earnestness and your grand Republican majority.

The Democratic Caravan, with Judge De Young as chief manager and equestrian director, chairman Storm, as director of feats of high agility on the Democratic Stump, Professor Drake, adept on the literary trapeze, and Professor Dietrick as superumerary, and delineator of the beauties of conventional disappointments, started out on a tour of exhibition yesterday morning. We understand the tour embraces the townships of Eldred, Ross, Hamilton and Chesnut Hill, and if the treasury holds out, may be extended farther. The Bobby Williams of the Company was compelled reluctantly, by the demands "of our steam press" to remain at home. There will be some heavy blows made at truth ere the Company gets home again.

Sunday School Pic Nic.

The Gilbertville, Broadheads, Effort and Gregory Sabbath Schools, held a Pic Nic at the Pleasant Valley Church in Chesnut Hill township, on Thursday last. Notwithstanding the storm, the children turned out in large numbers. The exercises consisted of speaking, singing, &c. Addresses were made by Rev. Strouse in German, and the Rev. Becker in English. The singing, was a fine feature of the occasion, conducted by Prof. J. A. Clements, who presided at the Melodeon with his usual ability.

We have reason to believe that extensive preparations are being made by Democratic leaders, to impose pasted Tickets upon those who desire to vote the Republican Ticket.—Look out for this contemptible species of fraud. Examine your tickets and see that the names of the Democratic candidates are not pasted over those of the Republican's. Compare your ticket with the one at the head of this paper.

Ex-Sheriff Marsh has the new Shed, attached to his Hotel, erected in place of the old one destroyed by fire, fully completed. The new one is 78 by 34 feet, considerably larger than the old shed, is covered with slate, and is fitted with all the modern improvements. The Sheriff's enterprise, displayed in the rapid erection of this convenience for his customers, is truly commendable.

It is the duty of every Republican who has a team, to hook up on Tuesday, and take every Republican neighbor of his, who has no team to the polls. If a Democrat desires to ride along make room for him too, and let your conversation be such as to convince him that he too ought to vote as well as ride with you.

ELECTORS:

G. Morrison Coates, Winthrop W. Ketcham, Thomas M. Marshall, Samuel Knorr, William H. Barnes, Benj. F. Wagnessler, William J. Pollock, Charles H. Mullen, Richard Wilder, George W. Elder, George W. Hill, John Stewart, Watson P. Magill, Jacob Graffius, John H. Bringham, James Sill, John C. Hooton, Henry C. Johnson, Isaac Eckert, John K. Ewing, Maris Hoopes, William Frew, David M. Rank, Alex. W. Crawford, William Davis, James S. Rutan.

Look out for Naturalization frauds. Thousands of Naturalization papers have been honestly issued by the Courts of our Commonwealth. Be careful—be watchful—and you need not be surprised if in addition to these thousands of honest papers, other thousands of "Coffee stained" documents meet your eye. Chief Cook Wallace has set the pot a boiling without doubt, and even the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court, is now receiving an overhauling from the Court for the very queer way he has of guarding the purity of the ballot box. Republicans see to it that Democracy makes no capital out of a repetition of its disgraceful tricks. Watch every voter, and make every suspicious one give such an account of himself as will place his right to vote beyond a peradventure. Have every man who makes an attempt at fraud arrested and imprisoned, or bound over for his appearance at Court at once.

Republicans, watch the polls closely on Tuesday—guard them as you would the apple of your eyes. Efforts at the colonization of Democrats have already been discovered; and numbers of Democratic voters, imported from Maryland, and other States where there is no voting until in November, are now confined in the jails of the bordering Counties of the State, and of Philadelphia, for aiming to carry out this mean contemptible fraud upon honest voters. Look out for all such even in our own midst.

Republican voters be on the ground early on Tuesday, vote as soon as the polls are opened, and then go to work and see how many votes you can make for the good cause. Don't, however get into the predicament of the man who, after working hard all day went home when the Polls closed, only to remember that he had really forgotten to vote himself. Such a thing has happened and may happen again.

Church Notice.

The pews of the New Presbyterian Church will be disposed of, on Friday, October 9th, when all persons wishing them, and who are interested in the welfare of the church, will be present at the audience Room, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

ROBERT BROWN, President.

Derangement of the Bowels.

Judicious use of Speer's "Standard Wine Bitters" in keeping the system in tone, and preventing derangement of the Bowels, is almost a belief. Try them, and you will be convinced of the fact.

For sale by Fred. Brown, Johnson, Holloway & Co., and other Druggists.

The Press of Tuesday last reports that on the preceding day seven hundred and twenty naturalizations were granted by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the space of five working hours. This is at the rate of two and a half per minute. Anybody can understand what a farceful proceeding this has been. The men were examined and the oaths administered in many cases by the stipstaves, in the absence of the Judge. The court was simply converted into a mill for grinding out Democratic votes. It is further asserted by the Press that quantities of naturalization papers, signed and certified, and bearing the seal of the Court, but with the names left blank, have been issued in that city. This is according to the tactics of Senator Wallace in Luzerne and Centre counties. The whole number regularly naturalized week before last in Philadelphia was over two thousand. How easy it is to make Democratic votes when they are wanted.

