MORNING SERMON: The heart united with God.

EVENING SERMON: Seeking the Lord.

G. W. MARRIOTT, D. D., Pastor.

It is rumored on our streets that a Committee of our Democratic fellow citizens, are to proceed to Northampton and Carbon counties, at once, and assure the Democracy of those counties, that unless the voice of Monroe as expressed by her County Convention, and her Congressional Conferees are heeded, the Democratic State Ticket will lose at least one thousand votes in this County, with feelings of deep seated chagrin we anticipate the action of those committees and proclaim the fiat to our distant brethren. Now sick 'em boys, 'Go at 'em with a will, and see how much of a scare you can get up.

The elements raged against the Democracy on Saturday last, despoiling the "organ" most outrageously by knocking off both its head and its tail. The elements were doubtless right in the matter. The "organ" of a party whose only hopes of sailing into the Treasury sang-harbor, rests in the power derived from a head and candle appendage borrowed from life long enemies, deserves some ruffing up. The elements seeing the impropriety of the names of Greeley and Brown carried under the name of Democracy, first ripped off the Steam chimney of the Monroe Democrat, and then blew down its Sign; ominous of the greater ripping, which its remaining head and tail will receive in October and November.

The tickets to which we gave our adhesion, most emphatically on their nomination, and which we have not ceased to support to this time, will be found at the head of our paper this week. Hitherto, for several years back, we have omitted the ticket of the party to which we belong; but friends deeming the plan objectionable, we waive ideas of propriety in the matter, and refer to their desires. From henceforth, as heretofore, we are thoroughly Republican, and our faith in the cause, and in the great cause of the people is such that we do not hesitate to declare our firm belief in the success of the Ticket—Grant, Hartman and all,—by overwhelming majorities.

The Pet Lambs of Democracy, assemble in Annual Convention, at the Court House on Monday afternoon last. The convention, as was expected, resulted in the nomination of Hon. Richard S. Staples, for the legislature, and in the selection of Congressional conferees, instructed to support the claims of the Hon. Charlton Burnett, to the next Congressmanship.

The nomination of Mr. Staples is a sort of left handed victory for the Monroe Democrat, and we congratulate the proficient professor, who makes the Organ go, thereupon. The Organ, it will be remembered, pitched into Mr. Representative for failing to vote against the Election liquor bill last spring, and assured him that if he dared to favor the local option bill, his cake, in shape of future rewards, would be all dough. Mr. Representative, however didn't scare a bit, at this, went on without apology for his failure to vote against the first named measure, and when "local option" came up gave it his most hearty support. According to the Organ, whiskey was a most important element of Democracy, not only at elections, but everywhere else and a vote against it, in any shape, would be the political death of the voter. The representative, went both eyes on it, notwithstanding, and was renominated without opposition—showing conclusively that the organs threats, like Rory O' More's, dreams, work by contraries.

The Chairman of the County Committee was around, looking, it is said, after the nomination for member of the Constitutional Convention. The latest report is, however, that he is out of that—the office having already been farmed as a reward for the little skin kicking indulged in last fall, and to keep things quiet in future.

The Convention was more than usually harmonious, and was addressed by a Mr. Brundage, of Luzerne Co., at its conclusion.

"Organize" should now be the word. The time has come when the great battle can and should be made short, sharp and decisive. Consultation can secure concert of action, and concert of action only can secure victory. To work then, Republicans. We must not be discouraged here because a man or two has left us to take a seat within the leaky hull of the ship "Democracy." Double the number have left that boat and have joined us in the support of Grant and Hartman, and more will come if we are true to ourselves; and more than that, the majority of the few who have ostensibly left us, will be with us when the day of trial comes. They cannot feel enthusiastic amid Democratic surroundings; and their eyes are opening to the fact that if sacrifice is made, it is better by far that it should be the Farmer of Chappaqua than the best interests of the Union of these States. To work then, Republicans, let there be consultation, and organization, and unceasing labor for the accomplishment of the glorious aim of Republicanism—the still greater advancement of the prosperity of the Union and the people.

