

English Chancery Cases.
Mr. Judah P. Benjamin, late rebel, now practicing law in London, has done a good many foolish people a service, if they will but heed his words. In a published letter he warns Americans against spending money to secure property awaiting heirs in the English Chancery Courts. He shows that the funds devoted to such objects are wasted on sharpers, and instances the great Jennings estate case as a remarkable example of folly, saying that "some of those who have spent money in this way have actually been deluded into writing to me their conviction that they were entitled to dislodge the present Duke of Marlborough from Blenheim Castle, by virtue of their descent from the famous Duchess, Sarah Jennings." He adds this piece of information, which will be of service to many who hope to be enriched through the accumulations of Englishmen whose names they may happen to bear:

Most of the persons who are duped are ignorant on two points which, in nearly every instance, would satisfy them at once if the utter folly of the hopes they indulge. The first is that an alien cannot be an heir in England when there is no will, and that he cannot take real estate even if to him by will. The second is that, in England, estates devolve upon the eldest son alone, and on his eldest son in succession, and are not divided in shares among all the children, as in Louisiana and other States. Yet nothing is more common than for persons to assert heirship to the supposed shares of younger brothers and sisters, or to claim, as natives of the United States, heirship to Englishmen who had left no wills.

A correspondent of the Tribune says: "The war of women against whisky has commenced in Perryville, Ashland County, Ohio. A man opened a rum-shop in that place recently, and the women did not like it. They proposed to buy him out; but, as he intended to build up a large trade, he refused to sell. The women however, were determined that he should not remain; and so since he refused the very liberal terms they offered, they formed in line, and with axes on their shoulders, marched to his place, and deliberately broke in the heads of all his barrels. Of course, the man was angry and brought a suit in the county court; but was beaten, after incurring heavy expense. The people of this part of Ohio honestly think that the next war in this country will be between the women and whisky; and, though there may not be much blood shed, you may rest assured rum will flow freely in the gutters. As the women of Ashland County have taken the matter in hand once before, we claim to have fought the Bunker Hill of the new revolution."

It is safe now to predict that we shall hear no more of the Ku-Klux in the South. For more than a month past, these assassins have been gradually withdrawing from the theatre of their bloody deeds, and as the time approached for yielding up of the power with which a murderer invested Andrew Johnson, Ku-Klux dwindled, and receded until it has now actually vanished. Henceforth there will be no further Ku-Klux murders in the South, because those assassins no longer have a friend at court. The work of blood has ended—Grant will give peace to all the country.

A St. Joseph, Mo., Mechanic recently invested $30 for the purpose of obtaining valuable prizes which he had "drawn." Of course he never received them. After cogitating on the matter, he wrote over an assumed name, representing that if he could draw a good prize he would get others to invest. Upon this the lottery managers sent him about $50 worth of silver plate, etc., the package marked "C. O. D." When notified of their arrival, he attached them, won the suit, and the lottery people "smell a mice."

Cure for the Itch.
Take fresh butter, one pound, put it into a skillet, boil all the pickle out, skim it will, then add one ounce Venice turpentine and one ounce of red precipitate; stir till cool or the precipitate will settle to the bottom. This will cure seven years itch, I think if preserved in a short time. It has not the disagreeable smell of preparations made with sulphur.—Rural New Yorker.

A valuable Hambletonian colt was last week sold by Mr. Daniel Utter to James H. Bowman, of Branchville, the price paid being understood to be $2,500. The colt is three years old, and is considered by good judges to be the most promising in the State. He had been for some time previous to the sale under the care of Ed. Shepherd, at the Anderson House stables.—Sussex Register.

BUCHU.
[From Dispensatory of the United States.]
DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.
Properties.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitertish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs. They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Mucous Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

HELMHOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement, or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Elcerated or Scirrhous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhoea, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous deposits, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMHOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck, of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.