In all their howling about the great national debt, and the government taxes which are oppressive to everybody but those who pay them, the Democrats forget to state the main fact. They do not tell us how this immense debt was created. They say that it was contracted by a Republican Administration, but they always omit to add that it was caused by a Democratic Rebellion. Of course the Democrats, may of whom wanted the Rebellion to succeed, object to paying the cost of putting it down. That is natural. They might as well be honest about it, and tell the truth. They would a great deal rather comply with the demand of Semmes, Forrest and Hampton, and assume the Rebel debt. They would yoke the two together, and then repudiate them both. The Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, which they now declare invalid, is the only legal obstacle in the way.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3.—E. S. Keener a Deputy Collector on this side of the mountains, was arrested this afternoon and held to bail in the sum of $1,000 on charge of colonizing Democratic voters in the Hon. John Covode's (XXIst) District. Three other men were arrested with him on the same charge and held to bail to answer on Wednesday. The complainant in the case is the Hon. John Covode.

It is said that rats may be effectually driven from any building by sprinkling their places of resort with yellow ochre.

The last desperate artifice of the Copperhead leaders to carry Pennsylvania next week is to issue reams of fresh naturalization papers to men who are unprovided with them, wherever they can be found. Many thousands of Democratic voters have been manufactured in Philadelphia during the last three weeks by Senator Wallace's committee. By the peculiar process employed it is as easy to make ten thousand votes as one hundred, except the manual labor of filling up the blanks. Philadelphia is now full of rowdies and thieves brought there to vote on these papers made to order. Wallace and his assistants have faithfully tried to make and import enough new votes to swamp the supposed Republican majority in Pennsylvania, but we are yet confident that there are sufficient intelligent and patriotic men the State to disappoint their hops.

A citizen of Philadelphia, while walking along Washington street on Wednesday evening last, with his wife, passed a house which was illuminated and remarked "Hurrah for Grant." A rowdy named Devine, who was on the sidewalk, drew a pistol and snapped it twice in the citizen's face. He was arrested by a police man who happened to be near, when it was found that two barrels of the pistol were loaded, and that the Republican's escape was almost miraculous. Devine was taken to the police station and searched further, when twelve blank certificates of naturalization, signed by the Prothonotary and bearing the seal of the Supreme Court, were found on his person. They only needed the insertion of names to make them complete. This is the kind of material the Democrats are using to help them carry Philadelphia. Murder and fraud go hand in hand with the cause of Seymour and Blair.

What Grant and Colfax will receive, is indicated by Horace Greeley, after a full survey of all the ground to be travelled over between this and the November election. He says:

1. Grant and Colfax will probably receive the electoral vote of from twenty-four to twenty-eight States.

2. Grant and Colfax will be elected whether New York votes Republican or not.

3. Seymour and Blair are sure to carry two States, are likely to carry six, and may even ten. But the last figures are improbable. And now, Friends of Freedom, Union and Peace everywhere, all these figures are based on the assumption that the truth will encourage you to industry, not lull you to slumber. We state our actual strength for this campaign. It remains for you to use it.—Shirk no labor—Stick at no sacrifice.—Halt at no obstacles. In the indomitable spirit of your great leader, "keep pegging away," and in November you may expect about the result we have set forth.

Justice William Strong, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, elected in 1857, resigned his seat upon the bench a few days ago. In his letter of resignation, addressed to Governor Geary, he expressed the wish that Hon. Henry W. Williams, of Pittsburg, might be appointed to fill the vacancy. Judge Williams, it will be remembered, was the competitor of Judge Sharswood, who was elected last fall by fraudulent voting in Luzerne and Centre counties and Philadelphia. The appointment was tendered to Judge W. by the Governor on Wednesday last, and on the same day it was accepted. This charge will have the effect of placing a majority of Republican Judges on the bench of the Supreme Court. Judge Strong was elected as a Democrat, but has been a good Union man since the Rebellion.

The Democrats boastfully tell us that after the election we shall hear the "Rebel yell." We hear it already. We recognize the Rebel yell in the acts of violence and fraud which are now perpetrated every day by the lawless men of that party. The outrages and murders committed upon Union men in almost every part of the South are echoed by the reckless and riotous conduct of the Northern Copperheads. We hear the Rebel shriek in the assaults made every night in Philadelphia upon peaceable citizens by members of Democratic clubs and processions. If is evidenced in the enormous frauds and forgeries of naturalization papers which have been discovered in that city. And it is now upon the lips of those who tell us that after the election it shall be sounded in our ears. But the day of its triumph shall never come!

Robert M. Douglas, the eldest son of the great leader of the Western Democracy in the days that are past, is an ardent supporter of Grant and Colfax. He addressed a Republican mass meeting at Raleigh, North Carolina, appealing to his hearers to follow the loyal teachings of his father. He related how his father's and his own property in the South had been confiscated by the Rebels, and himself stigmatized now as a Yankee and a carpet bagger, and declared that the only hope for future prosperity and harmony rested upon the election of Grant and Colfax. Thus the gifted young men of the country, without regard to former affinities, are ranging themselves on the side of a peaceful and progressive government.

During the war, it was just as much the duty of the capitalist to loan money to the Government, in its hour of need, as it was the duty of the soldier to fight, the refusal of the soldier to fight would have been treason, punishable with death. The refusal of the capitalist to loan money, from a desire to cripple the Government, was no less treason, but is not so recognized by the law. Men who deserted rather than fight, were shot.—The friends of Haratto Seymour, who boast that he never loaned a dollar to the Government, want to make him President.

Fifteen thousand stalwart Republicans turned out at Carlinville, Ill., the other day. The Rebels fell on their knees under the impression at a South America earthquake had broken loose.

That the soldiers of the Union army were not, in the opinion of Horatio Seymour, fit to vote, is proved by his veto of the act of the New York Legislature which provided for their ballots being taken in camp and field. His veto bears date April 24th, 1863. The soldiers of Pennsylvania will certainly resent this insult to their comrades of the Empire State.