Our Democratic friends are making extensive preparations for a grand rally of the faithful hereabouts, on the 23rd inst. A taxing committee was busy at work among the aspiring members on Monday last, and succeeded in drawing from $5 to $10 from each of the candidates. We do not know how much of a pile was raised, but we are informed that it was considerable; and it must have been if each of the candidates forked over. The party having already reached the lowest depth of political corruption, the leaders have no hope of making anything by the expenditure of the fund with a view of making anything more in that way and have, consequently proclaimed their intention to devote it to music, and to build up that glorious kind of Democratic patriotism, which is more certainly secured by a free imbibing of bad whiskey. The desire is to make the Democratic crowd, on the 23d, as furiously for Buckalew as possible; and as they know Charley carries none of the essence of enthusiasm or patriotism, either in his person or speeches, they think it best that a resort to the benizical power be freely indulged. It is a good thing for the idea that the farmer of Chappaqua, is not to be present. A few of his ponderous tirades against the "beer swilling dutch," and the "whiskey Democracy," patchworked into a Temperance sermon, might have the effect to render the faithful as docile and quiet as are tombstones in a graveyard.

Go to Simon Fried's for hats and caps.

Horse racing on our Main street, is not "according to law."

A new pavement has been laid in front of Mrs. H. B. Schoonover's residence on Main street.

Go to Simon Fried's for boots and shoes.

Evening trains on the Delaware Lackawanna and Western road arrive crowded, every day.

The first persons seen drunk on our streets for some time past, were those two bloods hailing from Middle Smithfield, on Sunday last.

Go to Simon Fried's for trunks and valises.

The number of vehicles, of every class and build, which crossed the Pocono bridge, bound for camp meeting, on Sunday morning last, was quite large.

The first snow of the season, in this section, at least, is reported to have fallen at Tobyhanna on Friday last. This accounts for the very cold weather experienced at this time.

Go to Simon Fried's for a nice fitting suit.

Removed.—Mr. Charles P. Mick, our popular cigar manufacturer, has removed his place of business to George Drake's building, opposite Wallace's lumber yard, down town. Charlie is a clever, fair dealing young man, and is deserving of a liberal patronage. Call and see him.

Those holding chances in the gun, to be raffled off at the Stroudsburg House, are requested to be on hand at eight o'clock sharp, on Saturday, evening next. By so doing, much unnecessary confusion can be avoided, and all can see that the raffle is fairly conducted.

Go to Simon Fried's for shirts and Umbrellas.

By referring to our advertising columns, it will be found that Mr. J. A. Hay's, an experienced hatter, has recently opened a first-class hat and cap store in Fowler's building, on Main street, nearly opposite the iron bridge. Being a practical man and dealing exclusively in hats and caps, he guarantees satisfaction and a good fit in every instance. Give him a call, before purchasing elsewhere.

The Illustrated Lectures, of that eminent Phrenologist and inimitable speaker Prof. Franklin Wicks, were postponed because of the storm last Thursday. Wednesday Thursday, and Friday of Sept., 18th, 19th, and 20th, at 3 and 8 p. m. Afternoon to ladies. Friday evening to men only. None should fail to hear this celebrated orator, poet and author.

There is no charge for showing goods at Fried's, neither are there cross looks if you do not buy.

Ministers of all denominations are hereby cordially invited to attend the sessions of the Stroudsburg Preachers Meeting, held every Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the M. E. Church. We hope the brethren will attend and have no doubt they will be profited as well as entertained thereby. In behalf of the meeting,

G. W. F. GRAFF, Secretary.

Simon Fried has gone to the city for a new supply of goods. Lookout for Novelty, low prices and the biggest kind of an excitement and rush when he returns, which will be in a few days.

Woods meeting at Durfees grove, under the auspices of the A. M. E. Congregation of this borough, will be continued on Sunday next. Eminent divines from abroad will officiate, and there will, undoubtedly be a large attendance.

All parties, Churches and Sunday schools in want of good Organs, are invited to call at J. G. Keller's store, or send for descriptive catalogue. Address J. Y. SIGAFUS, May 9, 1872-tf. Stroudsburg, Pa.

WANTED.—About the middle of July a good general servant. Must be a good cook, washer and ironer. Plenty of work furnished, for the satisfactory, willing, and cheerful doing of which good treatment, good fare, and good pay will be given. Address MRS. PARET, June 27, 1872-tf. Stroudsburg.

Go to Simon Fried's for neck ties and collars.

Our popular clothier, Mr. N. Ruster, has but recently returned from the cities, with the largest stock of ready-made clothing, hats and caps, and gents furnishing goods, ever brought to this place. His immense stock also embraces ladies dress goods and notions of every description, for fall and winter wear. A visit to his store will convince you that not only is his stock the largest and most complete in every department, but that his prices are the most moderate of any dealer in the county.

