THURSDAY, MAY 4, 1871.

Quarterly Meeting, at Tannersville, Tuesday 9th, inst. Quarterly Conference 3 P. M. Preaching at 7 1/2 o'clock P. M. by Rev. William Cooper, D. D. P. E. J. PASTORFIELD, Pastor.

Choice Segars, Tobacco, &c., at M. L. Phillips'.

The large Planing Mill and Sash Factory in course of erection, near the Iron Bridge, at the Kot of Walnut street, in this borough, for Mr. Charles Wintermute, is steadily progressing. The foundation is completed, and ready for the carpenters.

Dangerous.

The habit some children have, little girls and boys, of running after and jumping on the street cars as they pass along will, some day, give extra employment to the undertaker, or at least the Doctor, which is about the same thing, if long persisted in. A little daughter of Mr. Christian Hiller made a very narrow escape on Monday afternoon last.

Chas. Fritz Herman, the popular and enterprising "ice cream man" was the recipient of a handsome present on Saturday evening last. Quite a number of his friends were present and appropriate remarks were made upon the occasion. Fritz, we are happy to state, has swung true blue to the breeze and proposes soon to launch his bonnie craft into a sea of matrimony, or in other words is about to take unto himself a "frun." May the paddle wheels of love propel him safely down the stream of life.

Go to M. L. Phillips', for fine and common candies.

Excursion to New York for $2, on Thursday, May 11th, 1871, and return the day following, provided, the tickets (100) are taken on or before Saturday, the 6th inst. Leave Stroudsburg at 11:15 a. m., arrive at New York at 3 p. m. Leave New York at 4 p. m., arrive at Stroudsburg 7:56 p. m. Tickets to be had in Stroudsburg at P. S. Williams' Jewelry Store. East Stroudsburg, of H. B. Hitchcock, at Depot. Tickets good for the money in case of a failure. COMMITTEE.

Severe Accident.

While Dr. N. Peck, and several others, were examining a revolving pistol in the hands of John Forker, in John G. Keller's dry goods store, on Thursday afternoon last, the pistol was accidentally discharged, and the ball lodged in Doctor Peck's leg, just below the knee, inflicting a severe and most painful wound. Drs. Biddack and Scip were at once summoned to attend to the case, but, after most thorough search, were unable to find the ball. Dr. Peck is still confined to his home and bed with his wound, but, we are pleased to learn, that, in the opinion of his Physicians, he will soon be restored to the practice of his profession, without material inconvenience to his locomotion. The shot was purely accidental, and no one more bitterly regrets its occurrence than the young man who held the pistol.

About Right.

The new Town Council have set about things in the right style, in the way of cleaning up the streets. Within the last week they set the borough Constable at work, and the way store boxes, grindstones, threshing Machines, Plows, tonbonnets, fish barrels, &c., &c., "womscud the ranch" was a caution. Some of the old fogies, who had an idea that a cluttering up of the side walks was a sign of a rushing business, shook their heads and looked indignant at the innovation, but they finally came to like good boys. Main street now looks well. Now let the side and back streets feel the effect of the same progressive spirit.

Ladies and Misses' fine Shoes, at Simon Fried's, at prices that will satisfy everybody, in Keller's building, Main street, Stroudsburg, Pa.

Go and see it.

Messrs. Jones & Morton's Gigantic Combination Polyorama—the mammoth exhibition of the age—will open at Hollinshead's Hall, on this, Thursday, evening, May 4th. The Press, all over the country, both Religious and secular, where this exhibition has been, speak in the highest terms of it as a moral, instructive and entertaining affair, and one which everybody should attend. The entertainment is in shape of a Panorama of splendor and accuracy, and embraces within its scope Astronomy, the Bible, and general scenery, all of which is made plain to the observer in a lecture which will be delivered by Lieut. A. P. Morton, A. M., formerly of Columbia, whose knowledge of Astronomy is profound and whose experience and reputation as a lecturer is unsurpassed. Remember this is no Stereoscopic or magic humbug, but a genuine Panorama painted by a German Artist, and as a work of art alone is worth much more to witness it than the price of admission. Go and see it by all means. Admission 25 cents, children under 11 years 15 cents; Families admitted at a discount from these prices.

The Woolen Mill, in which operations were suspended some two months ago, still remains in statu quo. It is to be hoped that the hum of the loom and spindle will be heard, ere long.

