

We had quite a little spurt of lightning, thunder, wind and rain on Monday afternoon last. Since then the air has been delightfully cool and tracing.

Mr. G. F. Kieckler, is engaged in completing a very neat and comfortable frame dwelling house on Raif street.

The filling up of the Side walk, along Mr. Joseph Kellers property on Monroe street is a job that was much needed to be done. It is being well done too. So also is the job of filling up the many water and mud holes on main street.

We were pleased to see, notwithstanding his late severe wound, our young friend Dr. N. L. Peck, on the Streets on Monday last. Though a little limping in his gait, the Doctor appears fully able to attend, in the most skillful manner, to the wants of all requiring the services of a first class Dentist. He can always be found at his office, from this date.

The Street Sprinkler will soon be an institution of our borough. We saw it a day or two since, with the tinkers at work at it, and Joe, the proprietor, that very "Prince of good whips," with mouth stretched good and wide, tickled almost to pieces at the prospect. Thus step by step we are approaching the city standard. First the street passenger Rail-Way, and now the street Sprinkler. When you have a jolly time, when the burning, dusty days arrive; cool and gloriously refreshing will be our atmosphere in those days.

Decoration Day in Stroudsburg. All soldiers of Stroudsburg, and vicinity, are respectfully invited to participate in the decoration of soldiers graves, on Tuesday the 30th of May, to assemble at "Phoenix Hall," at 2 o'clock p. m. The procession form and move as follows: down Elizabeth street to the old Grave Yard, when a short address will be delivered and a prayer offered; from thence to the Friends Grave Yard, Quaker Alley; from thence to the Friends Grave Yard, on Bark street; and from thence to the Cemetery, where a closing address will be delivered and prayer offered. Contributions of flowers will be received at Phoenix Hall, Monday afternoon, and Tuesday morning.

By order of COMMITTEE. We are indebted to the agent, Col. C. D. Broadhead, for the privilege of experimenting with a cake of Warfield's Cold water self washing soap. Our folks in the family used it last wash day, and found it to be all that it was represented to be, washing the finest fabrics, as well as the coarsest, in cold or warm water, far better and quicker than when old homemade soap was used, without either the use of boiler or machinery. Wish half a bar of the soap, a large wash was done in our family on Monday last, with an ease that was never before experienced on wash day, and it mattered not how dirty the piece or how much spotted with grease or printers ink, all came out white as the driven snow. Broadhead has this ne plus ultra of all soaps on sale, and every family should try it. Besides its washing qualities, the Soap has a most decidedly soothing effect upon the skin, rendering the hands soft and smooth, instead of hard and rough, as is the case with other laundry soaps.

The Boonton Branch.—The Delaware Lackawanna & Western Company are now running five trains each way over the Boonton Branch of their road, which runs from Dover to Hoboken, making the distance by the Morris & Essex Division Cars about one hour ride shorter. This new cut off not only shortens the road to New York, but the grades are much easier, and heavier coal trains can be drawn to the market than heretofore. The road is a broad and narrow gauge, and it is expected that all through trains will take that route. The road passes through a fine country, leaving the main line about one mile east of Dover and passing west of the high hills, cross the old line at right angles at Denville and there takes a direct course to Boonton, thence along a fine level country to Patterson, and thence to Hoboken, running almost parallel to the Erie Railroad. Over this branch the Delaware Lackawanna & Western Company are now running their through trains from New York to Oswego in about twelve hours time.

Melancholy Death.—The Rev. Stearns Patterson, a retired clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal Denomination, and who has resided near this borough, for several years past, was kicked by a horse, and instantly killed, on Friday evening last. Owing to ill health, the Reverend Gentleman retired from the active duties of his profession, and several years ago purchased and settled upon a small farm about two miles from town. As much as was possible in his feeble condition, he gave his attention to farming, and on the evening of the accident was present in the field where one of his sons was plowing. The young man being hungry and thirsty requested his father to see to the team while he went into the house to procure a drink of water and something to eat. He had not been gone ten minutes, ere he returned and found his father lying across the plow beam, gasping his last. From the marks in his temple it was plain that his death resulted from a kick from one of the horses. The sudden death of Mr. Patterson, and the manner of it, caused a gloom to settle over our whole community. Man could not possibly be more honorable, upright and christian, in his conduct and character than he; and no one, in the short time of his sojourn among us could so certainly and firmly have secured a place in the respect and confidence of our people. His death is lamented by our whole community.

OUR SCRANTON LETTER. SCRANTON, May 21st, 1871.

