

The Jeffersonian.

THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1873.

Congress adjourned on Tuesday last. Cold—the weather on Monday night. No street railroad in sight yet in this borough.

The Reporters vocation has been an awful dry one, during the past week. Several snow storms, hereabouts, since our last issue.

Go to Phillips' for fruit candies and oysters, prices lower than before the fire.

The Steamer was out for practice on Tuesday, and worked admirably.

Drifted—the roads through this section of country on Monday and Tuesday.

Winter is trying to enjoy a most unwelcome lingering "in the lap of spring."

Go to Phillips' restaurant and confectionery for good cigars and tobacco, opposite the M. E. Church.

For Sale—Two new seven Octave Pianos, for sale at the Washington Hotel, Dec. 19 '72-4.

Wayne county has given nearly 400 majority in favor of license. No stopping of Whiskey among the Bee hives.

M. L. Phillips has the largest and best stock of French and American candies in town. Try them.

The Honesdale papers tell that the last case of small-pox has left its borders, and that the town is now clear of the pest.

M. D. Coolbaugh, Sign Painter. To all those who want Sign Painting done, call soon for I expect to leave on or about the first of April next.

All the clergymen of the M. E. Church in this County, are in attendance at the Annual Conference, now sitting at Columbia, Lancaster county, Pa.

Don't forget that M. L. Phillips has just opened his place of business up town, opposite the M. E. Church.

Hon. Geo. H. Rowland, of the Senate, has laid us under obligations by presenting us with a bound copy of the Legislative hand book.

L. T. Lalar & Co., are rapidly closing out their stock preparatory to their retirement on the 1st of April. On that day a new firm, with H. S. Wagner, Esq., at its head, opens with an entire new stock of goods.

The festival for the benefit of the Methodist Sabbath School, at East Stroudsburg, last week, we are pleased to learn, was a complete success, netting quite a handsome sum of money.

Go to M. L. Phillips, restaurant and confectionery for oysters, the largest and best in town. Only $1 per hundred.

Mr. B. F. Butz of the Newark Echo, visited his many friends here on Monday and Tuesday. He recently fell into the hands of the Legal Philistines of Newark, for truthful speaking, but came out all right and the Echo still lives.

The inauguration ceremonies, at Washington, on Tuesday, were of the most impressive character, and passed, it is gratifying to know without anything to mar the brilliancy of the occasion. The opening has certainly proved auspicious for the general success of the administration.

The Warren countyites are talking about building a large Blast Furnace on the farm recently purchased of Isaac Dill. It is said the money is all raised and that work will be begun as soon as spring opens. Richard S. Wilson, formerly of this county, is said to be a leading name in the enterprise.

Farmers, millers, mechanics, manufacturers and others should read the advertisement headed "New Machine Shop," in this paper. Mr. Sandford, the proprietor, of the shop is a mechanic of experience and of more than ordinary skill, and has facilities for doing work which guarantee satisfaction to all who patronize his establishment.

Eggs down.—As the lady of one of our hard working farmers, was coming to town, one day last week, with a basket of eggs, her sleigh upset in a snow bank and scattered both lady and eggs around promiscuously. There were no bones broken but from her venture, the lady realised nothing but the fall and a general smash up from her eggs. Barter business that.

A number of the young ladies and gentlemen of this borough, propose giving a representation of "Ten nights in the Bar Room," and other pieces, at Williams' Hall, on Tuesday evening next. The pieces will be well placed upon the stage, and from the preparation made we infer that the parts will be well rendered. The performance, being wholly moral in character, a crowded house should greet the performers.

The Louisville Courier Journal, commenting upon the fact that New Yorkers went rapid transit, says: "If they will hitch the Custom house officials and the members of the late Tammany Ring to a train of cars at one end of the city and tell them there is something to steal at the other, they will have about as rapid transit as they can possibly want."

THE CHILD'S FRIEND.—The Child's Friend is a very pretty, illustrated four-page paper, designed especially for Sunday Schools, and is an excellent paper for that purpose. It is edited by C. G. G. Paine, and published by the Bright Side Co., Chicago. Single copies 50 cents a year, or with a fine chromo, $1. When sent to Sunday Schools, ten or more to one address, only 24 cents each, or once a month, twelve cts. Sunday school superintendents will do well to send for specimens, and give it a trial.

How is this for Local Option?

On Monday night, the 24th ult., quite a number of people had assembled at the Stroudsburg Depot, awaiting the arrival of the Northern-bound train, which was about 4 hours late, and during this time the question of Local Option came up, and made things quite lively for a time. After considerable talk Mr. L. T. Smith, of Fork's Station, proposing taking a vote to see how things stood. The vote was 17 for license and 3 for no license. This is about the way little Monroe will sum up at our Election in March.

How are you Local Option? Respectfully, &c. FRIEND.