The weather could not have been better, if it had been made to the order of the most fastidious old maid, than it has been during the past week. Neither too cool nor too warm—too wet nor too dry, but a most delicious between the two.

He went Saturday, to stay all the year in the city to pick out the prettiest and cheapest dress goods, boots and shoes, ready made clothing, hats and caps, &c., &c.

We mean Mr. Decker, of the wonderful cheap Auction store. He spends his time, this summer in the City, to buy goods for his store in Stroudsburg, and the people may look out for new and cheap goods every week, and some at half price. Mr. Amzi B. Wyckoff will take charge of the store. May 4-4t.

If you want choice Almonds and Figs, go to M. L. Phillips'.

An important change in the time of running the passenger trains on the D. L. & W. Rail Road commenced on Monday last. The Morning train South passes the Depot at East Stroudsburg at 11:15 a. m. and North at 11:55 a. m. The Evening train South passes at 5:20 p. m., and North at 7:56 p. m. In addition to these trains an accommodation train runs from Stroudsburg to Tobyhanna for the convenience of the inhabitants of a section of country not favored by the stoppage of the regular passenger trains. The time of arrival of this train at the East Stroudsburg Depot is 4:45; Departure 12:05. By the new arrangement Passengers gain an hour each in going to and returning from New York and Philadelphia.

If you want to get a nice hat, just the style, go to Simon Fried's, Main street, Stroudsburg, Monroe county, Pa.

One of the most ingenious little contrivances that has come under our observation in many a long day, and one too of real value to its possessor, is "Palmer's Patent Automatic Bobbin Winder," for Shuttle Sewing Machines. The Winder takes up but little more room than the ordinary Winder in use, and can be readily attached to any Shuttle Machine, without either marring the Machine or interfering in the least with the operator while at work. Its great advantages are, that it does away with all necessity for stopping to wind bobbins; you have but to put the bobbin in the winder, as in the ordinary winder, and go on with your work of sewing; when the bobbin is full, the Machine, being automatic, disconnects itself from the driving wheel and you have your bobbin wound as smoothly and evenly as the best spool of cotton you can purchase at the stores. The bobbins wound by this simple invention, contain at least one-third more thread than can possibly be got on them when wound by the usual winder; and being more even affords a more regular strain on the thread, thus securing a more even tension in the sewing and making the lock stitch vastly more perfect than any other. Some one of our enterprising Sewing Machine Agents should secure a supply of these winders, as we are certain they could find ready sale for them. In the meantime any of our readers having shuttle Machines can readily secure one by Express on Addressing, Messrs. Pratt, Palmer & Co., 334 Broom St., New York.

Our Scranton Correspondent informs us, by private letter that up to Tuesday last, no further developments looking to a very speedy resumption of mining operations in that locality, had transpired within the past week. A meeting of the miners was held in Hyde Park on Monday, when a committee was appointed, who were instructed to report to the representatives of the several companies that the men were ready to resume at $1.10 per Diamond Car. The companies, however seem more than ever determined not to yield to the miners, and this offer was also rejected. He also informs us that destitution and actual starvation among the poorer classes, is becoming truly alarming.

Anything in the Confectionery line,—fresh—always on hand at M. L. Phillips'.

Lynford Marsh, Esq., has commenced tearing away a portion of his present residence for the purpose of erecting a handsome brick in its stead. It is the design of the Sheriff, we understand to cover the whole front of his lot with a structure, to be occupied as stores and residences of which the town may well feel proud.

Peter S. Williams, Esq., has just returned from the city with a splendid addition to his already large stock of Jewelry. Peter has determined to make spectacles a speciality in his business, and in this line his stock is unusually large and fine. Call and see him.

Mr. Wm. S. Wintermute has a large force of carpenters at work, finishing the large brick building erected by him last fall, on the site of the one carried away by the flood.

Go to Simon Fried's, Main street, Stroudsburg, Pa., if you need anything in the line of clothing, boots, shoes, hats and caps. Mr. Fried has a better selection—and sells cheaper than any other man in this part of the county.

Our advertising friends have drawn largely upon our columns this week. Not to be behind the rest old "fire facias," had to poke his nose in too.

The Glorious Democratic victory in New Hampshire appears to grow less glorious every day. The House is Republican by an excellent working majority, and our friends are thus prepared to prevent the infliction of evil upon the State, if they have not the power to secure for it a positive good.