FRIEND SCHOCK.—Our whole community are rejoicing over the fact that a general resumption of mining operations throughout the entire Lackawanna region will take place within a few days. Very nearly six long months have elapsed since the suspension commenced, and the financial blow which has been dealt to our general business interests is truly startling. The miners have fought like heroes during this struggle, in order to gain their point, and, they have, in a manner, come off the victors, inasmuch as the Companies finally made an advance of five cents upon their original offer of eighty-six cents per Diamond Car. Were it not for the disgraceful and outrageous course pursued by the miners for the past two months, upon the persons and property of innocent and honest men, the right hand of good-fellowship could now be cordially extended to them, but their reckless action, regardless of all law and order, will forever stamp disgrace and infamy upon their characters. Your correspondent has endeavored to keep your readers thoroughly conversant with the true state of affairs in this locality from the commencement of the suspension, and they can now judge for themselves, in view of the disgraceful rioting, &c., whether or not, public opinion is to blame for being prejudiced. The suspension is at an end, it is true, but still, the events of the past fortnight, which have been equally as infamous as their former proceedings, may be of interest to the readers of the JEFFERSONIAN.

On the 12th inst., quite a number of the miners and laborers employed by the Lackawanna Iron and Coal Company, signified their willingness to enter the Briggs Shaft, and resume operations immediately, providing they should receive proper protection from the demons who were opposed to a resumption. Accordingly, on the 15th inst., all the necessary arrangements having been completed, these honest men, headed by Mr. W. W. Scranton, proceeded to the shaft in a body, amid the jeers and curses of those who would oppose them, each man being armed with a Remington breech-loading rifle, and also accompanied by a squadron of soldiers, under command of Lieutenant Seelye. The soldiers have guarded the works night and day ever since, to protect the men while at work, and to prevent the infuriated mob, who continually loitered about the works, from carrying their devilish threats into execution. Some of them even went so far as to intimate that a second Avondale affair would be the inevitable result, did they get an opportunity to fire the breaker. The men, after descending the shaft, cut coal until about 11 o'clock, when, as they had not provided themselves with refreshments, they were hoisted up, and were escorted to their homes by the soldiers: being allowed a full day for the work they had accomplished. And thus was the back-bone of suspension crushed. Various speculations were afloat upon the streets that evening, to the effect that the men were intimidated, and would fail to return to their work on the following day. The doubtful ones were, however, very agreeably surprised, as on the following day the miners returned to the works, their number having been considerably increased.

While going too and from the works, these industrious men, whose only crime was that they preferred work to starvation, were continually made the subjects of insulting remarks and threats of violence, by their anti-working brethren, all of which they bore with a spirit of manliness. On Wednesday evening last, however, as the men were returning quietly and peaceably to their homes, after finishing their day's work, accompanied by the usual guard of soldiers, and when they had reached Fellows' Hall, on the old Hampton road, Hyde Park, they found the road completely blockaded by a mob of infuriated demons, consisting of men, women and children, who commenced hooting, and calling the laborers "blacklegs." The men proceeded quietly on, however, when finally a stone was hurled into their ranks, which was shortly followed by two more. At this, the patience of the men became exhausted, and one of their number leveled his rifle and fired, and the two brutes who threw the stones fell dead in their tracks. The excitement which followed this transaction, during the remainder of the night and the following day, was very intense, and finally terminated in the arrest of Mr. W. W. Scranton, and a man named Cairns, as being accessories to the murder. They were taken to Wilkes-Barre where they were released on bail the former for $15,000, and the latter for $10,000. And thus ended another, and it is to be hoped the last, disgraceful chapter in the round of suspension. The funerals of the two unfortunate victims, which took place on Friday afternoon, were attended by upwards of 3,000 persons.

Senator Buckalew's bill establishing the principle of cumulative voting in the election of borough officers has passed both branches of the Legislature, and will go in force at the next election. Under its operation electors will be able to concentrate their votes upon favorite candidates, if they please. Thus if five councilmen are to be chosen, one vote may be cast for each of them, as at present, or five may be given for a single candidate. The law, we believe, applies only to boroughs incorporated according to the general act of the Legislature on the subject, and those holding special charters are not subject to its operation.

Yesterday's dispatches from Europe inform us that the great struggle of the French factions for possession of the government is about ended. The Versailles forces entered Paris at four o'clock on Sunday afternoon. The Communists abandoned their forts and retreated to the interior of the city. Great disorder and panic prevailed, and the Communist bubble has evidently exploded. In a few days the Versailles or Thiers government will be generally recognized, and then will come the final settlement with the conquering Germans.

A tornado swept over Bridgeport, in the southwest part of Chicago, on Tuesday evening, which blew down a number of buildings, including a Catholic Church. A Mrs. Mary Moors was killed, and several other persons were injured. The dead bodies of two boys were found on a railroad track near the city, the same evening. It is supposed that, having sought shelter from the storm, under some freight cars, the cars, being forced into motion by the wind, ran over them.—Montgomery, Ills. was also visited by a tornado, on Tuesday afternoon, which demolished a lumber warehouse and one or two other buildings.

The fishing season along all of the southern coast, in the bays and rivers, has been unprecedented for years. Seines were hauled but half the time, and yet salt oysters could not be procured to save the catch. Herring sold at $1 per thousand, and other fish in proportion. If there were only railroads to convey them to the interior, says the Savannah News, the poor would rejoice.