The steamer Bienville, from New York for Aspinwall, was burned at sea on the 15th. Boats containing passengers endeavoring to escape were swamped, and the inmates drowned, while an explosion of the burning wreck added to the terrors of the scene. Out of a hundred and twenty-nine persons who were on board thirty-four were unaccounted for, including nine lost at Eleuthera Island.

If you want to see the latest style of fall and winter goods, go to Simon Fried's.

We would call the attention of our readers to the premium list of the Monroe County Agricultural Society, which will be found on the first side of this issue, a careful perusal of which will convince you of their liberality. The fair, which is to be held on the 18th, 19th and 20th of this month, promises, thus far, to be a grand success. All that is required is for our merchants, mechanics, farmers, and housewives to take an interest in the matter, to make our fairs, a success in every particular.

We frequently hear of the "girls of the period," enjoying their cigarettes, etc. etc., and then declare that this is a progressive age. But a few evenings we witnessed a sight which beggars description. A young miss of this borough—we forbear mentioning the name this time, a few evening since, was promading down our thoroughfare, "puffing" away at a pipe filled with the weed, and with a vim that would have done credit to an old smoker. The young lady is old enough to know better, and a repetition of the act will bring about an expose that will cause her to hang her head in shame.

The amount of business transacted in the sewing machine trade, in this county, is really surprising. A few days since we dropped into the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine parlors, first door above the Stroudsburg House, and we found Mr. James Boys, their agent in this place, busily engaged in packing and shipping machines. Mr. B. informs us that his supply of machines is entirely inadequate to the demand, he having more orders than he can supply for some time. The fact that the last machine received from the company by Mr. Boys was numbered 695,390, more than double the amount manufactured by either the Grover & Baker or Howe Co.—is a sufficient guarantee of the superior merits of this machine.

The American Odd Fellow for September is a number of which the Fraternity should be proud. Its contents from beginning to end are valuable and of general interest, especially its literary and illustrated features. The paper on Two Theories of Man's Origin gives many curious scientific facts. The question, "Is man descended from tadpoles and monkeys?" is ably discussed therein. Some of the best writers in the land contribute to this magazine. The illustrated articles are: "Government Life-saving Service;" "Orange Culture in Florida;" "The Bryant Homestead;" and "Child for Adoption" (humorous). Each subscriber receives a fine premium picture engraved expressly for the American Odd Fellow. $2.50 a year. Send your subscription, to the publishers, A.O.F. Stroudsburg Preachers Meeting.

The Stroudsburg Preachers Meeting met in the M. E. Church, Monday afternoon September 2d, Rev. F. M. Beady, Vice President in the chair. Religious services were conducted by Rev. E. B. Dreher. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, communications as to Sabbath services were made by a number of the ministers. The following question for discussion reported by the standing committee was taken up viz. "Does the Bible teach that sanctification is an instantaneous work?" The question was argued by Rev. D. Young and E. B. Dreher. On motion the further consideration of the question was postponed until next Monday afternoon. D. Coffin of Portland was introduced to the meeting. Doxology was sung and the benediction pronounced by Rev. D. Young. On motion adjourned. G. W. F. GRAFF, Sec'y.

Removed.—Mr. Darius Dreher, has temporarily removed his stock of goods to the room, first door above M. M. Burnett's Tailor Shop, where he will be pleased to meet his many customers and friends, during the progress of the improvements making in his own store room. Darius's stock will be found complete in every particular, and will be sold at cost and below cost for want of room to store his goods. [July 18-2m]

The Austrian army number 1,269,000 men.

There are four colored Senators in the new Senate of North Carolina.

It took the army worm just two days to eat every green blade in a twenty acre field in Ashton, Ill., recently.

An Ohio boy has walked 13,000 miles already to see his girl, and isn't half through yet.

A Lumpkin (Ga.) watermelon has been found to weigh seventy-three and a quarter pounds.

Burdock, milkweed, thistles, and every other rank growing plant should be cut down and burned before the seed ripens.

The value of the oysters handled in the New York markets annually, is estimated at over $25,000,000.

The cork business in this country is represented by sixty manufactories, turning out goods valued at $2,500,000.

Ex-Governor Curtin is reported to be ill in New York, and to have been ordered to Saratoga by his physician.