Fourteen thousand dollars have been subscribed, of the $16,000, needed for the establishment of a carshop at Hackettstown, N. J. That's the way to do it. What a humming business prosperity we should have here in Stroudsburg, if our capitalists should show the same enterprising spirit. A car shop, a boot and shoe factory, a shovel factory, a paper mill, either or all of these would furnish a certain means of bringing capital largely to the prosperity and wealth of this county. The natural advantages of the Lehigh Valley, outside of its iron deposit, is not a whit ahead of this region, for manufacturing; and yet here is all dull, while there every little collection of houses represents some paying industry—and some towns and cities are necessary, for the care of the thousands which these industries bring together. We have a delightful section of country; we have ample water power to meet almost any demand—but we, to a most lamentable, lack the enterprize which alone can help us to create one of the busiest business marts in the state. Why is this so? Certainly what is done by liberal enterprize elsewhere can just as easily, by the same means be done here, and we stand blindly in our own light, so long as we continue to neglect the employment of those means for the enhancement of our prosperity.

[By request.] The following Address has been sent to the Ministers of the Gospel of Monroe county—

DEAR SIRS:—The Legislature of our state, as you are no doubt aware, has given to the people of each county, the privilege of deciding for themselves, whether licenses for the sale of liquor shall be granted in their county or not. The question will be decided at the spring election, and it is therefore important, that it should be agitated now, and as much light diffused among the people as possible, in order that they may vote intelligently and for the best interests of themselves, their neighbors, and their country.

The iniquities of the Rom traffice too well known by every preacher of the gospel to need rehearsal here. There is nothing so much opposed to the Church as the dram Shop! There is nothing so much tends to delay the coming of Christ's peaceable kingdom on the earth, for which you pray, as the iniquities liquor traffic! It sends annually more souls to hell than your churches do to heaven! It fills the world with sorrow, crime, pauperism and death! It is the great incubus upon the nation and upon society. In view of these facts, we ask you to assist us in destroying this traffic in our county, by preaching upon the subject of Temperance at least once, and as many more times as you can, previous to the election.

By so doing we feel assured you will advance the cause of religion and be doing an act of kindness to the drunkard and the drunkard maker.

TEMPERANCE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Result so Far.

COUNTIES THAT HAVE VOTED ON LICENSE FOR LICENSE. Against license. Forrest, Clearfield, Schuylkill, Bradford, Northumberland, Blair, Wayne, Tioga, Jefferson, Cameron, Lycoming, Center, Susquehanna.

The counties in the balance of the State vote on the third Friday in March.

A private letter from Salina County Kansas, dated Feb. 25, tells of the end of a noted character in characteristic Western fashion: "Wild Bill"—you remember him?—has been killed. A gentleman from Texas whose brother the wild one had sent to the spirit land, came up to Kansas to have a shot at William. He shot the wild William so dead that he never quivered. Think of a man's buying a grand horse and riding him 900 miles, just to kill a fellow. When the Texan shot Wild Bill, he asked the crowd in the bar room if any gentleman had a desire to "mix in"; if so he would wait until he "heeled," and take great pleasure in killing him. No gentleman expressing a desire to be killed, the Texan got on his horse, and remarking that he had business in Texas, slowly started for the Lone Star State.

A colored servant girl, named Carrie Johnson, to all outward appearances died on Friday morning last, at No. 33 Morton street, New York, and later in the day a permit was granted to convey the body to the morgue. The driver of the dead cart, however, discovering that portions of the body were still warm sent for a doctor, who at once began efforts for resuscitation, and these proved successful, the girl returning to consciousness soon afterwards. She is now apparently as well as ever.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Berlin, Prussia, receives twenty four hundred American newspapers daily. One thousand head of cattle are sent weekly from the United States to Cuba. It is claimed that tin ore has been discovered at Stendal, Pike County, Ind. Blair county gives a majority of 2500 against license.

Kansas raised 4,000,000 bushels of potatoes last year. A Minnesota judge has decided that shaving on Sunday is "illegal."

It cost the brewers of Reading thirty thousand dollars to secure a majority in that city in favor of license. If Boston absorbs suburbs, as is proposed, she will then have an area of 119 square miles.

Of the $110,000,000 invested in the coal business in the United States, Pennsylvania has $67,000,000.

Good solid land is the only real property; don't burn, blow up, sink, or run away. It is always there.

Pittsburgh, Penn., receives annually about 264,000 tons of iron ore from Missouri, costing about $8 per ton.

The boot and shoe trade of Elmira, N. Y., is growing rapidly, the sales last year being in excess of $1,000,000.

Jacob H. Wilking, a well-known clothier of Easton, died on Tuesday night of last week.

San Diego, Cal., is luxuriating on green peas and ripe tomatoes, while Santa Barbara prides itself on its fine strawberries.

