

SHERIDAN'S BUFFALO HUNT.

Return with His Party to Chicago. Laid with Spits of the Chase—Buffalo, Elk and Antelope, Deer, Coyotes and Wild Turkeys—Gen. Fitzhugh Wins the Honors.

Gen. Sheridan and party reached Chicago on return from a very successful buffalo hunt on the Western plains, on Wednesday morning, in fine health and spirits. Some incidents of the trip are thus given by the Chicago Evening Journal.

The party left Chicago on the 20th ultimo by the Chicago and Northwestern Road, John G. Gault, Esq., Superintendent, tendering the Director's car to the General for his party. At Omaha a like courtesy was shown by Mr. Sickles, Superintendent of the Union Pacific, and L. M. Bennett, Superintendent of the Pullman Car Company on that road.

The trip was most delightful. On arriving at North Platte, Major-Gen. Emory and Major J. H. Brown, the commander of the expedition, met the party, which was escorted to Camp Rucker, where quarters were assigned and the day spent in choosing horses, target practice, &c., concluding with a grand hop at the post.

At 8 o'clock next morning tents were struck, and the grand march begun. Lieut. E. M. Hayes, Quartermaster, and "Buffalo Bill," the observed, of all observers, splendid in form, the beau ideal of the rough rider that he is—as scout and guide. The advance was led by Gen. Sheridan and Major Brown; eighty five mounted men, fourteen wagons, three ambulances, and horses for the party, constituted the outfit. Twelve miles out leave was taken of the ladies and officers who thus far accompanied the party, and the first camp was reached on Plum Creek, eighteen miles, which, in honor of the commander, was named "Camp Brown, my boy."

The march was commenced for the grand hunt at an early hour next morning. A cup was voted to the slayer of the first buffalo, and one also for the first elk. About ten miles out, seven buffalo were seen on a distant hill; the command was halted, and seven "solitary horsemen might have been seen," led by Buffalo Bill, and all eager for the chase. Gen. Fitzhugh secured the first tongue and brush, and became winner of the cup—Crosby made a good second, and Livingston third, while Jerome, the younger, brought in the trophies from the fourth. Camp was reached at about 2 o'clock, which, in honor of one of the most gallant soldiers in the service, was named "Camp Jack Hayes." Before the camp-fires were lighted, Wilson brought in, in an elk of about 600 pounds avoirdupois, and became winner of the cup.

The next was a regular field day. The party camped on the Beaver, and "Camp Cody," named in honor of Buffalo Bill, was filled with trophies taken from forty buffalo. General Stager brought in six, Lawrence Jerome four, and every one of the party two or three. All having now killed buffaloes, but little interest was taken in the numerous herds seen on the adjacent hillsides, except to secure enough for use in the camp.

Elk, antelope, black-tailed deer, coyotes, jack rabbits, skunks, porcupines, prairie dogs, rattlesnakes, wild turkeys, mallard, teal and wood duck, and three or four kinds of fish, embraced the game found and secured—Fitzhugh shooting the first buffalo, Wilson the first elk, Crosby the first antelope, Rucker the first coyote, Sheridan the first rabbit, and Leonard Jerome the first wild turkey. The finest elk were killed by Lieut. Hays, Fitzhugh and Johnson, weighing nearly 1,000 pounds.

The first day's march was to Camp Brown, on Plum Creek, 18 miles; the second to Camp Jack Hayes, on the Medicine, 30 miles; the third to Camp Ash, on the Republican, 13 miles; the fourth to Camp Cody, on the Beaver, 15 miles; the fifth to Camp Stager, on the Short Nose, 14 miles; the sixth to Camp Jerome, on the North Solomon, 24 miles; the seventh to Camp Sam Johnson, on the South Solomon, 25 miles; the eighth to Camp Davis, on the Saline, 30 miles; and on the ninth to Camp Hecksher, 15 miles.

On their arrival at Fort Hays, on the Kansas and Pacific Railroad, a palace car was in waiting, having been placed at the disposal of General Sheridan by the Superintendent of that road, in which the party, by the courtesy of the superintendent of the Hannibal and St. Joseph and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy roads, were brought safely home, and the grand hunt was successfully completed without an accident, and with thousands of pleasant memories clustering around it.

Als, here is a melancholy domestic incident at Wyoming. Mrs. Esther Morris a Justice of the Peace, and in the unimpaired exercise of her official duties Mrs. Morris has been compelled to send her beloved husband to jail as a common drunkard. What the emotions of Mr. Morris were under these fearfully revolutionary circumstances, we are not informed, but the reader will imagine that the wife was prostrated with grief while the Justice of the Peace of the remained inexorable. There has not been anything like it since the palmy days of Rome.—What a check upon errant husbands to know that their wives can lock them up upon the shortest notice.

The Milford and Matamoros Railroad is progressing, and the working force is being largely increased. The completion is promised within three months.

