

OFFENSIVE BREATH.—Offensive breath is sometimes occasioned by carious teeth. Delescotte's myrtle opiate has been recommended as a counteractive in such cases, this is prepared by immersing eight ounces of the best honey with two ounces of rose water, over a gentle fire for a few minutes, and then adding as much powdered myrrh and Armenian bole as will form a soft paste. It is applied to the teeth on a brush, and is generally successful in removing any unpleasant odor from them for a time. Also, if the mouth be well rinsed with a teaspoonful of the solution of the chloride of soda in a tumbler of water, the bad odor of the teeth will be destroyed. The following preparation, diluted with water, may be used: Chloride of lime, a quarter of an ounce; water, one ounce; agitate well together for half an hour in a small phial; filter, and add spirit, one ounce; rose or orange flower water half an ounce.

Put a Hole Through it.
One night Gen. _____ was on the line. He observed a light on the mountain opposite. Thinking it was a signal light of the enemy, he told his artillery officer that a hole could be easily put through it. Whereupon the officer, turning to the corporal in charge of the gun said:
"Corporal, do you see that light?"
"Yes, sir."
"Put a hole through it."
The corporal sighted the gun, when all was ready, he looked up and said:
"General, that's the moon."
"Don't care a darn; put a hole through it anyway!"

The school teachers of Connecticut do not make a very respectable exhibition of their qualifications as spellers. It is stated that a prize of ten dollars was offered by the Connecticut Teachers' Institute to any one who could spell the following lines without a mistake. Thirty teachers competed but not one gained the prize: "It is an agreeable sight to witness the unparalleled embarrassment of a harness peddler attempting to gauge the symmetry of a peeled onion, which a sybil has stabbed with poniard, regardless of the inuendos of the lilies of cornelian hue."

To Freshen Salt Fish.
Many persons who are in the habit of freshening mackerel, or other salt fish, never dream that there is a right and wrong way to do it. Any person who has seen the process of evaporation going on at the salt works, knows that the salt falls to the bottom. Just so it is in the pan where the mackerel or white fish lies soaking as it lies with the skin down, the salt will fall to the skin and there remain when, if placed with the flesh side down, the salt will fall to the bottom of the pan, and the fish comes out freshened as it should be. In the other case it is nearly as salt as when put in.

How to Preserve Eggs.
An easy way to preserve eggs is to rub the outside of the shell as soon as it is gathered from the nest, with a little butter or any other grease that is not fetid. By filling up the pores of the shell, the evaporation of the liquid part of the eggs is prevented, and by this means excludes the external air. The milkiness which most people are fond of in new laid eggs, will be preserved for months, as perfect as when taken from the nest.

How to Shake Off Trouble.—See about doing good to somebody. Put on your hat and go and visit the sick and the poor; inquire into their wants, and minister to them. Try this method, and you will find it to be the best medicine for a heavy heart.