For three years, laborers have been engaged in sinking an artesian well in Jersey City. The well has now reached a depth of 1,000 feet, and supplies about sixty gallons of water a minute.

A feature of one of the mountains of Georgia is the vernal belt, about half way up the east side, which is never injured by frost, even when everything at the foot and top of the mountain is killed by the nipping cold.

A New Jersey milkman was feeding two calves the other day, during a tremendous thunder shower. One of the calves was standing on each side of the man. A fearful flash of lightning struck dead both the calves, but, singularly enough, did not injure a hair on the head of the milkman.

During a recent thunder shower in Moosup, Conn., a Mrs. Goff was sitting near a window with her knitting in her lap, when a flashing of lightning took one of the needles out of the work and sent it across the room, breaking it into five pieces. Mrs. Goff was not injured beyond a slight numbness, which only lasted a short time.

Sir Rondell Palmer's fee of $150,000 for attending the interests of Great Britain at the Geneva Conference is said to be the largest fee ever paid to a British lawyer. There have been several instances in the United States where $100,000 have been paid, Clarkson N. Potter having received that fee in a railroad case, and General Sickles a similar sum for ousting the Gould dynasty from Erie.

ORE.—The Iron Mountains of Missouri have recently been described by the State Geologist. Sheppard Mountain is 660 feet high, and the ore contains a large percentage of iron. Pilot Knob is 1118 feet high and the area of a cross section 518 feet from the summit is 360 acres. Iron Mountain has an elevation of 228 feet with an area at its base of 500 acres. The mountains, it is calculated, contain enough ore above the surface to yield one million tons a year for the next two hundred years. The iron made from this ore is strong, tough and fibrous.

The latest returns of the West Virginia election leave the result still in doubt. There is reason to believe the new Constitution has been adopted, and that Jacobs is elected by a small majority. Several counties are yet to be heard from officially. That part of the new Constitution which excluded negroes from holding public office has been overwhelmly beaten. Whatever may be the result on other issues, it is a cause of gratification to know that this reactionary measure on the part of the Democratic leaders has been hopelessly defeated.

The statistics of the Dead Letter office giving amazing evidence of the carelessness people can be guilty of. The number of letters sent to that office during last year was nearly 8,000,000. Sixty eight thousand of these letters could not be forwarded owing to the carelessness of the writer in omitting to give the county or State, 400,000 failed to be sent because the writers forgot to put on stamps, and over 3,000 letters were put in the post office without any address whatever. In the letters above named was found over $92,000 cash, and drafts, checks, etc., to the value of $3,000,000.

James Dougherty, the partner of Mara in the assassination of Brooks, two or three years ago, was fatally stabbed in Philadelphia about a week ago. Dougherty and Mara were recently pardoned out of the penitentiary by Governor Geary, mainly by the efforts of Alderman McMullin and a few other prominent politicians. Mara at once distinguished himself by shooting and nearly killing McMullin, and then suddenly disappearing. Dougherty worked at the carpenter trade until the day before his death, when he got into a quarrel in a beer saloon. He was stabbed in the abdomen, and his assailant was so bloodthirsty that he following his victim into a neighboring house. This is the tragic history of the two men who played the part of hired assassins, and after being justly convicted were released by the Governor before one-third of their term had expired.

The international money order system has gone into effect. Money can be transmitted at the risk of the United States, upon the payment of a small fee, to nearly all parts of the world upon the same plan that has been so successful within the limits of the country itself.—One dollar and fifty cents is the charge for every $50 transmitted. Upon making this payment the sender is given a receipt guaranteeing the safe transmission of the amount, or a full equivalent for it if lost. The value of this new arrangement will be very great to immigrants. The millions of dollars that are sent to Ireland and Germany have now nearly an absolute certainty of reaching their destination.

Disinfectants.

One pound of green coppers, dissolved into one quart of water, and poured down a water-closet, will concentrate and destroy the foulest smells. On board ships and steamboats, about hotels and other public places, there is nothing so nice to purify the air. Simple green coppers, dissolved under the bed in anything that will hold water, will render a hospital, or other place for the sick, free from unpleasant smells. For butcher's stalls, fish markets, slaughter houses, stinks, and wherever there are offensive putrid gasses dissolve coppers and sprinkle it about, and in a few days the smell will pass away. If a cat, or rat, dies about the house and sends forth an offensive gas, place some dissolved coppers in a vessel near the place where the nuisance is, and it will soon purify the atmosphere.
