A YOUTHFUL MONSTROSITY.

A Boy With the Instincts of a Dog and a Hog—He Eats Raw Meat and Drinks Blood.

A warrant was sworn out yesterday before Justice Dyer, for the arrest of Ira Gavitt, of the town of Summit, for assault and battery upon William Henry Forbes, a boy whom he has employed upon his farm. The complaint alleged that Gavitt was wont to chain the boy up in a room, and otherwise misuse him. The warrant was placed in the hands of Policemen Pierson and Gilson, who proceeded to Summit and arrested Mr. Gavitt. Mr. Pierson went to the field to serve the warrant, while Mr. Gilson remained behind to watch the boy, who was supposed to have been tampered with on a previous occasion, he refusing to appear against Mr. Gavitt when a similar warrant had been issued.

While conversing with the lad and Mrs. Gavitt, Mr. Pierson was informed by the latter that the boy possessed a very peculiar and strange appetite, being always hungry, and, unless watched, eating everything of an edible nature that he could get his hands on. To show his ability in this line, the boy was given a raw egg, which he crushed in his mouth and swallowed shell and all. Mr. Gavitt then gave him two quarts of bread and milk, which he devoured. Mr. Gavitt came in with Mr. Pierson at this point, and, in obedience to Forbes' request, prepared a half dozen raw eggs, which he ate in the same manner as an egg-sucking dog, working the shell out of his mouth. As a breathing spell, he now took a large ear of corn, which was followed by a sauce dish full of sauce, several cucumbers, and a large slice of pork. The officers interfered and would not allow him to eat more.

Mrs. Gavitt says that he eats all the raw eggs he can get hold of, and that whenever a chicken was killed, he would seize the fowl and suck the blood flowing from the neck. Two years ago, while killing a cow, Mr. Gavitt left the boy to watch the carcass while he was away for a little while. He returned in twenty minutes, and found that little Forbes had licked the blood entirely from the hide which had just been taken off the animal. While in the court-room, the boy asked Mr. Pierson to get him some raw meat. He procured him something over a pound, which he devoured as greedily as a vulture, and then asked for a couple of quarts of blood to wash it down. The officer said he could not get any, but that he would have some to-day.

Forbes was sixteen years old last April, although he does not appear to be more than twelve. He is the son of a quadroon and a Scotchman. He has not a single African feature, his hair being of the color of faded tow and straight as an Indian's, and his eyes being blue. His features are screwed up into a peculiarly wolfish, hungry expression, which would cause one to look at him more than once. We asked Mr. Gavitt what was the biggest meal the boy ever ate, and he informed us that while killing hogs once, he devoured raw three "belly-pieces" and three pints of fresh lard.

This monstrosity is certainly the connecting link in the Drawinian chain. Mr. Gavitt says that he shall endeavor to send the boy to Lansing, as he can do nothing with him. He is obliged to chain him up to protect his property and keep enough food on hand for his family.—Jackson Citizen, Aug. 17.

Goats and Rats.

A correspondent of the Germantown Telegraph says: Being sadly plagued with rats about my house and farm buildings, I tried in vain to catch them; they are so cunning to be trapped, and to lay poison I dare not for fear of killing my dogs, cats and hogs, and to wait for them with a gun was a loss of too much time, though I have dropped three at a shot. At last I purchased two goats, which I kept about my fold, barn and stables, the pig pens being in the fold. In a short time all the rats emigrated—they evacuated the place, cleared right out, every Jack of them, and I have not seen a single rat about the place for upwards of three years, but my neighbors who are within eighty rods have plenty of all sizes and ages. Perhaps it is not generally known that where there are many horses stabled together, very little sickness prevails if there is a goat kept about the yard and stables.

A Useful Table.

To aid farmers in arriving at accuracy in estimating the amount of land in different fields under cultivation, the following table is given by an agricultural contemporary:

Five yards wide by 978 yards long contains one acre.

Ten yards wide by 484 yards long contains one acre.

Twenty yards wide by 242 yards long contains one acre.

Forty yards wide by 121 yards long contains one acre.

Bismark's new estate, given him by the Emperor for his services lately, has an area of eighty square miles and contains twenty-three villages.

A funeral procession in Massachusetts, on reaching the cemetery, found the undertaker and his assistant both too
