

A large portion of the village of South Salom, Madison county, Ohio, was destroyed by fire on Friday night.

A hunter in northern New York has killed, during the past Winter, sixty deer and thirty mink, beside two or three each of bears and panthers. He has also trapped three thousand five hundred maple trees, making about five tons of sugar. He has made by hunting and trapping alone over $300 per month.

A Word or Two About Havana—Havana contains 250,000 inhabitants and has overgrown its walls. The streets are very narrow, about fifteen feet wide, and sidewalks eight inches wide. The stores and dwellings are level with the walks. So narrow are the streets that some are designated to be driven down, and others to be driven up, so that carriages may not meet. The buildings are one-story high, and built of chalky stone, brick, gravel and cement, with marble and tiling floors. There is no chimney.

The Garden for Women.

There is nothing better for wives and daughters physically than to have the care of a garden; a flower pot if nothing more. What is pleasanter than to spend a portion of every passing day in working among plants and watching the growth of shrubs, and tress, and plants, to observe the opening of flowers, from week to week, as the season advances? Then how much it adds to the enjoyment to know that your own hands have planted and tilled them and have pruned and trained them—this is a pleasure that requires neither great riches nor profound knowledge. The wife or daughter who loves home, and would seek ever to make it the best place for husband and brother, is willing to forego some gossiping morning calls for sake of having leisure for the cultivation of plants, shrubs and flowers. The advantages which women personally derive from stirring the soil and snuffing the morning air are freshness and beauty of cheeks and brightness of eye, cheerfulness of temper, vigor of mind and purity of heart. Consequently she is more cheerful and lovely as a daughter, more dignified and womanly as a sister, and more attractive and cooing as a wife.

Democratic Nominations.

The Democratic State Convention met at Reading last Thursday and selected its candidates for the political contest now in progress. There was an immense gathering of the faithful, and each of the aspirants for the Governorship had his followers upon the ground. It had been generally anticipated that George W. Cass, of Pittsburg, would be the successful man, but he failed to develop the necessary strength. On the seventh ballot Charles R. Buckalew, of Columbia, received a majority of the votes, and was nominated. The result was very unpopular to some, but was afterwards generally accepted without much protest. Mr. Buckalew has occupied public stations of different kinds for more than twenty years. He began by serving in the State Senate for six years; then was appointed Minister to Ecuador by President Buchanan; then was elected to the United States Senate, where he sat six years; and has since 1860 been again a member of the State Senate. His whole life has been spent in holding office. Personally Mr. Buckalew is a man of good abilities and of great experience in the affairs of government. His reputation for honesty has never been assailed. Politically he is an extreme Democrat in the partisan, not the popular sense. Except in theory he is not a man of the people. Placed at the head of the ticket, he will receive his party vote, but there is nothing in his public life or personal relations that will attract outside support. Chief Justice James Thompson, as everybody expected, was unanimously nominated for the Supreme Court. As a judicial officer Justice Thompson has had no direct intercourse with the people, and we only know from some of his decisions that he still adheres to the political views of the Democracy. It is alleged by his friends that all the lawyers will support him for reelection and let Judge Mercerside. This is in the last degree unjust to Judge Mercerside, who has a right to expect the undivided support of the party which placed him in nomination. As to legal ability, there can be no objection to either candidate. For the position of Auditor General there was lively competition, our neighbor Col. Davis of the Democrat being an active candidate before the Convention. He was not successful, however, the honor of next fall's defeat being awarded to William Hartley, of Bedford, of whom we never heard before. Thus a ticket was made up of which our opponents need not be ashamed, although it is one that does not to any unusual degree appeal to popular sympathy.

The resolutions adopted are a strange departure from the accustomed declarations of the Democracy. They contain none of the old inspiring war cries, and are only notable for what they do not say. There is no appeal for Democratic principles and purposes, as they have been regularly proclaimed for ten years past. There is no demand for Democratic candidates for President and Vice President. Neither does the platform declare that there shall not be Democratic nominations at Baltimore. The whole question is apparently left to the discretion of the delegates appointed. But there is good reason to believe that the safe of the Democracy to the Greeley party has already been settled. While it was not considered prudent to force a committal of the Convention to Greeley, it was found impossible to procure the passage of resolutions favoring a distinctive Democratic nomination. Thus the party managers, who to all appearances have united their followers upon a State ticket, have altogether failed to meet the emergency of the Presidential canvass. They have only gone far enough in their new career to awaken a deep feeling of discontent among the voting masses, which will be hard to satisfy before the election.—Bucks County Intelligencer.

Important to Attorneys.

The following is an abstract of the decision of the Comptrollers of the Treasury relative to powers of attorney, and is published for the information of those concerned:

The question as to whether not a principal has the right to make the appointment of an attorney having been raised by the Third Auditor of the Treasury, the following is substantially the decision of the Comptrollers thereon, viz:

The auditors of the department have no right to recognize the revocation of a power of attorney except upon the charges of improper conduct; that their authority extends only to stating accounts and certifying them with the vouchers to the comptrollers for decision. A power of attorney may be revoked at the pleasure of the principal, under certain qualifications and limitations which affect the relations of principal and attorney.

Ordinarily, powers of attorney, without conditions, may be reached at any time, yet the attorney may retain all deeds, papers, moneys, &c., belonging to the principal until his fees are paid.

Where an attorney has an interest in a claim, i. e., his fee is contingent upon his success, the attorneyship cannot be reached.

The dissolution of a firm of attorneys does not relieve either member of the firm from his obligation to prosecute a claim, nor does the death of a member of the firm exonerate the survivors from their obligation to prosecute.

Powers of attorney, executed before the issue of a warrant, are not null and void, but are ineffectual for the purpose of collecting money; their validity, in other respects, is recognized by the department and by the courts.

Testimony of a Prominent Physician.

"During the past eight years I have had frequent opportunities of witnessing the effect of MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS upon persons suffering from Dyspepsia, Loss of Nervous Energy, Sexual Weakness, Diarrhoea, &c. I have known it to prove successful in many cases, where Allopathic, Homoeopathic and Hydropathic treatment had failed. I still continue to use it in such complaints with uniform success, and have no hesitancy in pronouncing it the most efficacious remedy yet discovered for diseases arising from a disordered Stomach, Liver, Kidneys or Bowels.