(Communicated.)

Mr. Editor:—In view of the approaching 30th of May—decoration day—the writer desires to inquire through the columns of your valuable paper, what preparations are being made for a proper observance of that day in Stroudsburg. It is true that the order known as the "Grand Army of the Republic," once in a flourishing condition in our midst, has become a defunct institution, which, alas, is the fate of entirely too many enterprises of a similar character that are started among us. The fact, however, that such an order does not exist in our midst, should not be taken as an excuse for permitting the day to pass by without paying some tribute of respect to the memory of our fallen heroes. And what more befitting, and yet simple, manner could be devised, than to visit the various cemeteries on that day, and strew wreaths and garlands of flowers upon the graves of those who laid down their lives in defence of their country's honor. A lukewarmness, in this respect, is entirely too apparent among our citizens.

While the day was appropriately observed last year in every other village and hamlet throughout the country, we venture the assertion that not one flower was strewn, nor one tear shed, over the grave of a single hero who sleeps beneath the sods in our several cemeteries. Was this because of their surviving comrades failing to manifest the interest toward their fallen comrades that they should have done, or has all the love and gratitude once extended to those brave boys ceased to exist within the breasts of our citizens? These are questions which concern one and all, and should be seriously reflected upon. In the hour of dangers when our country was greatly imperiled and the old flag had been grossly insulted by rebels and traitors, these brave men left their homes and all that was near and dear to them, to endure the hardships, privations and dangers of the camp and battle, that their country might, in the future as in the past, be free and prosperous. Thousands upon thousands to-day fill unknown graves in various localities in the South, to whom no tribute of respect can be paid, except the silent tear dropped by some near and dear relative or friend who survives them. There were however, a large number who were fortunate enough to reach their homes and receive Christian burial, and to permit this one day in the year, set apart and especially designated "Decoration Day," to pass by unobserved and unnoticed, stamps a stain upon any community, that time can never erase. The Grand Army of the Republic throughout the country are already making extensive preparations for a proper observance of that day, and, as no such order exists in Stroudsburg, let our citizens one and all, associate themselves together for this purpose. Let each man, woman and child, form a wreath, flower a garland, or pluck a bouquet, of the choicest flowers they can find, and go silently into the cemetery and strew the flowers and shed a silent tear upon the grave of some loved one. Let it not be said that the people of Stroudsburg again permitted this day to pass by unobserved. SOLON.

But there are times when this "Renewer of Strength" is denied us, times when our minds and bodies have been so over-worked and are so worn out that we "woo the drowsy God in vain." CHEMISTRY is furnishing us new agents for fuel, food and many other important aids over those we once possessed. Ports from which commerce was driven during the hot months by their terrible fevers are visited all the year with impunity now. Many localities in the South and West kept tenanted by their deleterious miasms are now filling up with populations under the protection of Ayer's Ague Cure. Their afflicting Chills and Fever are so effectively cured by this remedy that the disease no longer turns emigration aside or destroys the settler if he ventures upon its infected districts. One of Barnum's circus wagons was struck by the 7 A. M. train from Plainfield, N. J., for New York, near Cranford, last Thursday morning. Three men were killed and three injured, two of the latter dangerously. Two mules were also killed, and a provision wagon was demolished. The disaster was caused by the carelessness of the driver of the circus wagon.

James Wallace, a Northern man who went South to reside after the war, has recently quitted Mississippi for his old home in Wisconsin, declaring he does not want to live where loyalty to the Government is a capital offence, and the punishment administered after dark by cowards disguised as assassins.

TWO Thousand MEN RESUME WORK. Miners Yield and Resolve to Resume.

WILKESBARRE, May 2.—At a meeting of miners employed by the Wilkesbarre Coal and Iron Company, this afternoon, it was decided to accept the terms offered them on Monday. They resolved to go to work on Thursday morning, the men in the Hartford mine conceding what is equivalent to a reduction of five cents per ton. This company have eight breakers, and ship from sixty to seventy-five thousand tons per month and employ about two thousand men. This ends the suspension in the Wyoming region and makes a break in the dead lock. General resumption may be confidently expected inside of thirty days.