A father and daughter are living together as man and wife in Cairo, Greece county, N. Y.

Chicago is getting on well in reconstruction. Twenty couples, it is said have taken out marriage licenses in Chicago since the fire, and the irrepressible enterprise of the people is plainly apparent.

The Reform ticket in York county, did not quite succeed on the 10th, but our friend Young, of the True Democrat (one of the best Republican papers in the State), promises that the next election will about use the King in that old Democrat stronghold.

A leading article in a late number of the St. Paul Press gave the following mournful account of the condition of things at the "head of navigation": "The Mississippi has almost dried up.—The majestic river whose magnificent volume two thousand miles from its outlet has been the theme of the tourist's admiration; so broad and deep that it seemed some grand estuary of the sea on which the navies of the world might ride, has shrunk to a mere ridiculous creek, and its thin and attenuated current crawls lazily, as it were ashamed of its shrunken shanks, among low bare submarine ridges and beaches of sand that have never before seen the sun, so far as human knowledge goes, since God separated the waters from the land. It has not been so low within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. Herds of cattle bask in the sunshine on the dry bed of the great river ten or fifteen feet under the level of the waters where a few months ago great fleets of steamboats rode at will. Boys with their trousers rolled up to their knees, sound with their feet the grand, mysterious depths which have engulfed so many wayward boys or helpless men whom accidents or rashness have entangled in the strong, swift undertow."

MARRIED.

On Tuesday, Oct. 24th, in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, this borough, by the Rev. G. W. Marriott, D. D., Mr. Theodore Y. Hoffman and Miss Eunice Kautz, both of Smithfield, Monroe county, Pa.

DIED.

In this borough, on the 4th inst., Mrs. Malvina F., wife of Charles U. Warnick, aged 51 years, 3 months and 8 days.

In Stroud township, on the 11th inst., Mr. Emanuel H. Heller, aged about 29 years.

In this borough, on the 18th inst., Lizzie W., youngest daughter of the Rev. J. K. and Mary W. Davis, aged 11 years and 2 months.

How we miss her, Her merry prattle, her winning ways, her quiet consideration for all around her have all vanished from us. Lizzie belonged to all who knew her. Her afflicted parents held her fondly in care, and in the abundance of their love poured out their hearts best treasures upon her. But all with whom as a little child she came in contact—her playmates, her schoolmates, more advanced youth, budding man and womanhood, middle aged and gray-haired men and women—all who knew little Lizzie, knew her to love her, and held an abiding interest in her. Deep indeed must be the affliction of father, mother, brother and sister over the loss of one so altogether lovely; yet mensurably as deep is the grief of those who having met Lizzie in life now mourn her dead. But why mourn over her death. Her departure is but a transition from the home circle, the highway, the school room, the company of earth's companions, to the grave—from the grave to the arms of that Saviour who said "suffer little children to come unto me," in Heaven. Lizzie's death is, therefore, her entrance upon true life—life eternal beyond the grave, where sorrows, and sickness, and woes, come no more forever. It is mortal to mourn, but over dear, sweet, Lizzie's death Angels will rejoice, because of one more added to the grand choir in the Temple of the New Jerusalem.

Hark! the golden harps are ringing, Sounds unearthly fill her ear; Millions, now in Heaven singing, Greet our Lizzie's entrance there.

STROUDSBURG BANK. There will be an election held at the Banking House, on MONDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1871, to elect thirteen directors, for said Bank, to serve the ensuing year. oct 26 71-87. J. MACKEY, Cashier.

A Card to the People of Monroe Co. There has been circulated through the western end of this county, by some of my enemies, that I had made a bargain with Mr. E. H. Gunsauls, of Middle Smithfield, that I thought my chances to be elected as County Treasurer was doubtful, but in order to defeat Mr. Feherman, I would not withdraw; and if I was defeated, then Mr. Gunsauls was to pay my expenses. I deny that such a bargain was ever made or spoken of. I was determined to remain a candidate unto the end, let the consequences be what they might; I have spent my own money, and do not ask Mr. Gunsauls, or any other man, to pay me back what I have spent in this campaign. I hereby demand and challenge the person, or persons, who have raised this report, to prove the same. And until they have done so, I pronounce it a falsehood of the blackest dye. If there should be found such a miserable wretch within the county that will commit perjury in this case, then, "May the Lord have mercy on his poor soul."

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the judiciously select. By their occasional use the blood is purified, the impurities of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation. Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure: For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Langor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action. For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Spasmodic Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously used for each of the above-named diseases to cure or remove the obstructions which cause it. For Dysentery or Diarrhoea, but one mild dose is generally required. For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Exaltation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints rapidly disappear. For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge. For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy. As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach. For Constipation, they stimulate the stomach and bowels, restore the appetite, and invigorate the system. Hence it is often advantageous when no serious derangement exists, to use these Pills occasionally, as they tend to keep the system in a healthy condition, and prevent the accumulation of disease.