The great strawberry fields of New Jersey and Delaware promise an unusually abundant yield this season. The profits on this crop have been so great—$2,000 having been realized sometimes from a single acre—that a largely increased area is put under cultivation each succeeding year. Strawberries and peaches ripen in Delaware about ten days earlier than in New Jersey.

If you want to get a nice hat, just the style, go to Simon Fried's, Main street, Stroudsburg, Monroe county, Pa.

Edward H. Ruloff, the philological murderer, paid the penalty of his crimes by hanging, at Binghamton, N. Y., on Thursday last.

A jury in Indiana, a few days since, awarded a damsel only nineteen cents damages for breach of promise, although she claimed $20,000.

Some one wrote to Horace Greeley inquiring if guano was good to put on potatoes. He said it might do for those whose tastes had become vitiated with tobacco and rum, but he preferred gravy or butter.

Judson A. Cleveland, Postmaster at Sparta, Ohio, was tried at Cleveland, on Tuesday last on the charge of using cancelled postage stamps. He pleaded guilty, and was fined $50 and costs.

My boy, John H. Denny, left Mr. Smeltzer, near Pine Grove Mills, last Fall. He is about 15 years old. Any information of his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his afflicted mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Musser, Tyrone, Pa. Other papers please copy.

Rev. T. Heilig, Riegelsville, Pa., recently received into the communion of his two congregations 39 by confirmation and 4 by certificate. He has also introduced the full service of the church book with entire acceptance and satisfaction to his people.

The latest report are that Delaware and Maryland will market 3,500,000 baskets of peaches the coming season; 500,000 more than in 1869, that has been the champion year. There have been about 500,000 new trees planted.

Do you wish a nice looking letter or bill-head, envelope or card? Call at the JEFFERSONIAN Office, and get it printed in the latest style.

There is great excitement in Pittsburg over the arrest of the County Commissioners Neely and McGee. The charge against them is taking bribes from applicants for liquor licenses. The penalty for the offence is fine and an imprisonment for five years.

A fever for emigration has taken possession of the people of the older provinces of Canada, which are now, according to local papers, being drained of their best and most valuable classes to settle the wild prairies of Manitoba—the Red River country. Frantic efforts are being made to arrest the tide which is depopulating a country already ill supplied with labor; but the "star of empire" is westward, and the Dominion statesmen find all their wits at fault. Canada, like most free trade countries, is a poor country to emigrate to, but an excellent one to emigrate from.

The brother Typo's, with their cares and labors were not forgotten by their companion in his season of matrimonial joy. A bottle of delicious wine was used up during the reign of toasts and good wishes, for the happy pair.

On May 14th 1871, at Morrinstown Burlington county, N. J., by the Rev. Joel Bardeley, Mr. C. F. Herman, of Stroudsburg, Penna., and Miss Mary A. daughter of George B. Eisle, Esq. of Morrinstown, N. J.

Charley could not go off and get married, and then come home again and settle down to "pissness" without remembering the printer. Not he. The large and luscious Brides cake and bottle of excellent Wine, which found its way from his establishment into our Sanctum, and which was discussed with such exuberant gusto by all hands attested this. May his shadow never be less, and may his name through numberless, succeeding lites the Charles be carried through a steady line of clever fellows, down to the end of time, while unmixed joy and the greatest prosperity attach both to himself, and his excellent lady.

Travellers are always liable to sudden attacks of Dysentery and Cholera Morbus, and these occurring when absent from home, are very unpleasant. The PAIN KILLER may always be relied upon in such cases. As soon as you feel the symptoms, take one teaspoonful in a gill of new milk and molasses and a gill of hot water, stir well together and drink hot. Repeat the dose every hour until relieved. If the pains be severe, bathe the bowels and back with the medicine clear.

In cases of Asthma and Phtisis, take a teaspoonful in a gill of hot water sweetened well with molasses; also bathe the throat and stomach faithfully with the medicine, clear. Dr. Sweet says it takes out the soreness in cases of bonetting faster than anything he ever applied. Fishermen, so often exposed to hurts by having their skin pierced with hooks and fins of fish, can be relieved by bathing with the Pain Killer as soon as the accident occurs; in this way the anguish is soon abated; bathe as often as once in five minutes, say three or four times, and you will seldom have any trouble. The bites and scratches of dogs and cats are soon cured by bathing with the Pain Killer clear. May 4, 1871.—1m.

THERE'S ROOM AT THE TOP.

BY CHARLES HERMAN. They say the professions are crowded By seekers for fame and for bread; That the members are pushing each other As close as their footsteps can tread. But be not discouraged, my brother, Nor suffer exertion to stop, Though thousands are pressing around you, There is plenty of room at the top. Be true to thy love and thy country— The dastard wins never a prize; But the earnest are ever the victors, And he who on justice relies. Who wins the good garden by labor, Will garner sweet rest as his crop, And find, as the hills sink below him, That there's room enough at the top. Oh! let not the evil disturb you, There's good if you but search it out: Make pure thine own conscience, my brother, Nor mind what the rest are about. And whether your work may have fallen In sanctum, or office, or shop, Remember the low grounds are crowded, But there's always room at the top.