A case involving the validity of church subscriptions was lately tried in Ohio before the Supreme Court. The Court decided that after a church has incurred any liabilities on the strength of subscriptions, they are legally binding, and can be collected by due process of law. In case of the subscription being made for the purpose of the payment of a church debt, the Court held that the subscriber was bound to pay. If a subscription is not made for the express purpose of paying off a debt, or if there should be no indebtedness on the church at the time it was made, it can be withdrawn, but not after a debt is incurred.

Mrs. Elizabeth Small of Portland, Me., all the time lies in bed, and eats nothing unless obliged by force to swallow food. She is declared to be "in a trance;" yet, a true woman is she still; for, eating nothing keeping her bed, not knowing her nearest friends, she continues to converse and sing. Really, this is interesting—Stomach gone, legs (if we may use the word) gone, eyes refusing to recognize old faces, the tongue yet remains triphantly lively. By the way, what is "a trance?" It is important to know definitely, in this time of trance mediums, whether it be ecstasy, or rapture, or epilepsy. It used to be one of these in old-fashioned days—it is pretty hard to determine exactly what it is now.

It is reported from Washington that the Supreme Court of the United States has come to a new decision on the legal tender question, holding now that the law of 1862 is constitutional in its application to contracts made before its enactment. The practical point is that obligations made under stipulating for payment in any special kind of money may be settled with greenbacks, or treasury notes. It is held by the Court, however, that contracts made specifically payable in gold must be discharged in that kind of money. The Court is said to have voted five to four on the legal tender question, Chief Justice Chase, the father of the enactment, now voting in opposition. The decision will probably not be formal announced for some time. In regard to the binding force of specific gold contracts the Court was unanimous. The practical effect of the decision, which will now be permanent, will be to establish business transactions upon the basis that has been observed by general consent during the last seven or eight years.

From week to week the sad story of internal warfare in France goes on. The strife between the rival factions for the possession of Paris has shown few new features during the last ten days. The Assembly or Government forces have an ultimate advantage in holding the outward position, enabling them to cut off to a great extent the supplies of food to the Communists inside the city. This process, which worked so effectively when applied by the Germans, may have the same result now. On the other hand, the Communists are in possession of forts that have been made almost impregnable, and which enable them to overawe the entire population of Paris. Late dispatches state that the Assembly forces, under the head of MacMahon, are going ground, and Thiers announced on Friday that he expected an early surrender of the insurgents. The Communists still talk boastfully, but this is the habit of the French. Many thousands of Frenchmen have already fallen in this civil strife, and the material and moral injury to France has been far worse than that suffered from the German armies.—The latter yet remain inactive, but it is readily perceived that their sympathies are altogether with the cause of law and order, as represented in the Versailles Assembly.

The monthly statement of the Public Debt shows a decrease of $6,124,053.13 something less than the average during the present Administration. The total decrease since President Grant began his system of retrenchment, twenty six months ago, is $221,889,716 87. During the same time the annual interest charge has been reduced $1,072,503 33. These significant figures are their own best comment.

There was a destructive hail storm at Jacksonville, Illinois, on Saturday night, continuing for about 15 minutes. In many cases trees were stripped of half their foliage. The destruction of fruit amounts to fully half the crop. Vegetable and flowers sustained considerable damage, and there is not a skylight left in the city. Many birds were killed by the falling hail. Fortunately the area of the storm was but a few miles in width.

Travellers are always liable to sudden attacks of Dysentery and Cholera Morbus, and these occurring when absent from home, are very unpleasant. The PAIN KILLER may always be relied upon in such cases. As soon as you feel the symptoms, take one teaspoonful in a gill of new milk and molasses and a gill of hot water, stir well together and drink hot. Repeat the dose every hour until relieved. If the pains be severe, bathe the bowels and back with the medicine clear.

In cases of Asthma and Phthisis, take a teaspoonful in a gill of hot water sweetened with molasses; also bathe the throat and stomach frequently with the medicine, clear.

Dr. Sweet says it takes out the soreness in cases of bonneting faster than anything he ever applied.

Fishermen, so often exposed to hurts by having their skin pierced with hooks and fins of fish, can be relieved by bathing with the Pain Killer as soon as the accident occurs; in this way the anguish is soon abated; trouble as often as once in five minutes, say three or four times, and you will seldom have any trouble.

The bites and scratches of dogs and cats are soon cured by bathing with the Pain Killer clear. May 4, 1871.—1m.
