Hold Fast Below.

A party of Irishmen once upon a time, contracted to clean a very deep well .-Having none of the usual conveniences able employed for such purposes, they were at a loss how to get one of the party off a once a day, will do more to secure an little ledge near the bottom to assist in open hepatic duct (and so a freer chargetting out water, mud, etc. At last Jimmy Phelan, a herculean fellow, proposed tal system (and so a more active love for a plan which was considered just the the neighbor), -and a healthy Liver (and thing. It was this: Jimmy was to clasp thus a brighter hope for the future than his big fists around the windlass, then all the anti bilious pills ever peddled. another of the party was to clamber down and hold on by his legs, and so on until the last man should be able to leap upon the ledge. Being slightly corned with liquor, the party prepared for the decent, without stopping to contemplate the diffi culties involved in the adventure. With bared breast, and sleeves tucked up, big the Crane Iron Company paid out $170, windlass directly over the well, and swung 676. himself over. Another of the party crept down Jimmy's body and grasped him by the boots. After several more had fol lowed suit, and the human chain began to stretch far into the well, Jimmy became did not afford him a good hold in the first pleted her 103d. place, and the weight was getting intolerable. At last human sinew could stand it no longer, and Jimmy hailed the lower the 1st instant, had $608,767.19 in loans link in the chain with: "Be jubers. Pat, howld fast below till I spit on me hans." Suiting the action to the words, he released his hold, when, of course, the whole part was precipitated to the bottom of the well. As luck would have it, there was more mud than water where the Hibernians lit, and they wisely consider ed themselves particularly fortunate in escaping without actual loss of either life hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandenff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not barm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING. nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambrie, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glosy fusive, and a grateful perfume.