At New York the sub-treasurer of the United States will purchase $3,000,000 in bonds this month, and will sell $6,000,000 of bullion.

Grasshoppers were discovered in Weybridge, Vt., last week, as lively and playful as ever. The Middlebury Register thinks it is "justified in recommending them as a hardy kind for general culture."

Fashionable milliners tell us that the spring bonnet will be a modification of the style now in vogue, and that long trailing vines are to be the most conspicuous trimming.

Alexander H. Stephens returns to public life, having been elected to Congress on the 27th ult., to represent the Eighth District of Georgia. A small vote was polled, and there was no opposing candidate.

The San Diego (Cal.) Foundry, the first established there, recently began work. The melting capacity of the furnace is 8,000 pounds, and the fuel used is Pennsylvania coal, costing there $25 (gold) per ton.

Peace has been made with the Modoc Indians upon the following terms:— "They must surrender to the military authority, and be removed to a reservation in Arizona, Indian Territory, or Southern California."

In the United States District Court at Trenton last Thursday, Gerry L. Taylor, a solicitor for pensioners, was sentenced to six months imprisonment and $100 fine for taking illegal fees from an applicant for a pension.

Twenty five men holding positions of Night Inspectors, Weighers, &c., in the Philadelphia Custom House were removed on Friday, in accordance with orders received from Washington. The reduction is intended to reduce expenses in that department of the Government.

We like pluck. A Sheriff in Florida was requested to resign. He wrote back: "Your communication is received, stating that my resignation will meet the approval of the Governor. It does not meet mine." And so, like some bigger men who have talked of resigning, he did not.

There is a man in Philadelphia who belongs to 343 different secret lodges, circles, etc., and knows 1,377 signs, grips, and pass words. When he walks along the street he acts as if he had the St. Vitus dance, being continually on the wink or making a sign to a brother. He says his memory is such that nothing but death can make him lose his grip.

The snow in the streets of Mauch Chunk is from four to five feet deep. It is packed down in the middle of the streets, and the pavements being cleared off, we have the curious spectacle of teams running, at some points almost on a level with the heads of the pedestrians on the sidewalk. Great is the "Switzerland of America."

The Halifax Express is accountable for a story of a procecion horse, who, having learned to love liquor during the epizootic treatment, put his head into a sleigh near which he was hitched the other day, took the crok out of a whisky bottle, upset the bottle, and then lapped up the liquor from the bottom of the sleigh.

Advices from Arizona to February 18 state that Lieutenant Michler, of the Fifth Cavalry, fought the Apaches January 22, at Tonto creek, killing seventeen warriors. One soldier, named George Hooker, was killed. On the 19th of January Captain Price had a fight near Verde, killing five Apaches. General Crook arrived at headquarters February 17, having been absent three months.

They had what they call an awkward man on a jury down in Maine, the other day. It seems the case involved a claim for building a cellar, and the number of perches of stone used were specified. But this awkward man as it chanced, knew something by experience of building stone walls, and so this little item was not quite clear to him. So when the jury went out he took his pencil and quietly ciphered a little while at the table, and then, in the most matter of fact way, told his fellow jurors that, as he made it, there was enough stone put into those cellar walls to fill the cellar completely up and have some three or four perch of stone left, and he was puzzled to know where they put their potatoes and garden sass.

Had To Do It.

A California widow lately went for a youth who had wooed and won her, but was disposed to coquette, with a pistol and a marriage license. She took a clergyman with her who was ready to preach a funeral sermon or perform a marriage ceremony at the same price. The young man chose the latter.

Death of John Davis. Mr. John Davis, an old and prominent citizen of Easton, died at that place on Sunday of last week in the 73d year of his age. Mr. Davis was a prominent business man in Easton for many years, and for a number of years past held the position of President of the Easton National Bank. The Express says of him: Mr. Davis was a man of singular ability, strict integrity, and was much esteemed by all. The bank has lost an able officer our citizens a good citizen, and the family a kind and affectionate husband and father.

The Oldest Man. Jose Martins Coutinho, of Cape Frio in the province of Rio Janeiro, Brazil, is according to the census report, almost one hundred and seventy nine years, having been born at Soquarema, May 20, 1694. His mental faculties are perfect, though he is stiff in the knees. He remembers the notable facts of the reigns of Dom John V, Dom Jose and Donna Maria I. He has forty two children by six wives, and can count 123 grandchildren, eighty-six great grandchildren, twenty three great-great grandchildren, and twenty children of the last. Champion old man!

They have been actually grooping at the intense cold weather in Galveston, Texas, and yet the thermometer there has not been lower than 22° above zero, indicating a temperature which here would have been thought very comfortable at almost any hour during the last 66 days. All the inebriates and other minor criminals were released from jail to prevent them from suffering from cold.

Prof Chevreul, the eminent French chemist, has made a series of experiments on the stability of dyes imparted to silks, damasks, and fabrics used in furnishing. The blue colors, he finds, produced by indigo are stable; Prussian blue resists moderately the action of air and light, but not of soap; scarlet and carmines produced by cochineal and lac-dye are fast; the most stable yellows on silk are produced by woad.

Dr. G. Robinson, a British electrician, has patented a new method of sawing timber. It consists in applying a platinum wire heated to redness or whiteness by an electric current to the trees or woods which are to be severed, much in the same manner as it has hitherto been employed on a smaller scale in surgery. By fitting the wire with handles, so as to be able to guide it in any direction, the most intricate fretwork can be cut.

The bill providing for a new United States District in North eastern Pennsylvania has passed the lower house of Congress, and it is thought will pass the Senate without much opposition.

It comprises the following 18 counties: Potter, Tioga, Bradford, Susquehanna, Wayne, Lycoming, Northampton, Union, Snyder, Montour, Columbia, Sullivan, Wyoming, Luzerne, Pike, Carbon, Monroe and Clinton. These counties contain a population of 763,01.

The ubiquitous rat is said to be just now specially troublesome in Germany. In several of the provinces whole fields of grain and clover have been devastated by them; and it isn't safe to try to cut them off with arsenic or phosphorus, because these pleasant articles are equally fatal to the hares and other game. But the ingenuity of despair has proved equal to the occasion. The husbandmen now mix plaster dust, aniseed oil, and dry wheat, and place it with plenty of water, in the fields. The animals devour the mixture, are soon very thirsty, and when they have taken a good drink the plaster sets—not to put too fine a point upon it, solidifies inside the creatures, and so they expire.

Immigration: We are likely to have a large immigration to the United States from the agricultural districts of England. Very little of this element has hitherto been added to our population, and when the tide once sets this way we shall expect to see many thousands of sturdy Englishmen turning faces America wards to better their fortunes. A meeting has just been held in London at which the miserable condition and low wages of the English farm laborers were fully discussed. The London dailies, with a single voice, advise the ill paid farmers to emigrate, and undoubtedly the advice will be taken by many. Several companies are already forming, the numbers being about equally divided for Canada and the United States.

Many honest people are of the opinion that druggists are allowed to sell intoxicating liquors under the local option law. It must be remembered that none of the penalties for selling without license are repealed. The following section of the act of March 31, 1856, prescribes how druggists may sell:

"SECTION 5. That the provisions of this act shall not extend to druggists and apothecaries, who shall sell unmixed alcohol, or compound or sell any admixture of wine, alcohol, spirits, or brewed liquors in the preparation of medicines, or upon the written prescription of a regular practicing physician; Provided, That no druggist or apothecary shall sell or keep for sale under any name or pretense, any preparation or admixture, as aforesaid, that may be used as a beverage; and any violation of this section shall be punished in the manner prescribed in the twenty eighth section of this act.

Delaware River Lumbering.

We copy the following from the Deposit Courier: As many of our readers are interested in the lumber business along the Delaware, perhaps what the writer has seen or heard would be interesting to some. Conversing a few days since, with some of the larger dealers, such as Messrs. Holbert & Branning, of Equinank; Wood & Boyd, of Milaville; and N. Kellam, of Little Equinank, the conclusion arrived at, was that about sixty million feet of sawed lumber would be run down in the spring and summer of the ensuing year of 1873.

From the information known to the above named gentlemen, about 40,000,000 feet was sawed and in process of seasoning during the summer and fall of the present year, ready for transit to the river bank the present winter; about 20,000,000 feet would be sawed during the winter thus reaching the round sum of 60,000,000 feet. We have not very comforting assurance that about 20,000,000 feet are already in the yards, awaiting spring and summer developments. From this it may be inferred that lumbermen will receive a "check on the Delaware bank" due on or about next spring.

The amount of lumber shipped by rail to the various markets has a tendency to depress the price of that which arrives by river navigation; as the former is clean and of uniform neat appearance, while the latter is discolored and more or less filled with sand. The log market will be better sustained in coming years, comparatively, than sawed lumber, as much capital is now invested in mill properties near the large markets, and logs are not easily shipped by rail. Master builders can have their lumber cut to dry, thus avoiding purchasing large quantities which has to be worked off slowly.

A short time since ten acres of property near Prompton Plains, New Jersey, were purchased by a Pennsylvania company from the heirs of Samuel Berry, deceased, for the sum of $3,000. The company has now a working force of fifteen men and have opened a vein of iron ore seven feet wide, 40 per cent, pure iron. In the spring the force will be increased, machinery put up, and houses built. The ore is shipped to the Midland Railroad and taken to the company's works in Pennsylvania for smelting.
